Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

IN Kent County the Democratic results were most gratifying, Bruce receiving a majority over Senator France of 514 and Congressman Goldsborough a majority of 450 over Charles J. Butler. The Bond Issue, which was not a political issue, both parties being divided on this question, was defeated by 45 votes. We believe the defeat of the bonding of the county was a mistake, as, in our opinion, it is a backward step, but as the majority differed with us, we who favored it must submit to the will of the majority.

CONGRESSMAN GOLDSBOROUGH

The flattering majority given Congressman Goldsborough in this Congressional District is very gratifying to his many warm personal and political friends and proves conclusively that his Congressional record has pleased his constituents. This paper has contended ever since Mr. Goldsborough consented to become a candidate, over two years ago, that his election to Congress would prove satisfactory to the people of this District and we feel our statements of his ability and worth have been recognized in no unspeakable terms. It is not often that a man of Mr. Goldsborough's ability and large business interests can be induced to make the necessary sacrifice of his private business to accept public office. The many sacrifices, expense and criticisms attached to a campaign deters many of our best men from making the contest. The flattering majority of 4832 over his Republican opponent is indeed one to be proud of, more especially is this true when you consider that Mr. Butler, his opponent, is a man of high standing and a lawyer of ability.

SENATOR BRUCE'S defeat of U. S. Senator France is no surprise to those who have followed Senator France's career in public life and more especially the position he took on some of the most important measures in the Senate of the United States. Senator Bruce's public and private career recommended him to the highest confidence and respect of the people of this state and they have recognized it in their votes on Tuesday last. Maryland has reason to be proud of Tuesday's result. Her citizens have rebuked, as have the people generally throughout the country, President Harding's administration. Delaware has shown her disapproval by the election of T.F. Bayard, Democrat, over Senator Coleman duPont, Republican, to the United States Senate, and Wm. H. Boyce, Democrat, over Caleb R. Layton, Republican, to Congress, and a Democratic governor, a Democratic State Senate and a Democratic Legislature, besides an almost complete Democratic state and county officials. Mr. Frank Davis, a former citizen of this town, was defeated by the small majority of 47 votes for the Legislature in a formerly strong Republican district of Wilmington.

The Coal Situation

Mr. H. Clay Brown, who has been appointed Fuel Distributor for this county, has been sent the following table, showing the shipments of coal to this county during last year:

Town	Shipments Apr. 1, 1921, to Mar. 31, 1922.	Expected shipments Sept.1,'22, to Mar. 31, 1923
Betterton	..	..
Black	27	16
Chestertown	5647	3388
Galena	..	..
Georgetown	65	39
Golts	39	23
Kennedyville	322	193
Lambson	667	400

Millington	628	377
Rock Hall	285	171
Still Pond	653	391
Worton	163	97
	9029	5414

Each community is supposed to get only 60 per cent of the amount of coal furnished them last year. It is, therefore, very apparent that strict economy must be practiced in order to make the coal last throughout the winter.

ELECTION RESULTS

News From This State, As Well As Other States Scattered Far And Wide, Shows A Decided Drift Toward Democracy At This Year's Elections

Election results from Maryland, as well as from many other sections of the United States, shows that the people of this country have not changed their mood from 1920, but this time it was the Republican party which had to bear the brunt of popular discontent. The result, then, has been that the tremendous majority of the Republican party in the Senate and House have been cut to minimum proportions—in the Senate to eleven and in the House to about a dozen. The turnover this year is virtually as great as it was in 1910 in the middle of the Taft administration. Had the Republican party not obtained a big majority in both houses in 1920, it would have been swept from power. As it is, while the Republicans control both houses, they barely have a working majority.

Gifford Pinchot was elected governor of Pennsylvania by about 300,000 majority. The Republicans, however, lost six Congressmen in the state.

Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, was the winner in New York for the governorship by about 400,000. Dr. Copeland, Democrat, defeated Calder, Republican, for the U. S. Senate.

Governor Edwards, Democrat, running on a wet platform, defeated Senator Freylinghuysen, Republican, in New Jersey, for the U. S. Senate, by 90,000.

Senator T. Coleman Dupont, Republican, lost his seat in the U. S. Senate from Delaware in a close contest.

William Cabell Bruce, Democrat, defeated Senator W. Irving France, for the U. S. Senate by about 18,000 maority.

Ohio was one of the political battlefields of the country. Congressman Fess, Republican, defeated Senator Pomerene, Democrat, for the Senate, but C. A. Thompson, the Republican candidate for governor, was beaten by Victor Donahay, Democrat.

Senator Lodge returned to the Senate from Massachusetts in a close contest.

In Missouri, Senator Reed, Democrat, retained his seat by a big majority.

Miss Alice Robertson, Republican, of Oklahoma, only woman in Congress, was defeated by W. W. Hastings, Democrat, whom she beat two years ago. There will still be a woman in Congress through the election of Mrs. Winifred Huck, a Republican, of Illinois, who was elected to serve out the unexpired term of her father.

Hiram Johnson, Republican, was returned to the Senate from California.

Albert J. Beveridge, Republican, being groomed by the Republicans of the state for president, lost to Governor Ralston in a fight for the U. S. Senate.

The so-called "beer amendment" was beaten in Ohio, while in California a prohibition enforcement measure was beaten.

Congressman Volstead, of Minnesota, Republican, author of the Prohibition Enforcement Law, was defeated for re-election by his Democratic opponent.

New Hampshire elected a Democratic governor with 10,000 majority. Two years ago a Republican governor won by 31,000 majority.

Congressman Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican floor leader, was defeated for the U. S. Senate by his Democratic opponent.

A mix-up of political faith, including many reversals, with the Democrats gaining many new honors, marked the general election in the Middle West. Reversals occurred in six states. It was a double reversal in Ohia and Nebraska, where Republican Senators were elected in place of Democrats and Democratic governors replaced Republicans. The Democrats gained three Congressmen in Ohio and one in Nebraska. In Indiana the Democrats gained a Senator and lost two Congressmen, the Republicans holding most of the Congressional seats. Michigan chose a Democratic Senator. The Farmer-Labor vote won in the Minnesota Senatorial fight.

Kent county voters defeated the proposition to bond the county for $100,000 for gravel-stone roads. The majority was 45.

All the amendments voted on in this state were carried, largely by the big majorities piled up in Baltimore.

Governor Ferris, Democrat, was returned the winner in the Senatorial fight against Senator Townsend, Republican.

Mr. Frank Davis, formerly of Chestertown, who ran for the Legislature in Delaware, in a section normally Republican, was beaten by but 45 votes. This speaks well for Mr. Davis' standing in Wilmington.

On the face of tabulated returns on Friday the political complexion of the Sixty-eighth House of Representatives and Senate will stand as follows:

The Senate:
- Republicans 53
- Democrats 42
- Farmer-Labor 1

The House of Representatives:
- Republicans 225
- Democrats 207
- Socialist 1
- Farmer-Labor 1
- Independent 1

Victor L. Berger, Socialist leader in Wisconsin, was elected to Congress from that state. He was denied his seat on two previous occasions.

Senator Reed, who was the storm center in Missouri, was returned to the Senate after a bitter fight.
