Your Car and Your Home

Many a man would move his family to the suburbs and stay there, if the problem of transportation were less difficult.

Or, rather—if he thought it were less difficult.

Fact of the matter is, there's no problem of distance which an automobile will not solve.

There are really excellent cars offered for sale at greatly reduced prices in the classified "Automobiles" columns. They'll prove up under a demonstration—and a little garage at the end of your lot will cut the cost of upkeep.

For health and happiness' sake look into this matter today.

DUNBAR'S CHARLESTON CONTEST DRAWS 1,500

500 Unable To Gain Admittance To See Earl Tucker Win

That the Charleston is perhaps the most popular dance on earth was demonstrated at the Dunbar on Wednesday evening when more than 1,500 persons were admitted to see the contest staged. Five hundred were turned away disappointed.

Billing announced that the affair would begin at 10 o'lock, but because of the impossibility of handling the milling crowd the management was forced to begin the contest an hour earlier.

Entrants were present from all sections of the city, South and East Baltimore furnishign the largest number. East Batilmore, however, retained the championship; Earl Tucker won first prize, Charles Banks second and Eugene McGruder third. There were 10 entrants.

New Methods Shown

Every form of the dance had its exponents; there were champions of the original as done in the South Carolina capital, and modern interpretations that had never before made a public appearance. There was a skating Charleston, backward version, straight method, and of course, the trimmings; the camel walk, buzzard lope, and fishing. Legs were twisted into more unbelievable shapes than anyone familiar with the construction would believe possible.

Following Was Loyal

Rooters pulled for their favorite sons loudly and energetically. Each entrant had enough encouraging pleas to annex the prize, but unable to head off the two lanky fellows with the Charleston legs who twisted their way to victory and undying fame.

The braver hero than he who goes

For him in death is Eden's ease;
The blessed and eternal freedom of ...
