TRUE watch fineness is a matter of workmanship and material—not of price, or of jewels, or of a gold case.

The fineness of the HOWARD watch is the fineness of intelligent design, of workmanship with a conscience behind it, of exquisite adjustment.

Every HOWARD is adjusted in its case, to heat, cold, vibration, change of position.

The price is fixed by the printed ticket attached at the factory—$35.00 to $150.00—and is never cut.

"When you buy a HOWARD you get something."

We are distributors for this distinctive watch.

Come in and see our Watches, we have the largest stock of

in this part of the State and a comparison of prices will convince you that we will save you money, and you will have the satisfaction of having a satisfactory Watch. Fine repairing and engraving. Eyes tested and Glasses fitted by a graduate optician.

Order of Publication.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR KENT COUNTY, MARYLAND, IN EQUITY:

No. 1672.

Annie N. Cotton and George W. Cotton, her husband; Levi Johnson and Della Johnson, his wife; Daniel Johnson and Annie Johnson, his wife; John W. Hall and Sarah A. Hall, his wife; James Wilson and Emma Wilson, his wife; Warner Rasin, Jr. and Laura Jane Rasin, his wife; Lewis Benjamin Wilson and Gertrude Wilson, his wife; Charlotte Wilson Whiting and William Whiting, her husband; Evans C. Wilson and Robert Wilson.

Eli E. Rasin and Frances Rasin, his wife; Joseph J. E. Rasin, Abby Rasin, widow of George Rasin, deceased; Richard Rasin and Maggie Rasin, infant children of George Rasin, deceased; Sarah Emily Rasin, Henry M. Rasin, Alexander Wilson and Lavina Hynson.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain land or real estate in the county of Kent and state of Maryland, of which one Benjamin Rasin late of said Kent county, died seized and possessed.

The bill states that said Benjamin Ra in departed this life or about the 8th day of October, 1907, intestate leaving no widow and no children or descendants of a deceased child or children.

That the said Benjamin Rasin died seized and possessed of certain real estate, situate lying and being at or near the village of Coleman in the said county of Kent.

That the personal estate of said Benjamin Rasin has been administered upon and same was insufficient to pay the debts of said Benjamin Rasin, deceased. That said real estate is not susceptible of partition amongst the parties entitled thereto without loss and injury.

That the said Eli E. Rasin, and Frances Rasin, his wife, Joseph J. E. Rasin, Abby Rasin, widow of George Rasin, deceased, Richard Rasin and Maggie Rasin, infant children of George Rasin, deceased, Sarah Emily Rasin, Henry M. Rasin, Alexander Wilson and Lavina Hynson are non-residents.

That the said real estate should be sold for the purposes of paying the debts of the decedent and for the division of the proceeds of the sale after paying said debts, amongst those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon, this 8th day of September, 1908, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county, Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiffs, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 12th day of October, 1908, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the objects and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 30th day of October, 1908, next to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

FORAKER AND TAFT.

BY GEORGE T. LYNCH.

NEW YORK, Special—Candidate Taft's frantic efforts to clear his immaculate skirts from the defiling touch of Senator J. B. Foraker, because of the disclosure of the latter's connection with the Standard Oil interests, are ludicrous in view of the public protestation of friendsip of the two during the past month—once at Toledo on September 2d, on the occasion of the G. A. R. parade, and again at Cincinnati on Sept. 10th, where they held a forty minutes conference at Mr. Taft's headquarters, while a dozen doves of peace fluttered joyfully and the olive branch nodded approvingly. Senator Foraker's presence on that occasion was the result of a special invitation from Mr. Taft's campaign manager in Ohio, A. I. Vorys, of whom more anon. Mr. Vorys was a pension attorney years ago, and the records at the Washington office refer to him.

It will be difficult to convince the voters, not only of Ohio but the country at large, that neither Mr. Roosevelt nor his candidate knew nothing of Senator Foraker's communications with the Standard Oil office until the publication of the correspondence.

Taft and Foraker shaking hands in the reviewing stand at Toledo on Sept. 2d, before an admiring cheering multitude, taken by the sensitive camera, will make an excellent picture for the "advisory" board, Messrs. Hitchcock, Cromwell, Bliss, Sheldon, Du Pont, et al., of the Republican National Committee, to spread broadcast throughout the country with the caption spoken by Mr. Taft, "He good enough for me."

Also it must to-day be very bitter for Mr. Taft to eat his words of September 10th after the Cincinnati conference, when he said:

"Senator Foraker and I are both very much vexed at the reports of friction between us. There is no occasion for such reports."

Also referring to the interview, Mr. Taft said:

"There has been a great deal of misrepresentation about the situation between Senator Foraker and myself. We discussed the general aspects of the campaign. Senator Foraker said he wanted to do all he could to bring about Republican success, and to call upon him when I needed him."

Senator Foraker's comment upon the conference was that "we had a very pleasant personal talk."

Mr. Taft had good reason to be grateful to "Joe" Foraker, and to desire his friendship, for it was Foraker who gave him his first big boost into the limelight, by making him judge of the superior court of Cincinnati. Foraker was at that time Governor of Ohio.

According to Mr Roosevelt's letter, Mr. Taft declined all overtures from the Foraker party in 1907—the proposed agreement being that Foraker would support Taft's candidacy for the presidency, if Mr. Taft and the other Ohio leaders would throw their strength to the Senatorial aspiration of Foraker. Mr. Taft then said "that he would not consider for one moment any possible advantage to himself when what he regarded as a great principle was at stake." Those are Mr. Roosevelt's words. But in view of the peace pact of September 2nd, are the people of Ohio and the entire country to be deceived into believing that no "arrangement" was made either with Mr. Taft or his Managers and Senator Foraker?

Can Mr. Roosevelt, who has deemed it necessary to rush to the aid of Mr. Taft explain it?

"Boss" Cox of Cincinnati with his new halo of virtue, affixed by Mr. Taft and appointed by the latter head of the local committee, ordered thousands of handshaking "he is good enough for me" lithographs for distribution. But what a change a week brought in the situation. The peace doves have been killed; the olive branches thrown into the ash can and Senator Foraker pitched headlong from Peach Mountain into Despair Gulch.

Mr. Foraker has been read out of the party, repudiated and reviled by Mr. Roosevelt. As Henry Watterson so so cuttingly speaks of the "Grand Old Party's" attitude in the matter. It is amazing! It is pitiful! It is humiliating. Their sins indeed have found them out. Scandals to right of them; scandals to left of them; defeat in front of them. Yet a little longer and then the boneyard, leaving only a stench behind, and this inscription:

"Whilst it lived, it lived in clover,
"When it died, it died all over."
