JAMES G. HARRIS,
CHARLES L. MILLER.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER:
CLARENCE S. HURLOCK.

FOR SHERIFF:
WILLIAM H. McKEE.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS:
W. FLETCHER MELVIN,
HARRY NICOLS,
THOMAS C. ROE.

JUDGES OF ORPHANS' COURT:
JAMES BRAMBLE,
W. BRADFORD COPPER,
CHARLES S. HILL.

WHO put the schools in politics? You did, and everything else you have had anything to do with, lamentably and deplorably—the county roads.

IS THERE not a most urgent need in Chestertown for an Emergency Hospital? Chestertown is way behind her sister towns on the Eastern Shore in this respect. Why not call a public meeting and discuss the matter?

THE Organization forces are great promisers, but poor fulfillers. One of the candidates has already promised each of five men to take him to Annapolis in the event of his nomination and election, and all five are hustling like mad, although only two can go. Somebody will get it good and hard.

WE HAVE been told that Mr. William W. Beck was the "Oysterman" from the Fifth District who wrote the letter published on the eighth page of the Kent News last Saturday. Oh! you lobster, don't you know you can't be an oysterman without somebody seeing through the shell?

CAPT. JOHN HENRY CREW, one of the old landmarks of Betterton, is dead. That community has sustained a great loss, as Capt. Crew was always greatly interested in the welfare of his town, and used his influence for the betterment of its social, business and political conditions.

THE Organization forces are favorable to the renomination of Gov. Crothers for Governor. Mr. Fred G. Usilton in a recent dispatch to the Baltimore Sun, said there is considerable sentiment in Kent for the Governor's renomination. Now that Senator Smith has dropped Gov. Crothers, where will the Organization in Kent go?

IF Mr. William W. Beck had been in the Senate instead of Senator Foxwell, the chances are that he would have voted for the Haman Bill as it was originally drafted, because the bill was an Organization measure pure and simple, and Mr. Beck is the staunchest kind of an Organization man. Things which are equal to the same thing are equal to each other, and it's dollars to doughnuts that Mr. Beck would have stuck by the Organization. He did on the Road Law, now why should he hesitate about an oyster.

THE Beck organ stated on Saturday that Mr. Foxwell had admitted having voted for the Haman Oyster Bill. Suppose he did, and he did not. Has Mr. Beck admitted anything during this campaign that would enable the voters of the county to know whether he is a suitable man to send to the Senate? A gentleman asked Mr. Beck a number of pertinent questions through the columns of the TRANSCRIPT, and up to the present time he has refused to pay the slightest attention to them. The people of Kent county will be mighty lucky to know where Mr. Beck stands upon any question that appeals to their financial, moral or political welfare, unless he is forced by individuals to make a declaration of his position. But one thing is very certain—Senator Foxwell voted for what the Beck organ chooses to call the Haman Oyster Bill, and he was honest and frank enough to declare that he did it for the best interests of the oystermen, and the oystermen believe he did right. BUT MR. BECK APPOINTED THE ROAD ENGINEER, HELPED TO DRAW THE ROAD LAW, AND STANDS FOR 4 YEARS MORE OF THE ROAD ENGINEER AND GIBBSISM, AND WILL LEAVE IT TO ANY OYSTERMAN IN KENT COUNTY IF HE IS NOT TEN TIMES BETTER OFF THAN SENATOR FOXWELL THAN HE IS UNDER MR. BECK WITH HIS ROAD ENGINEER, ROAD LAW, AND A $1.85 TAX RATE WHICH MR. BECK HELPED TO PUT ON.

THE accident which occurred on Spring avenue last Saturday evening should prove a serious lesson to owners of automobiles and spirited horses. The attention of our town authorities is again called to reckless speeding on our streets, as well as a failure to display lights at an hour after sundown. We do not attribute the fault of the accident on Saturday evening to any one. We simply urge our automobile owners to exercise every precaution to prevent an accident, and our officers to enforce the speed limit ordinance.

WE NEVER FORGET.

The Beck organ is putting up a big bluff about the Antis turning out certain school trustees and putting others in their places. They can gain nothing by that and they might as well devote the space to the discussion of the $1.85 tax rate and what caused it. How about this—who turned Mr. Robert Calder out of the magistrate's office? A splendid old gentleman, thoroughly qualified and popular with every one.

