H. U. "MEDICAL NEWS"

Washington—The first issue of the Howard University Medical News appeared last week.

Kelly Miller, Jr., is editor and 300 copies were printed. The leading editorial reads:

In the preparation of the first issue of the Howard Medical News, undergraduate publications of different schools and colleges have been carefully studied with the aim of making this publication second to none. Dr. Balloch, dean of the School of Medicine has given his full support, and Dr. E. C. Terry, associatee professor of the practice of medicine has consented to act as faculty adviser. Miss Jane Bosfield, secretary to the dean, has placed at the disposal of the paper the alumni records and files, and she also prepares the alumni notes.

Mr. T. J. Anderson, editor of the Hilltop, has given many valuable suggestions in the preparation of this issue. All of the officers of administration and faculty have pledged their support and it is certain that the alumni will do likewise. Information, criticism and suggestion are always gladly welcomed from alumni and friends of the profession.

There is also this poem from the pen of the Junior Miller:

Days grow mellow,
Leaves grow yellow,
Poets call it gold.
Nights grow longer,
Chill grows stronger,
Year is growing old.
Winter calling,
Leaves are falling,
With the winds that pass.
Green lawns mussing
Owners cussing,
Raking off the grass.

Bachelor-Benedict Reception

Washington, D. C.—Social Washington was at its height in affording entertaining for its guests who were in the city in attendance at the "Football Classic of the Year" during the Thanksgivign Day holiday season, at the reception given by the Bachelor-Benedict Club. Never have there been such a charming and beautiful group of society's most popular and prominent matrons and Misses from all parts of the country at a single social affair.

The reception was given at the Odd Fellows Hall. The ballroom was artistically decorated with balloons in colors of Howard and Lincoln, the two schools contesting for football honors on Thanksgivign Day. Electrically operated lights were provided which at intervals during the dances transformed the room into a fairy like dell, and at other intervals the effect was as tho snowflakes were falling upon the dazzling costumes of the guests.

Arrangements for the reception were in the hands of the Personal Committee of the Club composed of Dr. John K. Rector, President Norman L. McGhee, Secretary, Dr. W. B. Garvin, Captain Arthur C. Newman; Dr. R. Frank Jones; Attorney John W. Love, James E. Scott and J. F. N. Wilkinson.

MASONS CAN'T CHANGE NAME

Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—Justice Wendell P. Stafford has ordered Henry C. Scott, John H. T. Fisher, Alfred E. Robinson, Elijah Smoot and Henry S. Washington to reconvey certain property to the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free, Ancient and Accepted Masons of the District of Columbia, a corporation.

The court decreed that the paper writing purporting to certify that the corporate name had been changed to the Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, Scottish Rite, (Symbolic) of the District of Columbia, was null and void.

In the event of the failure of the defendants to comply with the decree, Attorney B. L. Gaskins is appointed trustee and empowered to execute a fee simple title to the plaintiff corporation.

The suit was brought by Attorneys Gaskins and Bowler.

PRESS GUESTS OF HOWARD UNIV.

Washington, D. C.—One feature of the management of the "Football Classic" this year which indicated the appreciation of the important factor which the Negro Press is in making a success of this great annual athletic event among the colored colleges of the country was the banquet given by Howard University in honor of the representatives of the various Negro newspapers of the country who were sent by their publications to report the game.

This banquet was held in the New Dining Hall of Howard University on the University Campus Wednesday evening, November 26th, and was attended by newspaper men from all over the country.

TEACHER 45 YEARS ABSENT ONCE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—Miss Ada C. Hand, practice teacher at Miner Normal School, has broken a unique record of attendance by being absent from her classes for several days, due to illness. She had been in the public schools of the District of Columbia for more than 45 years without missing a day until last week.

During her illness she has been nursed by Mrs. Victoria Archer of 1623 17th Street, who suffered a paralytic stroke on Tuesday.

