Still Pond Notes.

Still Pond M. E. Church.—9.30 A. M., Sunday School; 10.45 A. M., preaching by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Besuchamp. Subject: "Power," text, 1 Cor. II, 4, in demonstration of the spirit and of power. 8 P. M., Epworth League, followed by a short sermon by pastor.

The Sunday School picnic Wednesday was a very pleasant trip for all who were present. About one hundred and twenty-five were present, and all are very much indebted to Mr. Carlton Moore for the use of his ice cream parlors, where they spread their tables for supper.

Frank Furst For Gorman.

Mr. Frank A. Furst, one of the most prominent business men in Baltimore city, and the man who is most generally consulted about the availability of candidates for office is in favor of Senator Arthur P. Gorman for Governor in the following strong interview:-

"I am for Gorman," he said. "Frankly, I believe he will have no trouble carrying the primaries, I believe he will be elected and I believe he will make a splendid Governor. He has youth, experience with it and a large ambition. His future is before him and his career is in the making. In building his career he would naturally build it on a solid foundation, which would be an efficient and wise administration in the interests of the whole people.

"It is a mistake to speak of Gorman as an old-time regular as distinguished from a progressive Democrat. He is thoroughly progressive, and has been doing things. The best proof that he has been doing things is that he has made some mistakes, like all of us. A man who does nothing makes no mistakes; a man who makes mistakes has been doing something, at least. We are none of us infallible. We all make mistakes. But Gorman is a young man, full of fire, active in public affairs and with a great deal of initative and executive. Maryland would profit by having a young Governor of that type.

"If he has made small errors, he is fundamentally right; and to be fundamentally right is a big thing."

Rich Neck Farmers'.

Mr. James T. Anthony, the president of the Rich Neck Farmers' Club, of Queen Annes, entertained the club at Sea Kale Hall on Thursday, August 10th. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Irving Walker and Mr. H.P. Skipper on the "Improvement of the soil by the use of commercial fertilizer alone" and "The use of rye as a soil improver," respectively. A delightful supper, one of the kind you read about, was served during the recess in the large and airy mansion. At the evening session short talks were given by Mr. Smith and Mr. Mac Rochester on the "Grading of wheat in city markets." Many guests from Kent and Queen Annes were there as well as the club members.
