USE OF SPRAY MIXTURES URGED

Will Greatly Lessen Losses From Plant Diseases.

MUST BE PROPERLY MIXED

Some Practical Directions Given For Preparing Lime-Sulphur and Bordeaux Mixture.

College Park, June 28.—Every producer of farm and truck crops affected by plant diseases is taking unusual precautions to prevent the appearance and spread of disease. Fortunately, most diseases can be prevented or checked by two or three simple spray mixtures that can be prepared and applied by the grower. In a warning issued by the Maryland Agricultural Extension Service, through its county demonstration agents, C. E. Temple, State Plant Pathologist, gives some most practical directions regarding the home preparation of spray mixtures. Prof. Temple says: "Every year, thousands of dollars worth of food materials in our State are destroyed by plant diseases and insects. This great loss can be cut down at a relatively small cost by the use of approved precautionary methods, such as the selection of seed free from disease, the rotation of crops and the spraying for both diseases and insects.

"Directions for making the more important fungicides are given below:

Self-Boiled Lime-Sulphur.

"This material is used for the control of rot and scab on stone fruits, such as peaches, plums and cherries. It is composed of:

"Flowers of Sulphur (finely ground) 8 pounds.

"Stone Lime of good quality 8 pounds.

"Water, 50 gallons.

"To make this spray material, start the lime to slaking in a fifty-gallon container with a little water, using hot water if the lime acts slowly. As soon as the lime begins to slake rapidly, add the sulphur and stir continuously. Add just enough water from time to time to keep the mixture in the form of a thin paste and to allow the mixture to boil violently from three to five minutes. At the end of this time, fill the container with cold water so as to prevent any further action of the lime. The mixture is now ready to strain into the spray tank. Larger quantities may be made in the case of commercial orchardists, but greater care will be required to prevent the mixture from becoming too hot, in which case the sulphur will be dissolved and there will be a red scum formed on the surface after the mixture has been allowed to stand for a few minutes. This red material will injure the foliage and fruits of peaches and plums. When applying this spray, good agitation is essential.

"As a substitute for this home-made spray material atomic sulphur, which is a commercial product, may be used at the rate of five pounds to 50 gallons of water.

Concentrated Lime-Sulphur.

"This material is usually purchased in the concentrated form which usually tests 32 to 34 degrees Baume scale. This solution when diluted to one part to 40 parts of water, makes a good fungicide for spraying apples, pears and quinces for various fungous diseases.

Bordeaux Mixture.

"This is the standard spray for truck crops, potatoes, tomatoes, grapes and for apples in the case of bitter rot and blotch. The material is made from:

"Copper Sulphate (Bluestone), 4 pounds.

"Stone Lime of good quality, 4 pounds.

"Water, 50 gallons.

"In making the spray material dissolve the bluestone by suspending it in a bag near the surface of a few gallons of water contained in a wooden or earthen vessel. Slake the lime and add several gallons of water so as to make milk of lime. Strain the bluestone solution into the spray tank and add enough water to make from 20 to 30 gallons. Then strain the milk of lime into the barrel, agitating the mixture vigorously. Add water to make 50 gallons and use immediately. The secret in making good Bordeaux is to have the bluestone and the milk of lime fairly well diluted before putting them together and then while they are being brought together they should be stirred continuously. If concentrated solutions are put together, a very poor grade of Bordeaux is the result.

"Stock solutions may be made by dissolving bluestone the rate of one pound per gallon of water. Slake the lime and dilute to one pound to the gallon. These will keep indefinitely if kept separate, but they should be covered to keep the water from evaporating. When using them, mix according to the formula above. Prepared Bordeaux, both dry and paste, is on the market and may be substituted for the home-made mixture. Consult your County Demonstration Agent regarding the details of preparing any of the above mixtures.

WANTED

The following is quoted from a letter just received from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

"The U. S. Government needs, and needs badly, great numbers of Stenographers and Typewriters, both men and women.

"Students just starting a course of study may be informed that there is now practically no limit to the number of stenographers and typewriters the Government needs.

"The Commission believes that the study of stenography and typewriting by a great number of persons with the view of entering the Government service will be justified. The usual entrance salary ranges from $900 to $1200 a year."

The business demand for secretaries, stenographers and book-keepers is also very urgent, and all students beginning a course with us during the next few months can be sure of employment promptly upon graduation at salaries higher than ever paid before.