Who ousted Mr. Samuel Burgess from the same position in the Fifth District, and did not give the Antis the wrappings of their fingers in the county appointments?

Who appointed the registrars of voters and judges and clerks of election for the primaries and did not give the Antis a single representative?

Is it such a crime for one faction to seek to control the departments of local government when they are successful in a primaries and an election?

The Organization forces are by no means saints when it comes to a question of turning men out of office when they have the power so to do, and as much as they have done it, we would think that the Beck organ would be a little too modest to mention any such trival matter. Get up, Maude, no water in that trough.

JUST SUPPOSE.

Last Tuesday the Road Engineer presented to the County Commissioners for payment bills amounting to more than $400 for the past two weeks work on the county roads. The engineer had already drawn on this year's account to the extent of $130.42, and the County Commissioners on Tuesday gave him $53.63 with which to pay the $400 in bills that he had contracted in two weeks. This $53.63 added to the $130.42 mentioned above gives $184.05. The County Treasurer had collected in taxes something like $900, and as the road law states that 20 per cent of the taxable basis shall be levied for use on roads, the commissioners gave to the road engineer on Tuesday all that the law allows 20 per cent of $900 less what the road engineer had already spent, which amounted to $53.63 with which to pay the $400 worth of bills which the engineer had contracted. Many of those who had done work on the roads were disappointed in not getting orders for their money, but the commissioners could do nothing else. The law compelled the commissioners to levy so much and so much had been levied and the fault was in ordering more work done than there was money to pay for. It will likely be sometime before money enough is collected with which to pay back bills and it looks as if all work must be stopped on the roads or else the laborers will go without their pay. Oh! You Gibbs Road Law. This is the effect the road law has upon the road workers. They have given their time and labor and there is no money to pay the bills. The road engineer should have known this and governed his work accordingly.

MR. BECK AND THE FARMERS.

A question that gave the farmers of the state a great deal of concern during the last Legislature and which was defeated because the farmers were not represented as they should be, was the question of the passage of a law compelling fertilizer manufacturers and dealers to place upon the fertilizer bags the formulae showing the percentage of ingredients in the composition of the various brands of fertilizer. This bill, vastly important to the farmers, as a protection was defeated by the fertilizer interests there because the farmers lacked the influence to pass the bill. This bill will come up for passage again at the next session of the Legislature, and it is absolutely important for Kent farmers that they be represented in the Senate by a Senator who knows the needs of the farmers, who appreciates the importance of such a bill to the farmers as this, and who will protect the farmers interests. Mr. Beck in the Senate could do the farmers no good in this respect, because being a member of a firm which makes and sells fertilizers, he would naturally look after his own interests before he would consider the interest of the farmer in this respect. Mr. Beck would naturally be with the fertilizer interests because he is a fertilizer mnaufacturer, while Mr. Foxwell would represent the farmers' interests because he is a farmer. The best way in the world for the farmers to protect their interests is to send a farmer to the Legislature. Mr. Beck is a lawyer, and any law that he would pass would be framed just as every other law is, in the interests of the lawyer rather than the farmer. Farmers look to your interests.

During a severe thunder storm on Wednesday of last week the store at Unicorn Mills was struck by lightning, which ploughed a furrow from the ridge of the roof to the corner post of the building, ripping the shingles, tearing off weatherboarding and splintering the timbers of the structure. Mr. Cahall and another people were in the back room of the store at the time but escaped injury.

DENY STATEMENTS.

Both Mr. C. Brad Dudley and Mr. Wm. W. Beck deny having made statements to well-known and absolutely reliable gentlemen attributed to them through this paper last week to the effect that Mr. Beck has acknowledged that he does not expect to be nominated for the Senate, and that Mr. Dudley intimated to a gentleman in Queen Annes in conversation some days ago that the Organization has not a ghost of a chance to win the primaries in August. It is very natural that both Mr. Dudley and Mr. Beck should seek to counteract the effect such statements made by them would have upon the chances of their faction, but from the other viewpoint the gentlemen to whom these statements were made are absolutely reliable gentlemen, and their veracity has never been questioned. We have no more reason, therefore, to believe that neither Mr. Beck or Mr. Dudley did not make the statements attributed to them by persons of equally as good veracity as Mr. Beck and Mr. Dudley than we have to discredit the information given us absolutely unsolicited by two most reliable and truthful gentlemen, and our position is simply this that we see no reason why either Mr. Beck or Mr. Dudley should deny what is really the truth of the situation, nor why our informants should voluntarily make statements of this kind if they had not been made to them. Mr. Beck made his statement in the Third District on his way to Betterton. This is the district to which Mr. Beck sent his now famous letter violating the Corrupt Practices Act two years ago. It seems that Mr. Beck has a weakness for putting himself wrong with the people of the Third District.

