CHARLES S. HILL.

THE Supervisors of Election met on Tuesday and burned the ballots used at last year's election.

DURING the past week some one has dubbed the Organization candidates the M. F. S. candidates. M. F. S. means MARKED FOR SLAUGHTER.

THE name of Hope H. Barroll is the greatest boog-a-boo in the world to the Organization forces. Just let any one say "Barroll" where they are, and instantly their teeth begin to chatter, and they see "spooks" all around. Mr. Barroll has got his sign on the Organization, all right, and they are surely and certainly on the run.

THE campaign being conducted by the Organization forces has been one stupendous blunder after another, but the climax was reached on Saturday in the publication of that libelous editorial in the Kent News against two of the county's best citizens, Messrs. C. S. Hurlock and Thomas C. Roe. The youthful leaders of the Organization forces are sadly in need of a guardian, who will teach them discretion, and a due regard for the privileges of others.

THE Town Commissioners should start the town sprinkler, and keep it running when it is dusty. The people of the town complained very bitterly and very justly last week about not running the sprinkler, and the condition of our town last Saturday night was about as deplorable as it can well be imagined. The Town Commissioners should heed every such request of the people, who pay the taxes and have a right to such conveniences in view of the taxes which they pay, and in view of the fact that the horses and sprinkler belong to the town, the water belongs to the people, and they are anxious to be free of dust; we see no just reason why the Commissioners should wait until the dust becomes so thick that you can scarcely breathe before they think of running the sprinkler. There was a slight drizzle on Monday morning while the sprinkler was out, and it got so badly scared that it went in and had not been seen since until yesterday.

THE Kent News stamped itself the rankest sort of a partisan in its unwarranted attack upon Messrs. C. S. Hurlock and Thomas C. Roe last Saturday. The folly of seeking to deprive a man of his character and good name, not because he sought to deceive any one, but simply because he refused to do the bidding of the Organization, is too apparent to be worthy of consideration by right-thinking people. The fact that on the 18th of March the Kent News heralded these two gentlemen as men of the highest integrity and such men as are needed in our county offices, and then six weeks afterwards, because they dared to declare themselves politically opposed to them, this same paper sees proper to brand these men as traitors, not worthy of consideration from liberty-loving, right-thinking and fair-minded men, is as great an evidence of insincerity and the worst of partisanship, to say the least, as has ever come to the notice of the people of this county. Shame on the man who would be guilty of such conduct.

AN UNENVIABLE RECORD.

The Organization forces are undertaking to win the approaching primary contest upon the following unenviable record:

1. The wasting of the people's money on the roads and bridges of the county, causing a tax rate of $1.85.

2. The passage of laws in the last Legislature affecting the interests of our merchants and business men, as well as our sportsmen.

3. The passage of a road engineer law that compels the County Commissioners to levy about $6,000 more of the tax-payers' money than is necessary every year to work the roads, and the institution of an incompetent and expensive supervision of the road work.

4. The indexing of the records in the clerk's office at a cost to the tax-payers of from $3,000 to $5,000.

5. An unnecessary reassessment of property, especially personal, which had been assessed only three years ago, at a cost of $10,000 to the tax-payers of the county, and which will not be $10 worth of benefit to them.

6. Playing politics with the roads of the county, notwithstanding the law requires them to be no respecter of persons in the appointment of road workers.

7. A slanderous attack upon the character and integrity of two of the county's best citizens in an editorial published last Saturday in the Kent News.

8. An effort to cause another candidate to betray the friends who have made him what he is in politics and in business, simply that such deception may lead to the trading of a friend's vote for the man whom every one knows the Organization is so exceedingly anxious to nominate—Mr. Wm. W. Beck.

This is the record upon which the Organization goes before the people, and this is the record upon which each one of these candidates will seek your vote. Mr. Tax-payer, Mr. Citizen, what do you think of such a record as this? Can you support candidates who are forced to stand upon such a record as this?

A LIBELOUS ATTACK

Upon Two of Kent's Most Reputable Citizens, Which Will be Resented at the Polls in the Primaries.

