MODERN STRATEGY

All life-time is a school of strategy—a game of war upon germs and tendencies which, unless thwarted, weaken the system and invite disease.

Modern health-strategy dictates the use of

as a reliable means of thwarting the enemies of strength. Scott's is Nature's ally and its rich tonic and strength-supporting properties are known, with satisfaction, to millions. Build up your strength with the nourishing qualities of Scott's Emulsion.

CONCEALED WEAPONS ON ELECTION DAY

The following Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed at the January session of 1874 and approved April 6, 1874, is published for the information of the public:

AN ACT

To prevent carrying of guns, pistols, dirks, dirk-knives, razors, billies, or bludgeons by any person in Kent, Queen Annes or Montomery counties on the day of election in said counties:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this Act it shall not be lawful for any person in Kent, Queen Annes and Montgomery counties to carry on the day of election, secretly or otherwise, any gun, pistol, dirk, dirk-knife, razor, billy, or bludgeon, and any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any justice of the Peace, in either of said counties, shall be fined not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, and on refusal to pay said fine shall be committed by Justice of the Peace to the jail of the county until the same is paid.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That the fines collected under this Act shall be paid by the officers collecting the same to the School Commissioners of the county where offense shall have been commited for school purposes.

SEC. 8. And be it enacted, That any constable of either of said counties or the sheriff thereof, who shall refuse to arrest any person violating any provision of this Act, upon information of said offense, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before the Circuit Court of the county shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars and forthwith be discharged from office.

NEW CODE OF RULES FOR EATING PLACES

Twelve general orders, effective October 21st, have been issued to the proprietors of all places "where cooked food is sold to be eaten on the premises." With them go the Food Administrator's thanks to those who have kept pace with the spirit of democracy and a warning to backsliders that they may be cut off from their source of supplies.

No more than two ounces of Victory Bread may be served with one meal, or else four ounces of corn bread, muffins, Boston brown bread, etc., none may be served till the first course is on the table; and none, either plain or toasted, may be used as a garniture. The butter allowance is half an ounce. Likewise, cheddar cheese.

Of meat, which includes beef, mutton, pork and poultry, only one kind may be served at a meal.

A teaspoonful of sugar the patron may get on request out of a bowl which must be kept off the table.

All waste food must be saved to feed animals or reduced to obtain fats.

Come what may, America must keep her pledge to her Allies to increase by 5,730,000 tons shipments of foodstuffs during the next twelve months. This means saving all along the line. That saving is the acid test of loyalty.

Patriotic proprietors of public eating places demand enforcible rules for their own protection against the slacker in their business.

The Maryland Food Administrator will enforce these orders against any there may be not sufficiently patriotic to follow them voluntarily.

The dollar table d'hote on the railways saves most travelers enough to pay war tax on their ticket.

The ships we gave to carry men to France instead of meals to us will have a crowded year's job bringing them back after the war is won.

The more prices fluctuate, the more valuable is the Fair Price List. Peace would certainly shake them up—or rather down.

ADD THE SUGAR LATER.

Canning without sugar is urged throughout the American continent by food administrators, because many perishable fruits would be lost if they were not canned. It has been stated before that fruits can be canned without sugar and the necessary amount added when the fruit is ready for use. To the question, can jams and jellies be made later when sugar is more plentiful, the answer is that it is all right when they are made from the fruit pulp and juices that have been sterilized and canned without sugar.

CALF'S HEAD A' LA TERRAPIN.

(Official recipe.)

Wash and clean a calf's head, and cook until tender in boiling water to cover. Cool and cut meat from cheek into small cubes. To two cups meat dice add one cup sauce made of two tablespoons fat, two tablespoons flour, and one cup of white stock, seasoned with one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and a few grains cayenne. Add one-half cup rich milk and yolks of two eggs slightly beaten; cook two minutes and add two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

JUST WHAT TO EAT AND HOW MUCH.

The time has come when the Food Administration must say to you, "Use your own judgment. The responsibility is yours directly. Be careful everywhere. You know there won't be a great deal of sugar for anybody for some time to come. You know that you should still continue to eat corn bread, to save wheat and that all baking would better be done with mixed flours. You know that we must ship 15,000,000 tons of food this year—5,000,000 more than we shipped last year, half as much again—which means that the consumption of all foods must be cut, as far as consideration of health will permit. You will not fail. Of that the Food Administration is certain. You have finished your elementary course at the school of Food Conservation. You have entered the graduate school."

If we save sugar by spoonfuls we can send it by shipfuls to "our boys."

FEW COMPLAINTS FROM SHOPPERS USING FAIR PRICE LIST.

In nearly every newspaper in the country the housewife will find a Fair Price List. This list shows what foods are most plentiful in the local markets each day and also gives fair prices for them.

These prices are determined by local committees representing wholesale dealers, retailers and consumers. They aim to give the dealer a fair profit and at the same time to guard the housewife from being exploited.

But these Fair Price Lists are a club without a handle unless the housewife uses them as she should.

To do this, she should clip the Fair Price List as printed in her paper and take it to market with her. Then, if she is charged prices in excess of those quoted on the list she should immediately bring this fact to the attention of her dealer. If he refuses to sell at the prices quoted, the housewife should at once report him to her City Food Administrator if there is one, or to her county Food Administrator. He will take such action as seems to fit the case.

So much the Fair Price List can do, if rightly handled by the housewife. But there is another side to it. With the Fair Price List there is no excuse for the housewife to wait until the end of the month and her bills begin to come in, and then complain because her grocery account is higher than she thinks it ought to be.

The only time she has a right to object is the day her dealer asks her a higher price for a certain food commodity than the price at which it is listed in the Fair Price List quoted for that day.

FORBIDDING THE SALE OF OR GIVING AWAY LIQUOR ON ELECTION DAY

For the information of all persons concerned, the following Act of the Legislature, passed March 24th, 1895, is published:

AN ACT

Prohibiting the sale of Spirituous or Fermented Liquors in the counties or the State on the day of Election.

SECTION 1. Be is enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, that it shall not be lawful for the keeper of any hotel, tavern, store, drinking establishment, or any other place where liquor is sold, or any person or sions of this Act shall be liable to indictment by the Grand Jury of the county where such offense is committed, and shall, upon conviction before any judge of any of the Circuit Courts of the State, he find a sum not less than fifty dollars for each and every offense; one-half the fine is paid to the informer and the other half to the County Commissioners for the use of the public roads.

Article 33 of the Code of Public General Laws, as amended by the persons, directly or indirectly, of any kind, on the day of election hereinafter to be held in the several counties of the State.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That any person violating the provi- Acts of 1900 and 1901, says:

Whoever, during the hours of registration, or revision of registration, or during the hours of election or canvas of votes or of making returns thereof in any precinct, shall bring, take, order or send into, shall or attempt to bring or take or send into any place of registration or of election any distilled or spiritous liquors, wine ale or beer, or, shall at any such time or place drink or partake of such liquors, shall upon conviction thereof be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than $100.
