Gadabout-ing in Baltimore

WITH LULA JONES GARRETT

AWAKE BETIMES to see a pale moon still in the sky . . . There is a shadow of snow in the air; bed is a haven which it tears my heart to leave . . . It takes all the will power I can muster to make the final effort . . .

To a breakfast of stewed pears and tea-kettle tea and the hearty glow of a big log! Toasting in front of a log fire, being about the pleasantest occupation I know of. I have a yen to be reincarnated as a baked apple, a thick slice of Barbecue or a marshmallow . . . However, enough of such maunderings: and on to the news of the day:

Mrs. Lovey Hukseth, organist of Levy, Mrs. Daisy Marshall, Jack Enon Baptist Church, was the guest of honor at the reception at the home of Mrs. Julia Beckey, Tuesday evening, when the senior choir of the church played hosts. A lengthy program of musical numbers was rendered and a repast served. Mrs. Hukseth was then presented a purse by the choir and the S. Coleridge Taylor Choral Club, of which she is organist and director.

Guests at the affair included the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Barlow Marmon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mrs. Mary C. Higgins, Mrs. Julia Beckey, Mrs. Maggie Edwards, Mrs. Lillian Hamlet, Miss Bernida Hukseth, Miss Llewellyn Hukseth, Miss Julia Beauford, Miss Elsie Coleman, Mrs. Lottie Jones.

The Monumental Theatre Guild was switched in matinee to the assembly room of the Metropolitan M.E. Church, and on the 27th it will make its second presentation of plays. The first will be remembered as one of the most delightful affairs of the early fall, when at Morgan College the group entertained a number of friends at a presentation.

Two plays to be presented will include "Good Medicine," in which a dose of plain truth cures what ails Mr. Hyde, Mrs. Mary C. Higgins, Mrs. Julia Becky, Mrs. Maggie Edwards, Mrs. Lillian Hamlet, Miss Bernida Hukseth, Miss Llewellyn Hukseth, Miss Julia Beauford, Miss Elsie Coleman, Mrs. Lottie Jones.

In the cast of "Good Medicine" are Mrs. Viola Thomas, Mrs. Beatrice Rodgers, Mrs. Gladys King, Mrs. Helen Richardson, Mrs. Maude Griffin, Mrs. Rosina Robinson, J. T. Harper, Edward Wilkins, Harry Parker, Miss Alma Harris, Mrs. Eta Young, Mrs. Cora Tibbs, Sunday at four...And the bids invite you to don your tackiest togs for the Swagger prom next Friday, when you will gather when the Educos dance, this Friday eve...The school marm who called the doctor's wife on the phone and gave her an earful may have to explain it to the board, forgetting that telephone calls may be checked and that operators may serve as witnesses.

Rumors that the Kenneth Brickhouse-Helen Rich marriage, which was scheduled for the holidays, had really come off, hasn't been substantiated. . . . Those who were overy interested in the Douglas High Commencement, may suspend activities for another year... It will be Fred H. Robb, Chicago attorney, who will debate Gough McDaniel when the Sharp Street Community House holds its cornfab at a date . . . to be announced later.

Back from their honeymoon, the Clarence Roberts (Miss Rachel Gordon) are at home at 2 Druid Hill Ave. . . . Among those who were at home to friends Saturday, in their receiving line at the home of the groom, Mrs. Jesse Day, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Gladys Coates and Charles Robinson.

Their frocks carried out a scheme of red and gold, the bride wore a lovely shade of green with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Wallace Ashby of Wolcester street, who was Day, wore a two-toned model in the same colors. Mrs. Coates wore green.

Assisting in receiving were Miss Ralph Jones, Miss Bernida Hukseth, Miss Cecelia Dennis, Mrs. Mattie Carter, and Miss Maud Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts motored to the dining room to be served by a bevy of pretty girls who entered with a large rose-filled bowl.
