The Two Most Distinguished Pages in Race Journalism are the Front and Editorial Pages of the AFRO-AMERICAN

These pages achieve excellence built upon thirty years of experience in the field of journalism. The AFRO started right. It built a plant first, then with an all-race staff started out to furnish the reading public with the news.

FIRST IN NEWS

The AFRO is first in news. Pick it up any week, and you will find on its pages the most significant articles of interest to colored people happening in this country and abroad.

Situated closer to New York and Washington than any other of the great metropolitan weeklies, the AFRO-AMERICAN reporters and contributors get their news to the AFRO where it is printed very often a week in advance of any other weekly newspaper.

Anything of importance that happens up to Wednesday will be found in the AFRO. Depend on it.

RELIABILITY

If you see it in the AFRO, it is so.

It's reporters are instructed to get the news, but get it RIGHT. If there are two sides to a question look for both of them in the AFRO.

This Newspaper is independent.

It would rather be right than be Republican or Democratic.

It would rather be right than espouse the cause of any denomination or fraternal order.

It stands always on the side of the public good as it sees it.

The AFRO is the champion of civic welfare and the Square Deal.

FIRST IN EXCELLENCE

These men write for the AFRO-AMERICAN.

Richard Thomas.

George E. Taylor, New York Correspondents.

Louis Lautier, Washington Correspondent.

Leonard Massenburge, Philadelphia Correspondent.

Dr. A. B. Budd, President America-Africa Society.

Kelly Miller, Dean of Howard University.

Professor Fudge, America's foremost columnist.

William N. Jones, Editor of Day by Day

Edgar Brown, National Tennis Champion.

Amos Hokum, humorist.

John P. Davis, with Bates College Debaters abroad.

J. A. Rogers, author of "From Superman to Man."—travelling in Europe.

| FIRST IN NEWS | FIRST IN EXCELLENCE | FIRST IN RELIABILITY |
|---|---|---|

This galaxy of writers explains why these two pages of the AFRO-AMERICAN—the front page and the editorial page—are so far in advance of contemporary race weeklies. Brains count every time and that's what we put in the AFRO EVERY WEEK.

GROUP MAKES PLEA FOR UNFORTUNATES

To Hold Mass Meeting For Blind, Deaf And Dumb And Cripple Children

Plans to awaken the consciousness of the citizens of Baltimore to the needs of unfortunate children, including the deaf, dumb and blind, were begun this week when a committee visited the Maryland workshop for the blind.

Those who were in the group were Robert E. Coleman, R. M. Moss, Dr. E. J. Wheatley, Prof. Francis Wood, the Rev. A. J. Green, C. H. Steptau, William Langley, Misses Florence White and Myrtle Carden. They were welcomed at the institution by Superintendent J. L. Beck, whose work in behalf of this institution has merited general praise.

Mr. Beck also pointed out that in view of the fact that the institution spends most of its efforts with members of our race, it should receive wider cooperation.

Free medical service, a thrift system and insurance are among some of the recent innovations at the home. The Association For the of Handicapped Children is rendering such aid as to supplement the training now being given in institutions to the end that those they serve may become independent citizens. Working in harmony with the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, the Board of Education and the several hospitals, this organization seeks the cooperation of individuals and organizations interested in this type of service.

Some of those who have been interested in the organization since its founding in 1913 include Messrs. Robert W. Coleman, Harry O. Wilson, Mason A. Hawkins, William H. Langley, George Owens, Clarence Chambers and G. Russell Waller.

E. BERNARD TAYLOR AGAIN AT CENTURY

CATERER ASSUMES DIRECTION OF COUNTRY'S LARGEST ROOF GARDEN

Bernard Taylor, one of the town's foremost caterers has again assumed management of the catering on the Century Roof, and will begin active service on Saturday.

All of the food and soft drink served will be under the direct supervision of Mr. Taylor who will employ a normal crew of 75 waiters with that number greatly increased for week ends and holidays. Besides there are employees in the bar, checkers, cooks, cigarette girls and charwomen who carry on the work of the massive establishment.