The libelous attack made by the Kent News last Saturday upon the character and integrity of two of the county's best citizens, Messrs. Thomas C. Roe and C. S. Hurlock, is unprecedented in the political history of this county. It is as unwarranted as it is unprecedented, and cannot fail to react against those who have sought to deprive these two gentlemen of their good name and character, simply because these gentlemen had the courage and the manhood to declare their allegiance to the Anti-Organization faction of the Democratic party and thus prevent the accomplishment of the nefarious scheme which the Organization forces had planned to confuse the voters of the county and to fool the friends of these two popular candidates. Such an attack as this, in view of its injustice, is an outrageous misuse of all semblance of propriety, and is undoubtedly the work of a mind filled with the venom of malice, because of the failure of a slick scheme planned in part by the same mind which knew no better than to make such an attack. The editors of the Kent News knew when they published their slanderous attack upon Messrs. Roe and Hurlock, that they had no just grounds for such an attack, for it is a well-known fact that they were driven to their support and indorsement of Messrs. Hurlock and Roe even after the Kent News and their friends had pledged their honest support to Mr. Thomas J. Dunn for commissioner in the First District. They also knew that six months before the 18th day of March when they fell into the trap, that the TRANSCRIPT had announced Messrs. Roe and Hurlock as Anti-Organization candidates for commissioner and treasurer respectively, with the full consent and knowledge of these two candidates. Immediately after the TRANSCRIPT did this, the Organization began to make overtures to Messrs. Hurlock and Roe to remain neutral and as is very natural these candidates want as many votes as they can get, and they may have stated that they did not want any opposition. The Organization forces began to "feel around" in the First District, and they soon found that influences were behind Messrs. Roe and Hurlock up there which would make it impossible to defeat them, and immediately they found this out, the Kent News, instead of indorsing Messrs. Hurlock and Roe as independent candidates, threw Mr. Thomas J. Dunn aside, and fell over themselves announcing Messrs. Hurlock and Roe as Organization candidates. This naturally for the time being gave rise to confusion among the people, and Messrs. Hurlock and Roe immediately saw that unless they declared themselves and made their position known, they could be very justly accused by their friends of endeavoring to carry water on both shoulders, and seeking to obtain their offices by deceiving the people. They saw the very opportunity which the Organization had provided them by announcing them as Organization men, to declare themselves, and the Organization men got themselves in a worse political hole than ever, when they made it necessary for Messrs. Roe and Hurlock to do what they saw they could do effectively and that was to agree to announce themselves as Anti-Organization candidates. Mr. Roe himself was the man who suggested that all the candidates sign the agreement which has caused so much havoc to the Organization, and the agreement as signed by all the candidates and published by the TRANSCRIPT is Mr. Roe's own words and is his own suggestion. Mr. Roe never told the editors of the Kent News anything about "I had to do it." He never asked the Kent News for its indorsement, and he was never in their office but once, so he informs us, unless he was called there during the term of Court. Mr. Roe stated to us on Monday that he has never been to the News office to ask them for their support, and the editors of the TRANSCRIPT know as well as the editors of the Kent News know that the only reason on top of the earth that they indorsed Messrs. Hurlock and Roe was because the influences above mentioned compelled them to do so. The editors of the Kent News know that Mr. Roe has by no means forgotten the treachery that was practiced upon him in 1899 when he defeated the late Mr. Todd in a memorable primary contest, was nominated for County Commissioner and was beaten in the election by the very people and the very influences who last Saturday sought to besmirch his character and take from him his good name. Mr. C. S. Hurlock also knows that two years ago, he was promised the Kent News and Organization support for clerk of the court, and had the indorsement of the district leaders, and yet when he came to Chestertown and went to the Kent News office he was told in cold language that he could not have their support and that James T. Dixon would be the nominee of the Organization. What right, therefore, after such treatment as this had the Organization forces to expect Messrs. Roe and Hurlock to assist them in their losing fight this year, and we know that Messrs. Hurlock and Roe never dreamed of playing false to the Anti-Organization, but that they were perfectly justified by all honorable means to prevent any opposition if they saw that it was not going to embarrass themselves and their friends. All offers of support came to Messrs. Hurlock and Roe voluntarily and unsought by them from the Organization, and the moment Messrs. Hurlock and Roe saw that the indorsement of them by the Organization as Organization candidates would embarrass them and their friends, they acted like honorable men should do, announced themselves as Anti-Organization candidates, and dealt the Organization forces a blow from which they will never recover; and it was the sting of this blow that led to such a defamatory attack upon them in the Kent News last Saturday, which attack will cause the friends of both Messrs. Hurlock and Roe to resent such an injustice, and they will be perfectly justified in doing so. We have no more honorable and upright men in Kent county than Thomas C. Roe and C. S. Hurlock. They are both men of the highest integrity and character, and for them to be made the subject of a most slanderous attack simply because they refused to allow themselves to be used as a part of a scheme to fool the voters, a practice to which the Organization has resorted for years, and which is weakening them every day, is as great an injustice as could be heaped upon any one. The Organization was caught in the trap which was set for them and to which they tumbled like frogs into a brook, and now that they have finally awakened to what has been done, they are seeking to ratiate their disappointment and sad plight by attacking the character of two of our county's best and most upright citizens, within two months after they had proclaimed these two candidates as men of the highest character, such men as are needed to fill the county offices and men whom any Democrat can gladly support. But that is not all. This attack upon these two gentlemen, even if there were any semblance of truth in it, lays the leaders of the Organization forces open to just such an attack because of their injudicious efforts to induce Mr. Harrison W. Vickers to break faith with his best political and business friends in order to further the candidacy of Mr. Beck. The Kent News is accusing Messrs. Hurlock and Roe of doing just exactly what the Organization is seeking to induce Mr. Vickers to do, to stultify himself in the mind of all right thinking people by leaving the friends who have gone down to defeat with him, and assisted him in his business, and to sell his manhood, his honor and his political future in order to further their political ends. How much worse are Messrs. Hurlock and Roe, even if the twentieth part of their scandalous article were true, than these men who seek to blast a young man's political future, to barter his political honor, by inducing him to refuse to do what every thinking man knows he ought to do, stay with the people who made him what he is politics, and going to defeat with them or enjoying the rewards of victory? This young man, whose character and habits, these very same people who are now patting him on the back were holding up to scorn and ridicule in the last State's Attorney campaign, when Mr. Vickers was a candidate against Mr. Beck, are now endeavoring to kill Mr. Vickers' political influence by making him an instrument for pulling their chestnuts out of the fire. In the light of their relations to Mr. Vickers, how much better are Messrs. Hurlock's and Roe's accusers, than they sought last Saturday to make it appear Messrs. Hurlock and Roe are, who seem to care nothing for the integrity and honor of a man, if only they can use him to further their own selfish, political purposes. This is what they sought to induce Messrs. Hurlock and Roe to do, and these two gentlemen were loyal enough and men of sufficient integrity and uprightness to refuse to desire political office by seeking to carry water on both shoulders, and thereby deceive their best friends. Mr. Roe has published in another column a denial of the statements contained in the News' editorial, and brands the attack as a slanderous falsehood, and besides, he has demanded a retraction and an apology from the editors of the News. No one who knows either of these gentlemen would for one moment accuse them of any dishonorable act, and the humiliation to which they have been subjected by such an unwarranted attack cannot fail to react against their accusers.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

