WHO MADE THE MESS.

The Wicomico News, of Salisburs, Md., of which former State Senator Marion V. Brewington is the editor, is one of the strongest and most influential Democratic papers in Maryland. This is not said for the purpose of throwing any bouquets to the Wicomico News, but simply to shed the right light on its sub-joined criticism of the last Legislature. Here are some of its sentences:

"There never was a session of the Legislature when so much foolish and disrupting legislation was put over the people of this State. Every day some new thing is discovered which clearly demonstrates that the last General Assembly in Maryland ran without a head and that the people of the State are really fortunate that some fellow did not slip through a bill making it easy to hang any of our best citizens without a trial."

We are quite prepared to endorse this criticism of the last Legislature. The only thing in the criticism which we cannot endorse is the statement that "it ran without a head." We do not know where Bro. Brewington gets his authority for that statement. It certainly does not conform to the facts in the case. That Legislature was overwhelmingly Democratic in both its branches, and at the head of that big Democratic majority was the Smith Democratic machine. Over on the Senate side, where we were in a position to clearly observe things, the Smith machine was represented by Senators Price, Benson and Beck, and with these gentlemen as its representatives, it just put through what legislation it pleased. If there seemed any sign of a hitch at any time, the big Boss himself appeared on the scene. In fact whenever U. S. Senator John Walter Smith made his appearance at Annapolis, we formed the habit of remarking:—"Look out now, gentlemen; the steam-roller will run over us shortly"—and it did.

We quite agree that the last General Assembly of Maryland made a mess of things. We further insist, however, that the big Democratic majority, which controlled that Legislature, must accept responsibility for its record. And we further insist that the Smith Democratic machine must accept responsibility for the leadership and record of that big Democratic majority.

We agree heartily with your criticism, Bro. Brewington—but remember, please, that your own folks did it.—Cecil Whig.

An Old Acquaintance.

While in Washington last week it was our very great pleasure to meet Prof. C. V. Schofield, many years ago the accomplished organist in Christ M. P. Church and a splendid music teacher here. Prof. Schofield is now one of the most prominent musicians in Washington, being a composer of light opera, and a recognized authority upon the subject of music. He has recently purchased a fine $10,000 home in a fashionable suburb of Washington and will remove there on April 28th. We also had the pleasure of meeting the professor's wife and daughter, and spent a most enjoyable half hour with them. Prof. Schofield and his family still retain a great affection for Chestertown and its people, and they wished to be remembered to their many friends here. Prof. Schofield gave us the following program of the 15th anniversary of the Juvenile Home Missionary Society of Christ M. P. Church held in 1887. It is of interest because of the appearance of the names of many who still retain a keen interest in their church, as well as some who do not, sad to relate:

State Forester Wins.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company cannot cut nor trim trees along the public highways of the State without first obtaining written permission from the State Board of Forestry and having the work done under proper supervision and paying the required fees.

This was the decision rendered in the Court of Appeals recently in the suit brought by the Telephone Company against Governor Goldsborough and the other members of the State Forestry Board.

Mr. Frank Wheat, of Piney Neck, has been a great sufferer from an affection of the eyes. He was in town on Monday and was suffering considerably.

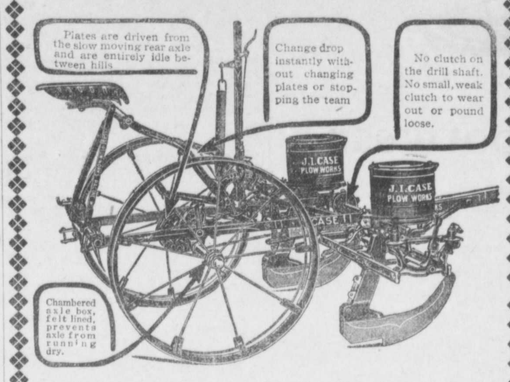
"No Clutch on the Drill Shaft"
OF THE J. I. CASE PLANTER



On all Planters other than the J. I. CASE Power Drive the action of the plates is controlled by a clutch on the running drill shaft.

The clutch soon wears out and may fail to work when you need it most. Avoid this danger by buying a J. I. CASE Power Drive Planter where the parts performing the function of the drill shift clutch are found on the slow moving MAIN axle. They are made heavy and strong. Don't buy until you see this accurate and reliable planter.