An idea of the immensity of the project may be understood when it is konwn that Mr. Taylor and his forces served 2,600 persons recently at a dinner given at which Lady Astor of England was a guest.

1,500 Can Be Served

A luncheon is served daily at which time there is dancing, thereby attracting an immense crowd of the younger set who both dance and dine. A floor show and dancing are joint attractions at night. 1,500 may be seated and served with ample space left for dancing.

$150,000 A Year

During the season of 1921-22 the caterer was in charge for the past two seasons, however, whites held the contract. Mr. Taylor's acceptance of the catering for this season speaks volumes for the efficiency of himself and force. Normal receipts on the Century Roof total about $150,000 yearly. Testimonials have been sent Mr. Taylor from all parts of the world for the efficiency of his service.

Detroit In Mob's Grip

By The CAMERAMAN

(Preston News eSrvice)

In Detroit, Michigan, the same law which defines a mob as being an instrumentality of lawlessness has held eleven race people for first degree murder, all because two alleged units of a mob, said to be bent upon shattering the hopes and the home of a Negro who had exercised his constitutional rights by purchasing property upon a site which suited him best, were shot to death, somehow, somewhere, by alleged defenders of the home and the Constitutional rights of the colored tenant.

The mob was hell-bent upon a lawless errand. The police wing of the law was, as usual, too heavy for light work and too light for heavy work. By precedent, police, sheriff and other makeshift protection usually available to parties confronted by mobs (usually Negroes) is very thin; and colored people are, little by little, realizing that self-preservation is the first law of nature.

The Law Fails

Anyhow, the Law, which failed miserably in the great city of Detroit to prevent the formation of a cowardly mob, failed equally in giving full and equal protection to the citizens of the Commonwealth. And in some way, two souls were prematurely given the password to the cemetery. Now, says the law, this is murder in the frist degree, which is unlawful in this state; and its perpetrators must be duly punished. One of the deceased, says the law, was an innocent bystander, bent upon a peaceful mission and within his full Consittutional rights was entitled to PROTECTION—as much, we presume, as the Negro tenant buffeted and terrorized by the mob, unhampered by the law.

Ground For Defense

The law also says that just one step by a mob looking to the consummation of an unlawful objective is ground for defense. The law does not define just what that defense shall be. That is a question for a jury But a child of tender years knows just what defense eleven terrorized Negroes, could, would, and should make when opposed by five thousand "BRAVE" patriots who were trying to PROTECT their block from invasion by the unwelcome members of a proscribel race.

Is His Home His Castle?

The law will decide the fate of these eleven "murderers" who tried to defend their lives and properly. Who knows but that, like Loeb, Leopold and Harry K. Thaw, they may have been insane; or, that they, as principals of the first degree, and accessaries before and after the fact, without just cause therefore, with felonious intent did intice the mob to their midst and there and then did wantonly take the sacred lives of two of its most ardent members against the peace and dignity of the State.

Is a man's home no longer his castle? Has the full and equal protection of all the citizens of the State and of the United States gone to the four winds? Before jumping into the Atlantic Ocean, we will await the answer of the Law.

KILLS BABY

Annapolis Md.—Greensboro Thomas was held by a coroner's jury charged with killing his four year old son. His sanity is doubted.

Mrs. Thomas was holding the babe in her arms talking to a neighbor, Mrs. Mary McGowan., when Thomas came home Saturday night. He seized the infant from her arms and crashed it to the floor, fracturing its skull.

RESIDENTS WIN OUT IN "RAG SHOP" APPEAL

Delegation Invades City Hall And Board Of Zoning Appeal

Residents of the 2100 block of Division street invaded the City Hall Tuesday and succeeded in having the Board of Zoning Appeal block the establishment of a junk shop nn their block.

The final action of the Board of Zoning Appeal followed a second protest made by the citizens who opposed the establishment.

The case was heard in the Mayor's reception room where it was taken from the office of the inspector of buildings.

Those who personally appeared to oppose the junk shop included John H. Goldsborough, 2100 Division-st., Mariott Burgess, Mrs. Jennie Ross, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, Mrs. Lillian Owens, Miss Ruth Penn, and other neighbors.

