Special Delivery Announced Death

Pottstown, Pa.—(A. N. P.)—"Come to my house and take charge of my body on North Washington street. Give me a nice funeral."

This was the startling special delivery letter received Friday by John M. Mauger, a Parkerford undertaker, from his lifelong friend, Daniel Wamsher, aged 70, of Pottstown.

Mauger arrived at the Wamsher home to find his friend dead. He had attached a hose to the kitchen gas pipe and getting into bed, had pulled the blankets over his head with the hose under them.

Opportunity For Play Ground Leaders

Philadelphia, Pa. (A. N. P.)—It has been found that play leaders need special training in the activities that are generally used for the promotion of wholesome recreation. In this connection the Playground and Recreation Association of America plans to conduct a recreational training school in Chicago June 29th to July 18.

The school is to be under the general direction of Ernest T. Attwell, director of the Bureau of Colored Work of the Community Recreation movement, whose headquarters are located at the Keystone Building, 61th and Lombard streets.

Kills Man On Dare

Joseph Harris, colored, 25, of Eighty-third and Eastwick avenue, last night shot and killed William Irwin, colored, of Seventy-fourth street and Brewster avenue, on the sidewalk of Seventy-fourth and Harley streets, as scores of passersby looked on.

The men in the street were attracted by the loud argument between the two as they crossed Harley street. Suddenly the latter stepped back and displayed a revolver.

"I'll kill you," he cried as Irwin stood defiantly.

"Go ahead and shoot," he challenged.
