A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said:

"'I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one. I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished. They thought that there was smell and smoke from an oil stove, and that it heated a room just like any other stove. I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now, not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost.'"

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking. Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove means to you? No more coal to carry, no more coming to the dinner table so tired out that you can't eat. Just light a Perfection Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven. But the room isn't heated. There is no smoke, no smell, no outside heat, no drudgery in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used.

THE GIRL GRADUATE

The Dress and Accessories—Novel Parasols.

Wherever one goes at this time of year it seems to be impossible to get far from the young girl graduate. The shops are full of exceedingly pretty and girlish frocks suitable for commencement and all the dress-makers are busy. Very youthful and becoming is a frock made of fine Persian lawn with a front in princess effect tucked in clusters from the top of a rather deep embroidery flounce to a round yoke of allover embroidery. The side fronts of the frock are tucked on each shoulder and brought down beneath a belt of embroidery starting from each side of the front panel, while below the belt a very deep flounce of embroidery extends around the back and sides in the tunic effect to the knees.

MATERIALS FOR FROCKS.

Graduation frocks are always made of white materials but there are such a variety of fabrics from which to choose that the styles show great diversity. If a girl wants a graduation frock that she can afterwards use for parties she should choose one of the many pretty chiffon or Marquisette covered models. A charming example could have a skirt in tunic effect with a waist in quaint surplice style or a peasant waist and one of the new French "bandedin" skirts.

If lingerie materials are not desired and the frock just described seems a little bit too elaborate, very handsome graduation costumes can be made of nuns' veiling, fine panama, serge, voile, cashmere, or net, mull or some of the simple thin girlish silks.

COSTUME ACCESSORIES.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

The girl graduate wears white ribbons in her hair and white stockings and shoes or rather ties or slippers. Very pretty slippers come in Colonial styles with big buckles and then there are ties and pumps by dozens in white kid or even canvas that finish off a graduation costume correctly. If a girl does no care for white shoes she can wear patent leather slippers or ties, or slippers of bronze kid with stockings to match.

NECKWEAR NOVELTIES.

Neckwear is most attractive at the present moment and the shops are filled with delightful novelties. There are Dutch collars and Pierrot frills and jabots and rabats galore. A very smart Pierrot frill of white batiste has a narrow upper frill of pale blue lawn with an irregular scalloped edge embroidered in white.

A smart Dutch collar is fitted to the neck with small tucks which are about a quarter of an inch at the neck and gradually grow smaller until they cease altogether about an inch and one half from the lower edge.

JUNGLE PARASOLS.

Young girls and older women too for that matter, have taken a great fancy to the new parasols with jungle handles as they are called, handles carved to represent wild animals heads. These are fashioned of wood or bone to simulate the beasts of the jungle. The carving is very well executed and as the natural color of the wood is left unchanged the effect is not too bizarre. The elephants' head in particular is most convenient to hold, while figures of crouching lions and tigers along the horizontal top of the handle are artistic in the extreme