They were represented by Attorneys Gobert E. Macbeth and Josiah T. Henry. R. Maurice Moss, secretary of the Urban League, testified as to the effect such a place would have in this district.

Basing his statements on his experience as a social worker, he pointed out the dangers to children and to health that the invasion of a respectable colored neighborhood by junk shops would bring. He was cross-questioned at length by members of the zoning board.

The protest was against the proposed construction of a building in which would be stored rags, bones, bottles, rubber, paper, iron, auto tires and all classes of junk entailing an outlay of approximately $5,000.

The construction of the junk shop being refused, the delegation left highly satisfied.

BALTIMORE ACTRESS IS STAR IN REVUE

New York.—Eddie Green formerly of Baltimore and now connected with the burlesque stock at the Apolla and the Plantation Revue has scored again as an astute producer with the new revue at the Swanee Club known as New York's most beautiful cabaret located on West 125th Street.

FRANCIS SMITH

The Swanee, formerly the Almo has opened at Hurtig and Seamon's burlesque theatre.

Among the first rank principals engaged are: Grace Rector the dancer, Francis Smith of Baltimore and recently with Billy Pierce's "Brown Skin Vamps" at the Moulin Rouge, Paris, Two Georgia Browns, Leona Williams Queen of Syncopation, Slim Henderson, the clever Mutt of Showdom; Rose Henderson, blue singer, Eddy and Jimmy White, Fast Steppers; Princess Helena and eight Creole Choristers.

The music was supplied by Sam Ward, and the entire production is supervised by Joe Ward, the latter two are white. The revue is called "Dark Doings."

Cars With Service-Giving Qualities

These are the cars, slightly used, which for some good reason the owners find it necessary to dispose of through the classified "Automobiles" columns, a few pages over.

Their service-giving qualities have been proved in many cases, though often they have had little usage and show no perceptible wear. In fact, they have been put in good condition and are obtainable at the used car prices.

The Classified "Automobiles" advertisements make it possible for practically everybody to be a car owner. You have only to read the columns carefully—or if anything special wanted supplement the ads there with one of your own, telling what make and model you desire.

AFRO WRITER GETS $500 SCHOLARSHIP

Thos. L. Dabney of Ellerson, Va., Afro feature writer, who graduated from the College of Virginia Union University in June, 1924 has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the American Fund for Public Service to attend Brookwood Labor College at Katonah, New York.

Through the efforts of Mr. James W. Johnson, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and a member of the Board of Award two scholarships were offered to colored students to attend Brookwood this year. No colored students have entered Brookwood Labor College which was established in 1921 to furnish special and technical training for the leaders of the Farmer and Labor movements.

Last year, Thomas Dabney was the principal of the Buckingham County Training School at Dillwyn, Virginia. While a student at Union his activities and interest in the cause of labor attracted the attention of a group of liberal college students at Union, one of whom, Mr. Charles S. Johnson of the National Urban League recommended him for the scholarship. Brookwood Labor College opens October 19th.

Lafayette Has Now Reopened

Thoroughly renovated the Lafayette Theatre at 1433 Lafayttte avenue, near Stricker street reopened last Saturday. A splendid picture program was exhibited and an orchestra directe dby Miss Alma Harper delivered excellent music.

The new owners of the theatre control one of the largest motion picture circuits in the city, thereby making the new addition, the Lafayette, to play the latest releases. George Douglass is the operator thus assuring first class projection of the programs.

On Thursday (this week) Tom Mix in "Riders of the Purple Sage" Benny Leonard in "Breaking In" and a comedy are scheduled. "Circe, the Enchantress," featuring Mae Murray and Percy and Ferdia in "My Mistake" are the attractions on Monday. Today (Saturday) Yakima in "Ridin' Comet."

CHILD FALLS FROM THIRD STORY WINDOW

Charles Strand, age two, was rushed to the Maryland General Hospital when he was found by his mother after falling three stories from a window of his home at 1024 McCulloh street, Saturday.

The child received first aid treatment when an examination revealed that he had received a fracture of the skull and a broken leg. The boy was then removed to the Mercy Hospital where he remained. Mrs. Mary Strand, the mother, could give no explanation of how the child fell.

