ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORY.

O

is for "Oysters" which fills us with smiles,
And Bringham will have them in all of their styles;
Also oyster lovers, if raw, stewed or fried,
At Jenkins and Robinson's you'll be quickly supplied.
The "Overall Plant" is now running in town,
You'll find all of these things as you're walking around.

P

is for Parks, who sells most everything,
For winter, summer, autumn or spring;
At "Pippin's Hotel" you'll get a good rest,
The table he sets he selects from the best.
Now Power's is here for to treat all sore eyes,
If your vision is faulty, he'll gladly advise.

Q

is for "quality" for which they all stand,
No truer characters you'll find in the land;
And the "query" is this, I con't understand,
Why everyone dosen't lend a hand,
To make this grateful town of ours,
A land of beauty, song and flowers.

R

is for Rouse, and he sells Standard Oil;
Buy groceries from Ringgold and smile as they boil;
From Rote's get a watch or a solid gold band,
To put on her figer as you hold her hand.

S

is for Sparks, where you get voiles and laces;
And Stam has the drugs for the most stubborn cases;
Then Sutton, the plumber, will stop up a leak,
While Sach's garments will keep out the bleak;
If wanting your old hat to look like it's new,
Just take it to Solomons, he knows what to do;
Then if you would see yourself just as you are,
Why go round to South's, he's the photographer,
If any old rags, bones or bottles around,
Don't worry, for Sigman is still in the town.

is for Toulson, with all kinds of pills,
Just give him a trial for your bodily ills;
Then go to the "TRANSCRIPT" and give in your name,
To help and to boost, is its object and aim;
Then Thompson, up town, is still setting the pace,
While Thompson, down town, has the steak for your taste;
If you are tired out and don't like to walk,
Just put in a "Telephone", you like to talk;
Truslow is now with us and willing to buy,
See him, he will tell you much better than I.

U

is for "Undertakers" and we have our share,
A live town alright, but there's two of them here;
There's Hicks and there's Dodd, now you take your choice,
But neither for me if I had my voice.

is for Vandegrift, who shortens the hair,
And massages the face till the features are clear;
Now the "Voshell House" stands as a light to the town,
Just ask any drummer who travels around;
Then Vansant & Newsome, the dressers of men,
They'll serve you, then thank you, and say call again.

W

is for "Washington," the college of fame;
For learning and sports she has made a great name;
Then Whaley, the Wheelwright, to put on loose tires;
Go to "Watt's House" for meals that the diner admires;
That you might miss nothing while going around,
Just look in at Blyman's, who's store is up town.

is for "Xtra" that goes with a dash,
There's four banks in town to take care of your cash;
Three dentists around to relieve your toothache,
Six doctors to call when your life is at stake,
Then when you're seeking for justice in law,
Just call on her lawyers, a dozen or more.

Y

is for "yours," and the pleasure is yours,
A sure enough welcome swings over their doors.
If you are considering a place to reside,
You'll find here a people with hearts broad and wide.

Z

is for "Zion," the churches of God;
Also for the "Zenith" that is our reward;
If looking for comfort, for peace and good cheer,
Just come to our town, you will find it right here.

You Can Make Money

INAUGURATION DAY AT THE CAPITAL

Old Fashioned Democracy to Characterize Ceremonies.

BIG PYROTECHNICAL DISPLAY

President Wilson Is the First Democrat to Succeed Himself Since the Days of Andrew Jackson—Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Marshall to Accompany Husbands In Inaugural Parade.

By FRANK B. LORD.

Washington is rapidly completing its preparations for the second inauguration of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States. The occasion will present the first instance of a Democratic president succeeding himself in the White House since the days of Andrew Jackson. This is one of the reasons why exceptional efforts are being put forth to make the ceremonies befitting and impressive and at the same time characterized by genuine old fashioned Jeffersonian democracy.

