HAS ANYBODY HERE SEEN MITCHELL

Fake Newspaper Reporter A Very Much Wanted Man Around This City.

There are any number of Baltimoreans who would like to get a glimpse of E. M. Mitchell, who claimed to be a represenative of the New York Age, and whose whereabouts are now unknown. For several weeks he stopped with Mrs. M. J. Brown, of 1028 Druid Hill avenue, and told her that he had been employed by the Age for the past nine years, and that his salary was $55 a month.

He told everyone a glowing story of his success as a subscription hustler for the Age and, according to his own story, was doing a land office business here for his paper.

He also worked as a barber for Mr. Basil Lowery, of 746 Pennsylvania avenue, and left several Saturday afternoons ago. Coincident with his leaving, Mr. Lowery says that one of his best razors disappeared.

Say Endorsements were Forged.

Though Mitchell claimed that he had been with the Age for nine years, an agent's blank shows that he had only made application for authority in February 21. Messrs. W. H. Jenkins and Basil Lowery two of the three names that appeared thereon as endorsers, declare that their signatures were forged.

Mrs. Brown, with whom Mitchell stopped, says that quite a number called at her house to see Mitchell, who they said represented the Age, and in nearly every instance they gave the man a different name, but always tallied in their descriptions.

Mr. Fred R. Moore, publisher of the Age, in response to a query by the Afro-American Ledger, says that Mitchell, alias L. F. McOwens, Walter Gibson, Walter Dodson, etc. had no connection with the Age.

Bishop Johnson Lectures.

Bishop J. Albert Johnson preached to a large congregation at Trinity A. M. E. Church last Sunday morning. He filled the pulpit at Ebenezer Church at night. Bishop Johnson delivered an illustrated address on "South Africa," at Trinity Church Monday night and on Wednesday lectured on the same subject at St. John A. M. E. Church. He will repeat the lecture at Ebenezer Church this Monday night.

Woman's Day Services.

Woman's Day services were held at Ames Memorial M. E. Church last Sunday. Mrs. Mary F. Bond filled the pulpit in the morning, and Mrs. Mary F. Handy presided at a platform service in the afternoon and Mrs. I. L. Thomas at night. Rev. D. D. Turpeau, pastor of the church, will be tendered a reception this Monday night.

Granted A Divorce.

Mrs. Annie A, Jones, of 1525 Argyle avenue, was granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Edward L. Jones, through her attorney, Chapin A. Ferguson.

The divorce was granted on the grounds of infidelity and brutal treatment. Alimony was given her. Mrs. Jones' maiden name was Fletcher. She will make her future home with relatives in Winchester, Va.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. Jack Nelson, of 1033 Druid Hill avenue, is just getting over a spell of sickness and wishes to thank his many friends for their kindness during his illness.

Mrs. Henry Improving

Mrs. Lavinia Scott-Henry, who recently underwent a successful operation at Provident Hospital is now convalescing at her home, 1108 N. Carey street. She was operated on for appendicitis by Prof. Blake, assisted by Dr. S. B Hughes and Dr. J. H. Thompkins, the latter being her attending physician. Before going to the hospital, Mrs. Henry's sick room wants were looked after by Miss Cornelia P. Moore, a graduate nurse. Miss Moore also looked after Mrs. Henry while in the hospital. Mrs. Henry has been a clerk in the office of the Afro-American Ledger for a number of years.

Preached Railroad Sermon.

Overflowing conrgegations heard Rev. Alfred Young preach his famous railroad sermon at Whatcoat-Epworth M. E, Church, Pine and Franklin streets, last Sunday morning and evening. A collection of $81 was taken during the day.

Musical and Prize Entertainment A Success.

The grand prize and musical entertainment given under the auspices of the Willing Workers of Bethel Church in the interest of the trustees department on Thursday, February 27, 1912, was quite a success in every way and the pastor and trustees take this means of thanking the public and the participants for their contributions towards its success. The musical numbers rendered by the juvenile scholars of Mr. Charles E. Dungee, who had personal charge of the program, completely captivated the audience who demanded several enchores. After the rendition of the musical, the prize drawing took place. The successful competitors all of whom have been awarded the prizes, are:

1st prize: ton of coal Mrs. Arnetta Campbell. 2nd prize barrel of flour, Mrs. Ida Lankford. 3rd. prize ladies breast pin Mrs. Jno. F. Allen. 4th. prize gentleman's scarf pin, Mr. J. T. Parker

The total proceeds thus far will foot up to about $100.00, clearing about $60.00. Mr. Theo. C. White was the originator of the plan and great credit is due him for the success attained by his efforts.

Mrs. Gans Married?

A rumor of the marriage in Washington Thursday night of Mrs. Martha. J. Gans, the handsome wife of the late Joe Gans, and Ford Dabney, the well known Washington theatrical man, is arousing general interest.

According to gossip, Mr. Dabney has been paying attention to the dashing widow for some months and their marriage has been looked for by their friends. Joe Gans, who was one of the best pugilists that the country has ever produced, died in August, 1910. His widow is a member of a well known local family and before her marriage to Gans was a teacher in the city schools.