Miss Campbell Now In Canada

Miss Clare Campbell of Hagerstown, the little artist who is touring with Sheftel's Revue, is at the Pantage's Theatre Edmonton, Alta., Canda, this week. All of the actors are well except Miss Campbell who has developed a cold due to the sudden change of climate.

The revue plays Saskatoon and Regina this week. The rest of the route is: Pantages Theatre, Edmonton, Alta., October 8, 9, 10; Calgary, Alta., 12, 13, 14; Spokane Washington, 18th to 25th; Seattle, Washington, October 26th to November 1st; Vancouver, B. C., November 2nd to 7th. All of these houses are on the Pantages time.

The reviewer on the Winnipeg Evening Tribune" commented as follows on the act. "The best show of the week is to be seen at the Metropolitan Theatre this week. Sheftel's Southlan dRevue" certainly fulfils the excellent press notices that have been written about it. It is an act of pep that moves with lightning speed."

"Minto Cato and Bob Williams are at the head of the company of 10 artists presenting a minature musical comedy program with songs and melody and syncopated dances keep the audience in a continual roar of laughter. They well deserve the title of the act with a hundred laughs."

Attucks Hotel Employee Held

Mrs. Annie Williams, of the Attucks Apartments was turned over to the police Monday by Attorney J. Stewart Davis, to face charges of the larceny of $400 from the management.

As far as can be ascertained, Mrs. Williams took the money from the safe following a domestic argument with her husband, W. S. Williams manager of the apartment house.

Mrs. Williams disappeared following the alleged theft, and was sought by the police following the report of the money having been stolen. Attorney Davis refused to make any statement concerning Mrs. Williams.

An injunction to restrain W. S. Williams, her husband, from entering the hotel or in any other way interfering with its operation has been asked by the hotel proprietors. Dissatisfaction with the management of the place under Mr. and Mrs. Williams is said to have led to the injunction.

Tuskegee And 24th Inf. Tie

Tuskegee Institute, Ala.—Playing its opening game in the $50,000 Alumni Athletic Bowl, the Tuskegee Institute football team and the strong 24th Infantry eleven battled through a scoreless tie Saturday. Showers fell during the game.

CARDINAL HAYES HEADS BOARD

Archbishop Curley's Name Is Also Added

At a meeting held in Washington recently the Catholic Board for Mission Work Among the Colored People was reorganized and Cardinal Hayes of New York elected its President.

In the last two years death summoned three of the Right Reverend members of the Negro Mission Board, Archbishop Moeller of Cincinati and Bishops Kelley of Savannah and Byrns of Nashville. Death also claimed the champion, during the past forty-four years, of the American Negro, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor John E. Burke, Director General of the Catholic Board for Mission Work Among the Colored People since its inception in 1907.

The Executive Board was brought up to its full strength by the election of His Eminence, of New York, to the office of President and of Archbishop Curley of Baltimore and Bishops Morris of Little Rock and Gerow of Natchez as directive members. Archbishop Shaw of New Orleans and Bisnops Allen of Mobile and Hoban of Scranton continue as members. The Catholic Board for Mission Work Among Colored People, as now constituted, consist of one Cardinal two Archbisohps and four Bishops. At the same meeting, the Rev. Edward C. Kramer, D. D., was chosen to fill the position left vacant by the death of Monsignor Burke and to act as Director General.

National Headquarters of the Colored Mission Board remain in New York.

The Catholic Board for Mission Work Among the Colored People was begun 18 years ago at the express command of Pope Pius X, to the Archbishops of the United States. The annual Indian and Negro Mission collection, ordered by the 3rd Baltimore Council, brought in so small an amount of money (an average during all the years of a little over a penny per year for each Catholic in the United States) that it was found necessary to organize separate Indian and Negro Mission Boards.

At the office of the Negro Mission Board it was announced that its principal efforts at the present time are directed to the support of over 200 Sisters, white and black, who are teaching Negro children in the poorer sections of the South. Monthly this Board disburses $5,710 to the Sisters. Sisters receive as a rule $25 per month, or $250 for the school year.
