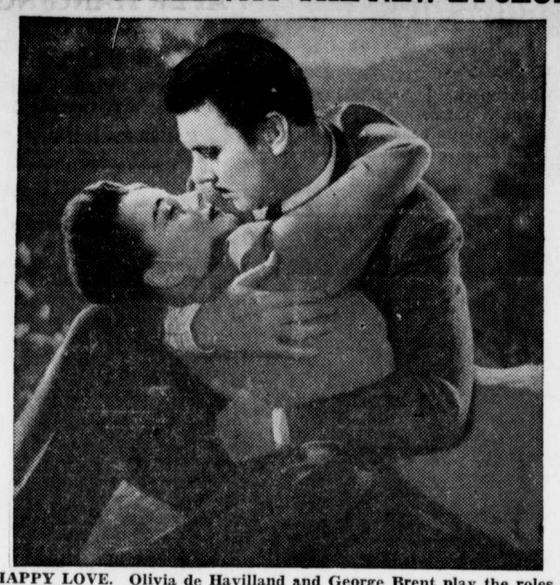
ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM



UNHAPPY LOVE. Olivia de Havilland and George Brent play the roles of two people who are brought together by their mutual unhappiness. Scene is from Warner Bros.' stark film, "In This Our Life," at the New Lyceum Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 20th, 21st, and 22nd.

There's a memorable experience in store for you at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, July 20, 21, 22, where Bette Davis will be at her superb best in the starring role of Warner Bros.' dramatic film, "In This Our Life."

The film is adapted from one of last season's leading best-sellers by Ellen Glasgow. The dramatic essence of the book is immeasurably heightened by the brilliant performances of Miss Davis, Olivia de Havilland, George Brent and Dennis Morgan, who are aided by an outstandingly fine supporting cast.

The story of "In This Our Life" is the tale of a selfish, inconsiderate woman who wouldn't stop at murder if she thought it would benefit her. The woman is Stanley Timberlake, played by Bette Davis, youngest daughter in the once powerful Timberlake family. Her selfishness and thoughtlessness brings misery to her friends, family and finally to herself. One might call her ruthless, if she were inclined to plan or meditate, but it is her impromptu actions that bring about all the unhappiness. She lives only for the present without a thought to the future or to the consequences her behavior may have on others.

The person whose life is most changed by Stanley's behaviour is her sister Roy's, played by Olivia de Havilland, who is married to Peter, a promising young surgeon, portrayed by Dennis Morgan. Stanley manages to have Peter divorce Roy and marry her despite the fact that she is engaged to Craig ,a keen lawyer (George Brent's role.)

It isn't long before Peter realizes the mistake he's made. He becomes so embittered by his own weak behavior and Stanley's frivolous outlook that he commits suicide. Stanley grieves his loss for a very short time and then returns to her family, not in the least regretful for the havoc she has caused.

In the interim Roy and Craig, who have been brought together because of their mutual sorrow, have fallen in love.

The role of Stanley is not a sympathetic one and only a great actress like Bette Davis can do it full justice. Miss Davis has surpassed anything she has done before in a brilliantly sensitive performance with deeply tragic undertones.

In the other roles, the performances of Olivia de Havilland, George Brent and Dennis Morgan shine out lustrously. The members of the Timberlake family as played by Charles Coburn, Frank Craven and Billie Burke, are so unaffectedly natural that they add enormously to the complete reality of the story.

Howard Koch has woven Miss Glasgow's book into a screen play that never falters in interest for so much as a second and John Huston has directed it with rare taste and finesse.

NAVY MAKES ALLOWANCES FOR DEPENDENTS

Lieutenant Paul R. Warmee, officer in charge of Navy Recruiting for the state of Maryland, stated today that many men who were hesitant about joining the Naval Service due to dependency, will now see their way clear to join their fellow Americans in doing the job that is So-All-Important-Winning the War with the Navy.

The Act of June 23, 1942, provides monthly family allowances for dependents of enlisted men in pay grades four to seven, that is, from apprentice seaman to petty officer third class ratings, both inclusive.

The United States Government contributes as follows:

Class A Dependents:

Wife alone, $28.00, wife and one child, $40.00 and $10.00 for each additional child—per month.

No wife, but one child $20.00, with $10.00 for each additional child.

Children must be under eighteen years of age.

A former wife divorced to whom alimony is payable $20.00 in addition to any amounts payable to wife and children.

Class B Dependents:

One parent $15.00. Two parents $25.00.

For each grandchild, brother or sister, under eighteen years of age $5.00 per month. Total Class B Dependents Allowance not to exceed $50.00. Class B relatives must be dependent upon man for substantial portion of their support.

Family allowances for Class A Dependents are mandatory upon application by man or by or on behalf dependent, but for Class B Dependents is optional with man. The amount of the man's contribution in either Class A or B Dependents $22.00; if he has both A and B Dependents $27.00.

Family allowances accrue from June 1st for men in the services on that date. However initial payments to dependents will not be made prior to November 1st, 1942. Deductions begin as of June 1st, 1942.

District Citizens Don't Vote

The residents of the District of Columbia do not vote for the President of the United States unless they maintain legal residence in another state and vote from such residence. There is no longer a mayor of the District of Columbia. The district is governed by three commissioners, appointed by the President of the United States with the advice and consent of the senate. The commissioners are in a general way vested with jurisdiction covering all the ordinary features of municipal government and are also members of the zoning commission. All other municipal officers are appointed under civil service.

*Not distributed by States.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made public the official War Bond Quotas by States for the month of July, which places the nation on a Billion-dollar-a-month basis to aid in meeting the War cost. The above table also gives May War Bond sales in the various states in comparison to the May Quotas. (June sales by states will be available for publication shortly.) The percentage of Quotas range from 71.3 percent above quota in Utah, to 22.6 percent below the quota in Montana, but puts the nation as a whole above the $600,000,000 total May quota. Vulnerable Alaska and Hawaii led all states in sale of War Bonds on quota basis.

"Everybody, every pay day ten percent" is the Treasury slogan which is expected to place one of the attractive new window stickers in every American home. "We're Buying at Least 10%" reads the sticker, printed in the national colors. The new window stickers and the new "10%" lapel button, which indicates the wearer is investing at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds every pay day, are yardsticks of patriotism in the War Bond drive.

Detective of Emotions

The polygraph, commonly known as the "lie detector," is a device which measured blood pressure and respiration while carefully chosen questions are asked. Some of the questions are harmless and others designed to arouse emotion in a guilty but not an innocent person. While the guilty person tries to control one symptom—his breathing, for example—he gives himself away by others.
