Have You a Manure Pile?

If you have, get it out on your fields where it will do some good. No, not with a wagon. You waste a full third of it if you do it that way, and you have a hard, dirty, disagreeable job besides. The easy way is the paying way. Get a Low Corn King spreader that will tear the manure into small pieces, discharge its load in four to seven minutes, and spread it in an even coat over the entire surface of the ground. That's the way to use stable manure. Then you can depend upon an increase of crop yields without having to plant more acreage than you can care for. Look at the present prices of farm produce. Raise all you can. Buy and use a

Low Corn King Manure Spreader

Wheels just the right distance apart, and spread wide enough to top dress three rows of corn at once. Three sizes—small, medium and large. All narrow boxes. All steel frames with working parts of the spreader securely attached to the frame. Turns short. Drive from both rear wheels. Return apron driven by worm gear which insures even spreading up hill and down. Pull comes straight on steel frame. Solid two-inch rear axle working in roller bearings carries seventy-five per cent of the load. All-steel beater cannot warp, shrink or rot. Built up to International Harvester standards of quality in every respect.

Buy a Corn King spreader and use it. The increased yield from a few acres will pay for your spreader this year. Come in and place your order now.

HOG CHOLERA SEASON IS HERE

Members of the Hog Growers Association should be on the lookout for any outbreaks of hog cholera. Should cholera make its appearance in your neighborhood or herd keep in mind the following:

Quarantine your farm, allowing no visitors to see your sick hogs. Treat this disease as you would any other contagious disease and use all means to prevent your neighbors obtaining cholera from your farm, or if it is in the neighborhood use all means to prevent its reaching your herd.

Have your hogs inocculated at once, at the first sign of sickness in your herd. Do not delay, many hogs can be saved if treated in time. Since the organization of hog cholera associations the county agent is not allowed to inoculate hogs except where farmers desire to learn how to treat their own hogs. There are men in each community who will gladly inoculate your hogs for you.

Hogs that die from cholera should be buried or burned. It is in violation of the law not to properly dispose of the bodies of hogs. Hog pens, yards and runs having cholera hogs should be thoroughly disinfected.

The county agent should be advised of any sick hogs in the neighborhood so that measures can be taken to prevent the spread of this disease. Meetings of the Hog Growers Association will be held should an outbreak of cholera occur and plans made for cooperative work of the members in the community to combat this disease. Associations have the services of a government veterinarian to assist in making a diagnosis and post mortem examination of the hogs having cholera.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Quinn's Experience Ought to Help You Over the Critical Period.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headache or pain. I must say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any sick woman can take."—Mrs. MARGARET QUINN, Rear 259 Worthen St., Lowell, Mass.

Other warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness.

If you need special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.