THE ORGANIZATION'S RECORD.

After six years of control of local affairs, this is the record of the Organization forces in the county, so far as it affects the interests of the tax-payers:

1. They went out of the commissioners office leaving the total county expenses at the enormous sum of $166,000.

2. Immediately after they lost control of the County Commissioners office and the treasurer's office they went down to Annapolis and passed the following laws, every one of which affects the tax-payers of this county.

(a.) The now famous Road Law which gave Mr. Beck the opportunity to secure the appointment of Gibbs, the Road Engineer, at a snug salary of $1,600 per year for 6 years. This law took the roads out of the hands of the County Commissioners and gave the Road Engineer full swing and a license to do as he pleased with the roads and the expenditure of the people's money. AND MR. BECK'S CANDIDACY FOR THE SENATE WAS CONDITIONED UPON THE PASSAGE OF THIS FARCICAL ROAD LAW AND THE APPOINTMENT OF YOUNG GIBBS AS ENGINEER.

(b.) They passed a law to compel Mr. Wm. J. Tarbutton, the county treasurer, to deposit the county's money in three banks of the town—why? Because Mr. Tarbutton was not an Organization man. They would never have thought about such a law had the treasurer been an Organization man. The court declared the law to be unconstitutional.

(c.) They passed a law requiring the indexing of the records in the clerk's office at a cost of from $3000 to $4000. This the tax-payers must pay.

(d.) They passed a law requiring every stock-dealer and fur-buyer to take out a license of $25 in order to buy and sell stock, wool, furs, etc.

(e.) They had Kent county included in the reassessment of real and personal property at a cost of from $12,000 to $15,000, after an assessment of personal property had been taken only two years ago. The cost of this assessment the tax-payers must meet.

With this record, every item of which is against the greatest interests of the tax-payers, they come before the people and ask them to nominate their candidates, Messrs. Beck, Redmile and Ayres, for the Legislature, and their candidates to the commissioners office after they have spent the people's money like water on the roads, and passed laws in the last Legislature for purely and simply political purposes. Mr. Tax-Payer, what do you think of such a record? Any man is foolish to vote for the Organization candidates after such a record as this, AND THE ORGANIZATION FORCES DARE NOT DENY THAT SUCH IS THEIR PAST RECORD.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

The columns of the TRANSCRIPT are open to the proper discussion of all topics of public interest or importance. Whether the editors agree with the sentiment expressed or not, the people should and may be heard through the TRANSCRIPT's columns—the paper will be the People's Forum from which they may be heard on all subjects—purely personal matter excepted. The Editors are not responsible in any manner for articles that appear in this column.

EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT, Gentlemen—In your issue of July 15th, you state that Mr. Willam W. Beck, Organization Candidate for the Senate has acknowledged within the last two weeks that he does not expect to be nominated, but that he is making this fight in order to make a good showing for the future.

I want to state that I never directly nor indirectly made any such statement to anyone, nor have I ever said anything that could possibly be construed in this way.

I am a candidate for the State Senate in the Democratic primaries to be held August 29th, 1911, and ask the support of all democrats.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM W. BECK.

Grangers Preparing for Great Picnic.

At a meeting of the executive committee of Governor Crothers' Farm Commission, held in Baltimore last Friday, the invitation was accepted from the management of the picnic by the Grangers of both Queen Annes and Kent counties, to be held, August 9th, in Klinefelter's woods, just over the bridge from Chestertown in Queen Annes. This will be the first formal meeting of the Commission for the season, 1911, and, besides the governor and his commission, representations of the commercial bodies of Baltimore city will make the trip by special boat. Grangers are making extensive preparations for this out-door gathering, evidenced by the gathering together of enormous supplies of edibles for the entertaining of the guests.

MARYLAND EDITORS RE-ELECT.