Oldest Letter Carrier Dead

The funeral of Mr. R. P. Mason who died at his home, 541 McMechen street, Tuesday morning after a long illness, was held yesterday morning at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Orchard street, Rev. W. A. Griffiths officiating. Interment was in the family lot at Laurel Cemetery.

The decesaed was the son of the late Richard and Annie Mason, and was born in this city 59 years ago. He received his education at a school cconducted by the late Rev. Harrison Webb. He was interested in politics years ago and was rewarded with an appointment as a letter carrier in the local postoffice about 30 years ago. He fulfilled the duties of this position until his last illness, enjoying the distinction of being the oldest colored letter carrier in the city.

He is survived by five children Mie Emma, Laura, Dori, and Cassius and Robert Mason; two brothers, George Mason, of this city, and Rev. Cassius Mason, of St. Louis, and sister, Mrs. Laura Barrett. His wife died eight years ago.

Mt. Johnson Improving

Mrs. George W. Lester, Sr, Mrs. Annie G. Heath, and family thank their many friends for the sympathy and floral tributes extended to them in the loss of their husband and father, George W. Lester, Sr., who was transferred to the Heavenly City on March 11, 1912.

IN MEMORIAM

DIGGS—In sad and loving remembrance of our dear son, Robert B. Diggs, who departed this life one year ago today, Saturday, March 16, 1911.

One year has passed,
My heart is sore;
As time flies on
I miss my son more.
He sleeps—I leave him
In peace to rest;
The parting was painful
But God knoweth best.
By his mother and father.

MANOKEY—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Milly Manokey, who died two years ago today, March 13th, 1910.

The month oy March once more is here,
To us the saddest of all the year;
Because it took from us away
Our dear mother two years ago today.
Sleep on, dear mother, and take your rest
God took you home; he thought it best,
In silence you suffered, in patience bore
The sweetest peace of God is yours evermore.
By her daughter, Milly Gibson

PITTS—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear aunt, Sarah, who departed this life one year ago, March 7, 1911.

The depths of love I cannot tell;
The loss of one I loved so well
And while she rests in peaceful sleep,
Her sacred memory I will always keep.
By her niece, Mrs. Alice Langley

STANLEY—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Martha J. Stanley, who departed this life seven years ago March 12 1905.

Just seven years ago we laid our mother to rest,
And folded her cold hands upon her breast;
In silence she suffered,
In patience she bore;
Until God called her home to suffer no more.
She will never be forgotten
Never shall her memories fade
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Round the grave where she is laid
By her daughters, Annie Scott and Octavia Shelton.

CARROLL—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, Charles H. Carroll, who departed this life one year ago, March 19, 1911.

Though in Heaven and I on earth
May this our hope delight us;
That thou will hail my second birth
When death shall reunite us.
When words no more can sever
Father and child forever.
By his devoted daughter, (Mrs.) Lillie May Jackson.

JONES—In loving remembrance of our dear father, John W. Jones, who died one year ago March 16, 1911.

Dearest father, how we miss you
Since from earth you passed away,
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you each day.
Some may think we'll soon forget you
And our wounded hearts be healed;
But they little know our sorrow
That's within our hearts concealed.
By his sons

DIGGS—I lovingly recall the memory of my dear friend, Robert, whom God called to heaven March 16, 1911 one year ago today.

Loved in life, in death remembered.
O, how sudden was the summon,
When word came that he was dead
Time was too short to say farewell
To my dear friend I loved so well.
By his friend, Lyston M. Taylor.

CARD OF THANKS.

Departed this life on March 2, 1912, after a short illness at his late residence 1126 Shields Place, John H. Burke, beloved husband of Ida V. Burke in full triumph of faith. We also wish to thank the friends for their kindness especially the Atlantic City Automobile Club. By his wife, Ida V. Burke, and children, Bertha, Jennie and Edna.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the members of Eastern M. E. Church and the many friends of my father, the late Rev. James H. Jenkins, for their many kindnesses during his illness and for their expressions of sympathy and floral tributes following his death.

CHARACTER DOLL IS LATEST

Each Type Is Made After the Portrait or Photograph of a Real Child.

Perhaps the most interesting feature about the jointed child dolls is the fact that each type is made after the portrait or photograph of a real child, and is often a copy of a living model. One traces the incentive to realism in doll manufacture to a lovely elderly lady in Munich. She is an artist, and one with a deep love for childhood. It seemed to her that when one considered all the passion of love which a doll inspires in the breast of its owner, that little girl ought to have a pet that looked more human than dolls have been wont to look. With this idea she developed in plaster, dolls that were exact imitations of the various peasant folk who came to Munich from Bavarian and other provinces of a Sunday. The holiday attire of each native village was represented. These delightful little figures of peasant life attracted the attention of the Empress of Germany three years ago—at the time when they first appeared—and she made Christmas presents of them to children of the royal household. She was delighted with the human-looking manikins, and this fact did not take long to spread throughout the Empire and reach the ears of Americans Now the artist in Munich has several artist assistants to aid her in developing new peasant faces and types, and factories eagerly await models from her studio to dress according to her designs.—Harper's Bazar.