Miss Caroline E. Parke, who was retired last year after serving as a teacher in the local high schools since their organization, is now caring for both invalids.

Chi Delta Mu

Washington, D. C.—The Lambda Chapter Graduate of the Chi Delta Mu Fraternity outdid itself in staging a brilliant ball Wednesday night. Murray's Casino was a veritable fairy land of soft lights, palm and beautiful ladies. In the center of the hall was suspended a huge five sided lantern with the Griffin insignia of the organization. To the music of White Brothers Orchestra, which seem determined to set a record, six hundred of Washington's socially prominent people with their out-of-town guests danced until wee hours of the morning. After twelve o'clock, noise makers began their joyous racket and confetti scintillated through the vari-colored lights. Each lady present received as a souvenir of the occasion a handsome black compact engraved with the letters of the fraternity.

The chairman of the dance committee was Dr. George Herriott.

Kappa Alpha Psi Brilliant

Side by Side with the brilliancy of the Chi Delta Mu dance stands the glorious occasion the Kappa Alpha Psi Dance held on the same evening at the Odd Fellows Hall.

The graduate chapter of the local Kappa Alpha Psi staged the affair in a more georgeous setting than even your most vivid imagination might form. Beautifully gowned women moved about the panorama of lovely lights. Music lilted forth with an insidious rhythm.

Members were in the city from as far away as Chicago to lend their aid to making the occasion as memorable one. The chairman of the entertainment committee was Mr. Joseph Moore.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity

The Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity served as host at a sumptuous tea at their home 1922 Thirteenth Street, N. W., for its many out-of-town visitors, friends and members, Thursday, November 27th at 5 P. M.

The decorations and plans of enjoyment were prepared with the most delicate care. The affair was most enjoyable.

Breakfast Dance

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Walter B. Garvin and Mrs. Merrill H. Curtis were hostesses at a breakfast dance at the Whitelaw Hotel on Thanksgiving morning in compliment to Mrs. Charles Thompson of Chicago, Mrs. Charles Garvin of Cleveland and rMs. Willard Grinage of Philadelphia, who were here for the Howard-Lincoln game ..

SEGREGATION

Scathing condemnations of colored families occupying houses in blocks inhabited by white Washingtonians were vented at last night's meeting of the North Capitol and Eckington Citizens association. Means of prevention were discussed and real estate companies that brought colored residents into "white" locations were assailed.

Collection of a fund to fight in the courts all Negroes who try to enter "white" sections was urged.

School Paper Officers Elected

The seniors and juniors of Dunbar High School, have elected the following persons as the staff of the school newspaper: Harold Lewis, editor; Edward Edwards, news director; Edith Flynn, and Charles Shorter, associate editors; Robert Weave general business manager of special features; Louise Lashley and Vana James, circulation managers; and James Butcher, advertising manager.

Armstrong High School

Continuing the survey of the department of applied Science of Armstrong Technical High School, under Harold Haynes instructor, states that since its organization in 1919, 15 students have specialized in electricity of whom five went to college to persue courses in electrical engineering, three are in business for themselves, employing five others. Seven are in the employment of electrical firms and 53 are taking the course with intention of entering the field.

Dr. Mary A. Fitch, of Howard University home economics department addressed the girls of the school at the regular weekly assembly on the choosing of a profession, discussing the subject from a practical standpoint. Dr. Fitch urged the girls to choose courses that relate to their chosen life work. She said, "happiness lies in selecting the best work for the individual." The speaker was introduced by Miss Gertrude Lee Watkins, teacher of domestic science. Miss Ora D. Weaver, presided.

To further appreciation of the Spanish language customs and music of the Spanish Club has prefected an organization in which Miss Eula Jones, is president; Miss Vivian Young, vice president; Miss Dorothy Shorter, treasurer, and Miss Doris McLane, secretary. The club will give a Spanish play in the spring and at its next meeting will be addressed in the spanish tongue by a native.
