DANIEL FLEMING

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—Daniel Fleming, 70, died at his home on Frederick-st., November 25, at his home on Bethel Street.

RAUBSVILLE, Pa.— No racial distinction marked last week's celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford, the only colored family in the community, who have been local residents for the past forty-three years.

Of the 125 guests who attended the reception, 102 were white persons, some coming from Jersey City, Camden, Phillipsburg, New York, Easton, Allentown, Pittsburgh, and New York Square.

Mrs. Ford, who is 77, was dressed in a soft white crepe gown and white shoes for the occasion. Mr. Ford, 75, was attired in a blue serge suit. The home was decorated with gold streamers of crepe paper and bouquets of dahlias and roses. The table was arranged with a large center piece of fall fruits.

Brother Prepares Menu

The menu for the reception was prepared by Edgar Ford, a brother of the honored husband, who is also a caterer at Media, Pa.

Congratulations were given the elderly couple by the Rev. Mr. Roselle, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church, Easton; the Rev. Mr. Wallie, pastor of the Bethel AME Church, Easton; the Rev. Mr. Smith, evangelist, and the Rev. Kenneth Kressler, for whom Mr. Ford had worked for more than eighteen years. A memorial service led by the Rev. Mr. Wallie enlivened the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford are the only colored members of the Methodist Episcopal church here. Mrs. Ford teaches the Mary's Bible Class and Mrs. Ford teaches a Sunday School class, all white.

Family members three living children, two of whom are ministers, The Rev. Charles Ford is pastor of the AME Church in Sheepshead Bay, N.Y., and the Rev. Adolphus S. Ford is the president of Wilberforce Memorial Seminary, Pittsburgh. Clarence Ford, the third son, is employed by the city of Easton and is well known in political circles.

Mr. Ford was born in Media in 1859, a son of Thomas and Sarah Ford. He first worked on a farm for Judge Reese and was later employed by Dr. John Eckfield. In 1880, he went to Philadelphia as a hotel waiter. There he met and married Miss Lillie Smith of Camden in 1884.

The couple moved to Raubsville in 1891. Mr. Ford worked at the local paper mill for twenty years, but when it changed hands he found employment with the Warren Sand and Gravel Company, Phillipsburg, N.Y. He remained with the latter company for more than 18 years.

His employment ceased about five years ago when he received severe fractured bones as a result of a 1800-foot fall from a cliff. His recovery was not expected, but Mr. Ford miraculously overcame his injuries. He now gets around without the use of a cane, often doing chores about the house and tending his flowers. Ford is quite hardy and steps about his home as if she were many years younger.

Capps-Gray Nuptials Are Celebrated in Lynchburg

LYNCHBURG, Va.—The wedding of Miss Mildred Darius Capps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry H. Capps, of Lynchburg, Va., to Robert L. Gray, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred C. Gray of Ballsville, Va., took place at 8 o'clock last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ella Jackson.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. F. Elliott, pastor of Second Street Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Fred G. Gray, brother of the groom.

The home of Mrs. Dearing was decorated with chrysanthemums, ferns and palms, and illuminated with cathedral candles.

At 8 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Ola Davis, pianist, a courtesy extended the bride and groom by this station, the bride met the groom at the foot of the stairway. She was attired in a turquoise satin gown with train and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, showered with maize ribbon.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception followed, carrying out the color scheme of the wedding with a fancy ice course and individual cakes, during which time the guests had an opportunity to admire the splendid array of presents received by the newlyweds.

The out-of-town guests included:

The Rev. Fred G. Gray, Lucius Gray and Misses Rozena and Mamie Gray, of Ballsville, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Thompson and son, Mrs. Sterling Johnson, Mrs. McDowell and Clyde Turner, of Roanoke.

Mr. Gray is a graduate of the Virginia Theological Seminary and College of Lynchburg, Va., and is at present a student in the school of theology at Union University.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray will make their home at 1513 Floyd Street, here.

IN MEMORIAM

HESTER—Loving remembrance of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away December 7, 1924.
Gone but not forgotten.
By her daughter and granddaughter, MABEL and PAULINE GIPSON.

STRICKLIN—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, JOHN T. STRICKLIN, who died December 8, 1924.
Sleep on, dear father, it has been eleven long years
Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears
You know how we loved you and yes love you yet
Though God took you from us we cannot forget.
By his loving daughter,
MRS. JULIA MARSHALL.

DIGGS—In remembrance of our dear mother and grandmother, IDA E. DIGGS, who passed away seven years ago, December 8, 1934.
Oh, how we miss her cheery smiles of sunshine
How we miss her helping hands
God took her away from this world of trouble
To give her rest in a better land.
Think of her still as the same, I pray
She is not dead—she is just away.
By her daughter and son, ADELE CARR, BESSIE McAVOY and GRANDCHILDREN.

Cards of Thanks