LEWIS—ELLIOTT.

Miss Barbara M. Elliott, of Chestertown, and Mr. A. Frank Lewis, of Baltimore, were married last Saturday at the parsonage of Madison Square M. E. Church, in the latter city, by the Rev. Don S. Colt. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Elliott, of this town. The groom is also well-known here. The young couple will reside in Baltimore where the groom is employed, holding a responsible position with Pearce & Shreck, proprietors of the Victoria Theatre and other amusement enterprises.

MR. ROE'S REPLY TO KENT NEWS.

Massey, Md., May 9th, 1911.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In view of the maliciously defamatory and slanderous attack upon my character made by the Kent News in an editorial published in that paper Saturday, May 6th, I desire to place myself in the proper position before the people of this county, and to brand as absolutely false the statements contained in that editorial in so far as they refer to me.

I have always endeavored to be honest with myself and with my friends. I have never sought to wilfully deceive or mislead anyone and I think my reputation is such with my friends in my own district and in the county at large that they will bear me out in such a statement. In its attack on Saturday the News said:

"Mr. Thomas C. Roe was the first candidate to come to the News editors seeking their support. His first visit was about six months ago, when he stated that he was desirous of being the candidate for County Commissioner on a non-factional ticket, and asked our support. We explained to him that as the district usually suggested the candidates, we would have to first consult our friends in the first district before endorsing anyone. Mr. Roe replied that this was perfectly satisfactory, that he had been agreed upon by both factions and that he was not by any means Barroll's candidate! This frank confession from a man of Mr. Roe's character and reputation was received without question."

