DISTURBANCE AT DAVIS HILL

Disorderly Element From Wilmington Block State Road And Cause Local Officers All Kinds Of Trouble

The whole of Kent county experienced somewhat of a thrill on Sunday afternoon last when it was rumored that the State Road, at Davis' Hill, about a mile this side of Galena, was blocked by disorderly colored people, who refused to allow the automobiles and teams to pass for a time, causing a line of them ranging in number, according to the information, from 50 to 500. It seems that a party of Wilmington negroes, of a rough element, had come to the quiet hillside near Galena, and, in company with a number of the same element from the upper part of this county, sought to take over the authority of Kent county for a time and engage in whatever procedure that was to their liking. When the confusion in that section reached its height State's Attorney Beck was notified, and Sheriff Hadaway, Deputy Gilbert Hadaway, William Hadaway, Constable Jack Jester, Capt. J. Thomas Kibler and seeral others went to the scene where rowdyism was holding high carnival and arrested the "bad men" from Wilmington and brought them to Chestertown. The men were Frank Guy, Clements Houston, Lester Henry, Leonard Warner and John Wilson, all of Wilmington.

Upon being arraigned before Justice Moffett Monday, they were sentenced to the House of Correction.

At the height of the fracas, the disturbance became so marked that it was thought that the State authorities would have to send the road police to quell the riot, but the loca lofficers, after considerable difficulty and with the use of some force, finally placed the men in custody and brought them to Chestertown.

Davis Hill is about a mile this side of Galena. At this point the state road passed down a high decline and up a high hill on the other side, making a deep valley, which is closely wooded on each side. It is a most dangerous spot for automobilists and they are always compelled to exercise care in passing this section. A colored church stands at this point. It was an ideal place for a blockade and a disturbance of this sort.

DEATHS

On Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 1 p. m., Miss Jeannette E. Gooding entered into rest at her home in Clayton, Del.

This community was very much distressed at the passing from our midst of this noble woman who lived here so long as a faithful, conscientious teacher in the Chestertown High School. She was a loving, helpful friend and a worker and sympathizer with all that tended to the welfare and uplift of her fellow man.

In spite of her busy lift, she had an intense love of nature and a true poetic soul. "A primrose by the river's brim" meant beauty and pleasure to her—a joy forever."

"The cross has lain upon her breast,
Raise the crown above it;
She has sought and found her rest,
More we may not covet."

The funereal services were held yesterday, Friday, at 10.30 a. m. in the M. E. Church at Galena.
