MIRACLE VOODOO MAN FROM NEW ORLEANS JAILED HERE

NEW ORLEANS VOODOO DOCTOR JAILED HERE

Miracle Man And Alleged Healer Is Held Under $500 Bail

"WAS REAPING FORTUNE

Mystic Numbers And "Sanctified Paper" Failed "Dr." Farrington

Mystic numbers and "sanctified paper" not only failed to render miracle "cures" promised clients here by "Dr." Charles Farrington, 1211 Argyle Avenue, but failed to keep him out of the jail house here Saturday.

Following several complaints "Dr" Farrington was haled into the Northwestern police station and after a hearing held under $500 bail on a charge of false pretences.

The specified case which brought him into court was lodged by Mrs. Lettie Carey, 1213 Whatcoat street, whom he had "treated" for a tumor of the neck.

Rolled Mystic Numbers

Bushard Carey, husband of Mrs. Carey, testified that he and his wife were induced to try the treatment when Farrington came to their home Thursday night and declared that he could remove a large tumor, from which she had suffered for some time.

Assuming an air of mystery, the "docotr" directed them to write some numbers on a piece of paper together with their names. He also told them to roll this up together with three five-dollar bills and pass it over to him. This they did and Farrington took the roll and after promising them that the tumor would be gone in 48 hours, walked out.

After waiting patiently and the tumor refusing to disappear, they sought police advice and Farrington was landed in the station house.

From New Orleans

It developed at the hearing that the new miracle man came here recently from New Orleans. It was in this section of the country that voodoism reached its greatest proportions and Farrington no doubt was highly schooled in the mystic art.

"Yes, Your Honor," said Farrington, "I'm from New Orleans."

"Yes," said the Magistrate, "and you will be from there a considerable time," as he held him under $500 bail.

AKRON MOTHER SEEKS MISSING GIRL HERE

FEARS DAUGHTER HAS MET WITH ACCIDENT OR FOUL PLAY

The police department has been asked to help find Miss Hettie Reed, who according to her mother, Mrs. Emma Miller, Akron, Ohio, has disappeared from her place of employment at Sparrows Point and can't be located.

The young lady is described As of medium height, weighs about 150 pounds and is medium brown skin. Because of her faithful attitude in writing back home and stopping suddenly and the further fact that she cannot be located by friends, her mother fears she has met with an accident or foul play. The mother's address is Box 207, Akron, Ohio.

The Idle Hour Orchestra will also appear in all of a series of concert of which the one on Sunday evening will be the first. Miss Paris, will also be featured at the contemplated series.

GOOD MORNING JUDGE

The Afro Court Reporter

Another September Morn

A policeman is a hard boiled guy used to seeing anything, but to see a woman dashing through the streets clad as a September morn, why that's enough to shock the modesty of even a cop.

Such was the case Thursday night in the vicinity of Stricker and Lanvale streets. Something passed the patrolman as he walked his beat, he stopped, stared, blinked to see if his eyes were deceiving him, assured that he was awake then gave chase. He overtook Miss Lena Talbert, 719 N. Mount street. Lena had on very little. Her explanation caused the arrest of Kenneth Wilkins, of the same address who threw her down the stairs and then chased her out into the street.

After some clothes were secured for the young woman both were brought to the Northwestern police station and charged with disturbing the peace. "Judge," she said, "he came home late and started fighting. He dragged me out of the bed, threw me down the stairs, threw a lamp after me and then chased me out into the street."

"She cut me Judge," said Wilkins. "tried to cut my face."

The judge leaned over the desk to examine the alleged cuts. Wilkin's face was scarless.

"Fifty dollars and costs,' said the judge. "Lena, you are dismissed."

It Was All Fixed Up

George Fisher, 1029 Sarah Anne street, was standing peacefully on the corner of Pine and Lexington streets, when a man walked up to him and kicked him on the leg.

That could or could not be true at least the Magistrate in the Western didn't believe. Fisher and Randolph Tribbs were arrested when they were attempting to save the street claner a job by mopping up the street with each other.

They both were brought to the Western to explain it to the judge.

"Yes sir," said Fisher, "I didn't know a thing about this man. I was just minding my own business when he hailed off and kicked me. Of course, not knowing the reason I began to find out with my fists," he continued.

"Why did you kick that man?" nquired the Judge. Tibbs, who lives at 550 Robert street, hesitated a moment; looked about the courtroom and then gave the answer that everybody was expecting. "It was all about a girl, your honor."

