Holly Berries Go South With Robbins, He Says

Salisbury—The red holly berries of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula went South with the robins this year and orders for available holly far exceed the supply, District Forester Joseph T. Rothrock announced here.

The State Forestry Department is again taking orders for "certified holly," giving woodlot owners a guaranteed outlet for the annual holly crop. Only those cutting holly so as to not injure the trees are allowed to make use of the department's service.

Your Coal Supply

The interruptions in the production of Coal has created a critical shortage in the supply.

Restrictions have also been put on deliveries which is testing our delivery service, we suggest the following when you order coal:

Place your order at least four days in advance and in case your favorite size is short, accept the available sizes suited for your requirements.

At times our delivery may be very short of your order, but we have very strict instructions for the equitable distribution of our available supply.

Consumers must make signed statements with their orders, if you have not made yours, please do so at once.

All Orders are subject to the Prices at the time of delivery.

How to get a good glass of Beer!

Good beer is good for thought. You pick up a glass . . . take a deep draft. Maybe you stare at the wisps of foam on the glass before you put it back on the table.

Then you twirl it around and around in your hand. You start to think.

Here, your whole being says is contentment.

That's always been the way with good beer. And it's the way with Arrow Beer today.

In spite of wartime restrictions, Arrow is STILL making a good beer. And we're proud of that.

Anyone can make a good beer in normal times. The big job today is to make a good beer in these abnormal times. The bigger job to avoid the short cuts.

Taste a glass of Arrow. Note how the same tangy, different flavor so characteristic of this good beer is STILL present. It's the definitely different taste that so many people like so much.

We'll keep it that way as long as we make Arrow.

No wonder