I brand the above statement relative to my seeking the support of the News Editors as absolutely false. I have never asked the editors of the Kent News nor anyone else, except John Clendaniel for their support until after I had announced myself as an Anti-Organization candidate, nor have I ever been in their office for the purpose of making such a request. The offers of support came to me voluntarily from Organization sources and I was told time and again that so long as I remained neutral I should have the support of the Organization. As is very natural no man wants opposition in a political contest if he can honorably prevent it and I may have, and probably did say that I wanted every man's support and that I was no Barroll candidate or the candidate of no other one man. I desire to say in this connection that I am no Barroll candidate nor anybody else's candidate. I am the candidate of the Anti-Organization and as such I propose to make my fight before the people of this county. I am free to confess that I have been a frequent visitor to the Kent News office because it gave me pleasure to stop in there when in Chestertown and have a pleasant chat. But as for going in their office six months ago and asking them for their support, no such visit or such request ever occurred. I want the Kent News to know that I know no political boss in this contest. The day for bossism has past in Kent county politics and those of us who have felt the string in years gone by when we made the target of bosses' wrath, can rejoice in common with all classes of people that Kent county has been freed of the influence of bosses, and every man is given the privilege to go to the people and seek their votes for office. If the Kent News had done the honorable thing and announced me as the candidate of both factions of the party it would have placed me in a different light before the people of this connty. But when they indorsed me as an Organization candidate they did what they had no right to do and I determined to set myself straight with the people by openly and frankly declaring my position.

I have stated time and again that I belong to no man, and that if nominated and elected, I would act fairly and honestly by all. This is certainly my intention, and while I desire the votes of everyone regardless of faction, I am unwilling that the Kent News or anyone else shall place me in the position of trying to carry water on both shoulders. In endeavoring to obtain the office, I ask the votes of all Democrats, and I do not seek to deceive anyone.

In regard to signing the agreement recently published in the TRANSCRIPT, I desire to say that the one published was not the original agreement, and I am frank to confess that I may have stated that I would not sign the original agreement. But I desire all my friends in Kent county to know that the agreement which was signed by all the candidates and published in the TRANSCRIPT, was my own suggestion and was drawn up in my own language, and I willingly and voluntarily agreed to sign such an agreement in justice to my associates on the Anti-Organization ticket and in justice to myself and friends in view of the position in which the Kent News placed me by its voluntary and unasked for indorsement.

I brand as a deliberate and wilful falsehood the statements made by the editors of the Kent News that I ever told them or anyone else "I had to do it." I brand as absolutely untrue the statement that I was in their office on the Tuesday morning in court week and then within a few hours later went in Mr. Barroll's office, in violation of any promise made to anyone, and pledged my allegiance to Mr. Barroll by signing a paper. I made no promise to anyone relative to signing an agreement which I myself drew up, and I have never been confronted with the charge of signing a Barroll pledge. I do not have to hang my head to anyone. I try to be honest and honorable in all my dealings, and for the first time in my life my honesty has been attacked, my honor has been besmirched and I am held up to the people of this county in a most slanderous manner, as a man of no honor, a traitor to his friends, and a man unworthy of consideration from liberty-loving, truth-telling, honest and fair-minded men. Why? Simply because I have endeavored to act honorably with myself and with my friends by declaring myself an Anti-Organization candidate instead of an Organization candidate. That is the cause of this attack, which I deny as a wilful and malicious attempt to injure me with my friends and the people generally.

I have demanded a retraction and an apology from the editors of the Kent News for their unwarranted attack upon me. If they have any regard whatever for the truth they will withdraw their statements and apologize for what they know is a deliberate and wilful misrepresentation of fact.

I desire also in this connection to say that certain of my enimies are circulating the report that I have said that I do not want the vote of any Catholic. I desire to say that I have never made such a statement. Some of the best friends I have in this county are members of the Roman Catholic Church and I esteem them in the highest degree. I want the vote of every man, and I am the last man in the county who would be guilty of questioning the religious principles of any man.

I regret to occupy so much of your space, but I have been done a great injustice and I feel that my friends in this county will so regard it.

Yours very respectfully,
THOMAS C. ROE.
