Tax Commission Organized.

The State Tax Commission organized Tuesday by naming Allan C. Girdwood as secretary and State Senator Edward M. Hammond as counsel. Selection of the men to comprise the clerical force will be delayed pending a decision concerning the details of the methods to be used in doing the work. Men will be employed as the task progresses and the need of them develops.

Notices were sent to the respective boards of commissioners in the counties of Maryland, and the Board of Estimates in Baltimore asking for a list of five men from each of which the commission will select the assessors for the counties and for the city. In several of the counties keen rivalry exists for these places, the pay of which varies from a few hundred dollars to $2400 a year.

TO EQUALIZE TAXABLE BASIS.

Comprising the State Commission are A. P. Gorman, chairman; Lewin W. Wickes and Oscar Leser. Their task is to adjust the taxable basis throughout the State so that equity will prevail. Now property in one county is assessed on a 60 per centum basis, and in another on a different basis. In some securities are located and taxed. Other counties ignore their existence. The Commission will try to locate "hidden" property as well as equalize the tax on existing property. It supplants Tax Commissioner Schley. This office goes out of existence.

It is the idea of the new law that every five years there shall be a complete new assessment of property. While the duties of the Commission apply only to assessment values for State purposes, the opinion prevails that county officials will seize upon the new values as the basis for county taxes. This is regarded by many as an embarrassing possibility.
