THE YOUNG AMERICAN.

Scion of a mighty stock! Hands of iron-hearts of oak-Follow with unflinching tread Where the noble fathers led!

Follow thou in word and deeds Where the God within thee leads! Honesty with steady eye,

Cra't and subtle treachery,

Gallant youth ! are not for thee:

Truth and pure simplicity, Love that gently winneth hearts, -These shall be thy only arts.

Prudent in the council train, Dauntless on the battle plain, Ready at the country s need For her glorious cause to bleed.

Where the dews of night distil Upon Vernon's holy hill; Where above it gleaming far Freedom lights her guiding star: Thitber turn the steady eye,

Flashing with a purpose high!

Thicher with devotion meet, Otten turn the pilgrim teet! Let the noble motto be God, - the Country, - LIBERTY!

Panted on Religion's rock, Thou shalt stand in every shock. Laugh at danger far or near ! Spuin at baseness-spurn at fear!

Sull with persevering might,

Speak the truth, and do the right! So shall Peace, a charming guest, Dove-like in thy bosom rest, So shall Honor's stendy blaze Beam upon thy closing days.

Happy if celestial favor. Smile upon the high endeavor; Happy if it be thy call In the holy cause to fall.
