FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR stops the cough and heals lungs

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

"THE FAIR THAT WILL BE READY."

Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition Grounds and Buildings Nearly Completed Three Months Ahead of Time.

Features of the Show That Will Be Different From Any of Its Predecessors—Beautiful Structures and Site Where Wonders of East and West Will Be Brought Together For the First Time.

Working with the same energy and enthusiasm that enabled the people of Seattle to raise $650,000 in one day three years ago to start the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition going, the directors of the great show that opens June 1 were able to announce this month that the fair was 95 per cent completed. Buildings are ready to receive the $50,000,000 of exhibits that make up the exposition; lighting and sewage systems have been completed, and the grounds, which have been laid out in one huge forest garden of 250 acres, are being planted with flowers and shrubs.

Up to the planning of the A.-Y.-P. show all expositions since those at Paris and Chicago have been very much alike. Seattle's exposition is different outwardly and in spirit. The idea of the A.-Y.-P. is to bring the unknown and undeveloped to the attention of people of the older and more highly developed parts of the world.

OFFICIAL DESIGN A-Y-P EXPOSITION.

The manner in which not only the Pacific coast states, but all countries and communities, have prepared for representation at Seattle indicates that the world places a high value on this opportunity to see and be seen in that quarter of the universe where wealth and development will make their greatest strides in the next few decades.

The national government gave no financial support to the exposition, but is spending a million on its buildings and exhibits. One hundred thousand of this sum was allotted to the Alaska exhibit. The Alaskans themselves promptly doubled this sum in order that the territory's timber, gold, copper, fisheries and agriculture might have a chance to convince the world that Alaska is not an icebox, but a treasure chest. Japan, whose people have had little trouble in Washington, is preparing to exhibit on a scale far greater than anything attempted at other expositions.

So far as the number and names of the buildings are concerned, a description of the A.-Y.-P. sounds as though it would be the same as any other exposition. But it is just here that similarity ends. A large number of the buildings are permanent structures, which will later become a part of the University of Washington. What was the Midway at Chicago and the Pike at St. Louis will be called the Pay

A GLIMPSE OF EXPOSITION ARCHITECTURE.

Streak at Seattle. Amusement features on the biggest scale ever attempted are being brought from all parts of the world, but novelty and merit have been necessary in order to obtain admission to the Pay Streak, stretching along the beautiful shore of Lake Washington.

For the illumination of the exposition site, lying in a natural amphitheater, surrounded by mountains, lakes and forests, enough electricity has been provided to supply a city of 40,000 people. In the decoration of the central court alone 800,000 incandescent lights are used. The cascades, down which 40,000 gallons of water will pour every minute, will be made a plunging rainbow by submerged lights of every color. It is intended also to light the geyser basin and the floor of Lake Union, where the government will carry on submarine boat experiments.

The railroads are calculating on carrying 2,000,000 people to Seattle this summer. The stop over privileges at Yellowstone park and other points along the way that every American wants to see and the religious, athletic and other gatherings to be held at Seattle during the exposition will of course add to the thousands that will journey to the Pacific coast this summer.

FORCES LINEUP FOR VIVISECTION BATTLE.

Animal Experimenters and Their Opponents In Two Day Contest Before New York Legislature.

March 23 and 24 will be anniversary days in the history of vivisection. These two days were set by the judiciary committees of the New York senate and assembly on which to hear the arguments for and against regulation of experiments on animals. Two such measures are before the legislature, and in explanation of this cleavage F. P. Bellamy, counsel for the Society of the Prevention of Abuse In Animal Experimentation, says:

"The New York Anti-vivisection society does not like the Davis-Lee bill, for which we are sponsors, because, in the opinion of the out and out anti-vivisectionists, it is not sufficiently radical. The doctors, on the other hand, oppose our bill because it is too radical, a situation that strongly suggests that the Davis-Lee measure represents a reasonable compromise between extremists."

A new development of the campaign actively waged by a committee of New York physicians especially interested in vivisection against any and all measures to lessen the abuses of the practice is the widespread circulation of literature in which it is claimed, for example, that animals do not suffer pain from the same causes and in the same ways that affect human beings. Nor, it is claimed, do yelps and writhings by an animal under experimentation necessarily mean that it is suffering.

Going a step further, one vivisectionist has written an elaborate article in which he asserts that the opposition to vivisection is a manifestation of a mania which in its milder forms is seen in the extreme affection of the afflicted ones for horses, dogs and cats.

All of which, it is pointed out, goes to show that perhaps the vivisectionists from the nature of their calling are not the best judges of what suffering is nor of the means necessary to prevent needless cruelty.

LAW OF UNFAIR COMPETITION.

Courts Now Protect Reputation of Things as Well as People.

Laymen are learning that the courts now hold that things as well as people have reputations, that these reputations are property and that equity courts will promptly enjoin attempts to take away this property right either by imitation or false representation.

The extent of the protection which the law affords against unscrupulous competitors is not generally realized. This is partly due to the fact that there has been no book in which the subject was brought up to date in the light of recent decisions of the courts. On this subject Harry D. Nims of the New York bar has now written a volume under the title "The Law of Unfair Business Competition."

This volume discusses the methods of enjoining, without the delays incident to damage suits, unfair use of the names of goods and persons, misuse of trade secrets, the imitation of manufactured articles, utterance of false statements as to credit and quality of goods, fraudulent and unfair interference with contracts and business of others by threats of prosecution and false representation. The book also contains chapters on the defenses available in proceedings of this sort and one on the remedies and relief which may be secured.

WONDERS OF SEATTLE FAIR.

Unique Features of Big Show That Opens June 1 on Pacific Coast.

Outside of the distinctly amusement features already known to exposition visitors, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition will have more unique exhibits than any of its predecessors. Promptly on entering the grounds the visitor will see a golden monument in which $7,000 worth of Alaska-Yukon dust has been used. In another exhibit is $5,000,000 worth of gold dust, which has already arrived at the exposition city, and if the sightseer wants to know how this was obtained he can have the privilege of panning gold from native Alaska gravels.

"Old Faithful," the famous Yellowstone park geyser, has been reproduced, spouting water to a height of 150 feet, illuminated at night by multicolor electric lights. As a part of the Hawaiian exhibit there is an exact reproduction of the volcano Kilauea in action.

For the doorway of the Alaska building of the exposition the largest pair of whale jawbones ever discovered have been used. The bones are nineteen feet in length and weigh nearly a ton. Not far away is a more practical exhibit of the bigness of northwestern products—a one piece flagpole 200 feet in height, made from timber found near Buckley, Wash.

The flower display at Seattle will cover a large part of the grounds. The scale on which this feature is being carried can be judged from the fact that 100,000 cactus dahlia plants are used in a single design, and more than 200,000 tufted English pansies will be seen growing in one huge bed.