"Ahem," said the Judge, "I anticipated as much. So he took your girl did he?"

"You are wrong, Judge. I took his girl at a dance in Good Hope Hall and he struck me and got away and this was the first time I have been able to see him since so I just fixed him."

"And I am just going to fix you both," said the Judge. "$10 and costs."

He Was Too Kindhearted

If Frank Green, who claims he is from Jamacia, West Indies hadn't been so kind-hearted he would have kept out of trouble.

Green, who is a night orderly at the Jewish Home for consumptives was in town Wednesday night and was enjoying himseld in a quite peaceable way. A man approached him as he was walking along Penn Avenue and asked him if he would buy a gun.

Green declared that he did not want the gun but the salesman was persistent. He told a hard luck story of a sick wife and a gang of kids. He painted a picture of starvation that would make a famine look like a banquet. Green fell for the soft soap.

Perhaps if Green had noticed the gentleman's nervous shifting glance, his eagerness to be in another place as soon as possible he might not have bought the gun, but Green was blind to these things.

No sooner did the gun change hands than a patrolman rushed up and nabbed Green as the man who had just threatened to shoot someone in a saloon. Evidence? Plenty he had the gun on him still.

Green explained the circumstances to the Judge in Northwestern. The judge commended him for being so kind-hearted but fined him $25 for carrying a concealed and dangerous weapon.

SAYS POLICE INVADED SANCTITY OF HOME

Entered Citizens Room At 5:00 A. M., Looking For Another Man

GAITHER REPLIES

Says Officers Were Within Rights In Making The Search

Declaring that patrolmen used a skeleton key to enter his home in the middle of the night, Samuel A. Bolden, 1214 Penna. Avenue, complained to Police Commissioner Charles D. Gaither.

Mr. Bolden, who is a maker of Lodge regalia at the above address, declares that he was awakened about 5 in the morning by someone moving about on the second floor of his home. He said they entered his bedroom and proved to be two police officers, after flashing a light in his face they left without any explanation.

Mr. Bolden then wrote to the Commissioner requesting that he investigate the matter. He received the following communication from Commissioner Gaither.

Dear Sir:

Answering your letter of March 9th., I have to advise about 5:00 o'clock in the morning of March 7th, a man was seen by the police to enter your house, under circumstances which required investigation.

The officers found the door to the house partly opened and went in for the purpose of finding the man. Their investigation led them finally to the room occupied by you, that you invited them in and after making certain inquiries of you, they left without further annoying you or anybody else.

I am sorry you feel offended at the intrusion, but I really do not seen that there is any harm to find fault with the officers for making a seemingly necessary investigation.

CHAS. D. GAITTHER,
Police Commissioner.

Postal Cards Cost Two Cents

New postal rates which went into effect Wednesday make it necessary to put a two cent stamp on souvenir post cards now.

Last Congress made several changes in postal rates in order to raise $68,000 a year to take care of the salary increase of postal employees.

A registered letter will cost 15 cents instead of 10 cents.

A special delivery will still cost 10 cents but packages over two pounds will require 15 cents for a special delivery stamp. Packages weighing over 20 pounds will require a 20 cent special delivery stamp.

Money orders of less than $2.50 which used to cost 3 cents now cost 5 cents. Money orders of $5.00 which used to cost 5 cents now cost 7 cents. Money orders of $5 to $10 which used to cost 8 cents now cost 10 cents.

GIRL, 7, CHARGES MAN WITH SERIOUS CRIME

Sordid Details Of Criminal Assault Told At Police Station

UNDER HEAVY BAIL

Culprit Held For Grand Oury And Criminal Court Action

Ernest Easley, 132 North Calhoun street, is being held for the action of the Grand Jury under heavy bail for assaulting 7-year-old Lucille Smith, 502 Bloom street, Saturday.

The crime which was one of the most sordid one reported at the station this year, was committed in the hor.. of the man while the child was there on a visit. This inference is drawn from the fact according to physicians of the police department, who examined the child. She is a victim of a dreaded disease as a result of the crime.

Charges against Easley were preferred by Mrs. Henrietta Smith, who became alarmed when her daughter complained for several days of an infection. The child then told of the act committed by the man. A warrant was secured and Easley was given a hearing Friday morning.

According to the child's story she was taken to the home of the man's wife, where she was left to play with the children. The wife left the house leaving the child alone with the man. It was at this time that the crime was alleged to have been committed. Easley was held on the child's testimony.