President Wilson has notified the inaugural committee that he does not favor the customary inaugural ball, and accordingly that feature will be eliminated. Instead on the evening following his induction into office there will be presented on the famous White Lot, directly south of the executive mansion, a beautiful pyrotechnical display designed in itself to teach a lesson in patriotism.

Inaugural Takes Place March 5.

Owing to the fact that March 4 falls upon Sunday the ceremonial inaugural of President Wilson will take place on the following day. In order that there may be no lapse of time during which the country will be without an executive head the official oath of office will be administered to President Wilson in private at the White House at noon Sunday, March 4, by Chief Justice White of the supreme court of the United States. Three times before in the history of the country March 4 has fallen on Sunday—in 1821, at the beginning of Monroe's second term; in 1845, at Taylor's inaugural, and again in 1877, when Hayes became president. The formal ceremonies will occur on Monday.

Starting from the White House at 11 o'clock, escorted in carriages by a congressional committee, of which Senator Overman of North Carolina is chairman, the president will proceed to the capitol. For the first time in the history of any inauguration the wife of the president elect will accompany him on the trip. Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the vice president elect, will also ride in the carriage with her husband. The president will take the oath of office and deliver his inaugural address on the huge platform erected on the plaza at the east front of the capitol.

Pageant to Be Spectacular.

At the conclusion of the president's address the great spectacular pageant, which the people of Washington have devoted nearly three months in preparing, will start from the capitol and proceed westward on Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth street and thence through the grand Court of Honor erected in front of the White House. From the presidential stand in the center of the court Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall, together with their wives and members of the cabinet and their wives, the diplomatic corps and prominent officials, will view the parade.

Under the direction of Colonel Robert N. Harper, chairman of the citizens' committee of Washington, the people of the national capital have put forth every effort to make the Wilson inaugural procession not only a grand march of triumph, but a pageant which shall be educational and illustrative of the progress and development of the country. Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, will be grand marshal. Thousands of Uncle Sam's bluejackets and marines and as many soldiers as can be spared from the border will be in line, as well as the middy boys from Annapolis and the cadets from West Point.

"Uncle Sam at Work."

Washingtonians are so adept in making preparations for presidential inaugurations that nothing has been overlooked in providing for the accommodation, comfort and entertainment of thousands of visitors. In addition to the inaugural ceremonies, with the interesting pageant, arrangements have been made for the exhibit during inaugural week of "Uncle Sam at Work." This exhibit will show the activities of the various departments and bureaus of the government. The treasury department will show how paper money and postage stamps are manufactured at the bureau of engraving and printing and gold and silver coins are made at the mints. There will be an interesting display of counterfeits and counterfeiters by the secret service, and the rescue of life and property will be shown by the coast guard, which now includes the life saving service.

The museum of the dead letter bureau, with its freaks of the mails, will be a feature of the display of the post-office department; the war department will present an intensely interesting exhibit, including methods of national defense, and the navy department will show models of our peerless dreadnaughts, battleships and submarines.

DO YOU HAVE DIZZY SPELLS.

It's Important to Learn The Cause, As Many Chestertown People Have.

Dizziness is never a disease of itself, it's only a symptom of some deeper-seated trouble. Much dizziness is caused by disordered kidneys failing to filter all the poisons from the blood. These poisons attack the nerves and dizziness results. If you are subject to dizziness, there is good reason to suspect your kidneys, and if you suffer backache, headache, and irregularities of the kidney secretions you have further proof. Many Chestertown people have learned the value of Doan's Kidney Pills in just such cases. Read this Chestertown resident's statement:

Mrs. James S. LeCates, High St., Chestertown, says: "Some time ago, I suffered from a run down condition of my kidneys and a very painful backache. My kidneys were very irregular in action causing me much annoyance. On different occasions, I noticed black spots before my eyes and I had dizzy spells. I suffered severely from shooting pains through the small of my back when I bent over. I finally used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and got quite a lot of relief. Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. LeCates had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