Democrats Meet Jointly With Maryland Press Association.

The annual outing of the Maryland Press Association and the annual meeting of the Democratic State Editors' Association, embracing practically all the rural publications of Maryland, which convened at Love Point last Saturday afternoon, adjourned Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is the first joint meeting of the two associations and considerable interest was manifested by country publishers and editors in all sections.

The party reached Love Point Saturday afternoon and at 8 o'clock the Maryland Press Association was called to order for a social session. Col. W. S. Powell, of Ellicott City, presided and introduced a number of speakers, among whom were J. H. C. Clegg, of the Centreville bar, who welcomed the two Associations in behalf of the Love Point Beach and Park Company; Senator Perkins, of Baltimore, whose theme was "Politics;" J. Y. Brattan, of Baltimore; Col. John W. Avirett, of the Times, Cumberland; C. O. Melvin, of the Ledger-Enterprise, Pocomoke City, and others.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Democratic Editors' Association was called to order, with President Joseph M. Streett, of the Harford Democrat, Belair, in the chair. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. They are: President, J. M. Streett, of Belair; vice-president, John W. Avirett, of the Times-Alleghanian, Cumberland, secretary and treasurer, W. J. Price, Jr., of the Centreville Observer.

In addition to those named there were present, among others, W. S. McCombs and Mrs. I. C. Brown and son, of Havre de Grace; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Usilton, of Chestertown; Evans B. Ewing, of Rising Sun; Howard Melvin of Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Brown, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Price, Jr., of Centreville.

Georgetown Ripples.

Mr. Wethered Barroll, of Chestertown, visited town on Tuesday.

Mr. Wm. Frazler Russell, Jr., has canvassed the town with his "Dictionary of Thoughts."

Mrs. Thomas Cochrane and children, of East Orange, N. J., are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Fletcher Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Miss Nellie Jackson and Mr. Tommy Kilvington of Wilmington, Del., are enjoying the breezes of the Sassafras on their pleasuring House Boat.

Master Howard Fowler is visiting friends near Rock Hall.

Mr. David B. Ford and Mr. Chapman, of Chestertown, were visitors in town one day this week.

Miss India Jervis and Miss Marie Jervis spent Monday in Baltimore.

Mrs. Amanda Massey and Miss Minnie Massey, of Chestertown, are the guests of Mrs. M. E. Emory.

Mrs. Wm. D. Lecates and son, of Baltimore, are visiting at the home of her father, Mr. A. W. Woodall, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. John Welch and sons started Wednesday for a trip on the steamer, "Kitty Knight," when a mishap befell the "Pussy Day," so called by some of her admirers, at Gale's wharf and Mrs. Welch was compelled to take the train at Worton for home. The rest of the passengers were conveyed to Tolchester in a launch where they met the steamer "Louise."

Mr. and Mrs. Authur Mitchell, of Elkton, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hopper and Miss Alice Hopper of Chesapeake City visited town on Tuesday in Mr. Mitchell's automobile.

Kennedyville Items.

Some farmers need more rain to plow their fallow ground and other farmers need less until they get their wheat threshed, but everything will be for the best and time will soon make everything alright.

Mr. Wallace Atwell who has been on the sick list is better but not well, yet he is able to go on his mail route.

Mr. John Medders is also improving. He has been sick for several days.

Mr. Charley Hessner is still confined to the house, his sisters, Mrs. Emma Baker, of Chestertown, and Miss Katie, of Philadelphia, visiting him the past week.

Capt. Hill has returned from the hospital and is getting along alright but Mrs. Hill is not well. She is under the doctor's care.

Several of our citizens are improving their property by concrete walks. Our streets were left in very bad condition after the state road was built.

Aunt Sallie Brown who probably is the oldest person in the community died at the home of her son, Nicholas Brown on Wednesday night. Aunt Sallie, as she was called by everyone, had been confined to the house for several months. Brights disease was her ailment. Aunt Sallie was a good christian and for many years had been the good and faithful sexton of the M. P. Church. For honesty and industry she was a good example.

KLONDYKE AND LAWN FETE.

There will be a KLONDYKE and LAWN FETE held on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fowler, near Worton, TUESDAY, JULY 25th, 1911. Proceeds for benefit of Mrs. Fowler's Sunday School class. jy15-2t.
