AN OLD PROPHECY

Jefferson Avenue, Oct 19.

Mrs. W. G. Eaton obtained the following from her cousin, Mrs. Willie Newnam, who resides in Charlotte, it being sent to her from her son who is in the U. S. Service somewhere in France. It is an interesting prophecy found among the ruins of an old wall in the monastery at Vismar by Sergeant Meath, of Middletown, who in looking over the ruins found the parchment, which was written over two hundred years ago:

"Europe willsome day when the seat of the Pope is vacant meet with a fearful punishment. Seven nations will turn themselves against a bird with two heads. The bird will defend itself with wings and a monarch who mounts his horse from the wrong side shall be surrounded with foes from all sides. It will be a long struggle between east and west, and many lives will be lost. War chariots shall roll forward without horses and dragons will fly through the air and spread fire and sulphur and destroy towns and cities. Mankind will not listen to forewarnings of God and he shall turn away from them. The war will last four years and three months. Starvation and disease will follow; bread will be controlled and distributed amongst the poor. Men will be lurking at the bottom of the sea for their prey. The war will start when the corn is ripening in the fields and will reach the maximum pitch when the cherry trees are blooming for the third time. Peace will be obtained about Christmas."

OH looket here! My, wasn't Santa good!
He gave me all the presents that he could.
That's 'cause I always kept so neat and clean—
On Sundays dresst just like a fairy Queen.

I minded darling Muzzer ev'ry day;
Was careful of my dresses when at play,
And held my Gran'ma's yarn when she did knit,
For that's the way I did my little bit.

And when my Dad came home from work each night
I tried to please him with my tiny might;
Always brought his pipe and paper, too,
So he could smoke and read it thru and thru.

Dear Santa Claus, in Toyland, heard 'bout me,
'Cause my Muzzer said he said, said he,
"I'll just give that sweet and 'bedient chile
The very things she's wanted all the while."

So see this pretty, sparkling Christmas Tree
And the toys and things he gave to me;
When you're good like me and try to please
Santa Claus will give you toys like these.

DEMOCRACY AND AUTOCRACY

By ALTON JEROME

The Government of the United States of America is the greatest of its kind. Its flag makes the enemy tremble. It has crushed autocracy and made the world safe for democracy.

Will any body deny that the government at Washington, as regards to its people, is the strongest government of the world at this critical hour. The brutely Hun is now begging Uncle Sam for food. The people of the world look upon Generals Pershing, Petain, Allenby, Marshals Foch, Joffre, Haig as the men of the day. They have brought more men into the field, they have built more ships for their navy, they have shown greater resources than any country in Europe is capable of.

We are ruled by a president it is true, chosen not from some worn out royal or noble blood, but from the people, and the one whose truthfulness and spotless honor have claimed him universal praise.

Notwithstanding this terrific struggle their agriculture, their manufactures and commerce proceed with an uninterrupted success.

The President thanks those who have stood by him in the present war like Ex-President Roosevelt has-stood by him collectively and individually. On one of the two great seals of the United States is a pyramid which is represented partly finished. It stands for our country the American republic which now has forty-eight states, and it stretches clear across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. That pyramid shows how much is done and how much remains to be done. The men whose lives we have read in history were all builders. By patient labor and determined labor they added stone to stone, so the good work grew, now they are gone; ond it is for us to do our part and make sure that the pyramid as it rises, shall continue to stand square and strong and true.

And now this mortal strife is over and peace is restored, when the union is cemented afresh, then Europe and Germany may learn that instructed Democracy is the surest foundation of government and that education and freedom are the only sources of true greatness and true happiness among people.

HELP! HELP! HELP!

It is a campaign for membership, not of money, the chief aim to enroll one dollar annual memberships.

Christmas time has again been selected for the great American Red Cross Membership Drive. It is the bringing together the spirit of the Red Cross and the spirit of Christmas both typical of mercy, sacrifice and cheer.

HOLIDAY SEASON IN ITALY

Dr. Grenfell of Labrador Fame Explains Christmas Observances in the Sunny Land.

Travelers visiting Rome while it was still the center of a land of peace, found Christmas there a day of joyousness; and the merry bells of many churches, ushering in the day, spoke the familiar language of home.

Just before the war, Dr. Grenfell, of Labrador fame, indulged in the unusual luxury of a brief holiday in Europe, after years of tireless service among the fishermen. His journey brought him and Mrs. Grenfell to Rome just as the many religious and civil observances of the Christmas season were about to take place. A great contrast these scenes were to the Christmases of icebound Labrador.

The decorations, the greetings, and the crowds flocking in and out of churches, emphasized the spirit of the season. "All the places of worship into which we peeped," he says, "were ablaze with lights, while processions of priests in glittering robes, with sonorous choruses and ascending incense, appealed to the various senses."

At one church they viewed the five boards believed to have formed a part of the cradle of our Lord.

The American Episcopal Church of St. Paul, where they worshiped on Christmas morning, was crowded with the Protestant population of the Holy City. A feature of the service was the dedicating of a beautiful new mosaic, covering one entire wall of the church and representing the nativity of Christ.

Of the Coliseum, says Dr. Grenfell, "we could think of no place better to suggest to our minds the communion of the saints; and as we walked round the tiers of seats we could see again the 'men of like passions with ourselves,' giving their lives for the same Master we claim to serve."

When darkness had fellen the travellers were attracted by numbers of bright lights over by the Porta San Giovanni. These proved to announce "all the fun of a fair"—there in Italy just as one finds them in this country at a "county fair."
