Movies

For Monday and Tuesday evenings "365 Nights in Hollywood" is the screen attraction scheduled for a showing at the New Lyceum Theatre With James Dunn and Alice Faye in the leading roles. This film is an uproarious yarn of a couple of Hollywood upstarts with its plot taken from the pages of a columnist who has spent many years in the capital of filmdom.

The story is that of a youthful but famous director who has slipped. He meets a young hopeful and, with the help of two ice-men, struggles to put her at the top of the movie pack. Unusual adventures amid the glamorous spots of Hollywood, hilarious laughter provoked by the antics of Mitchell and Durant, and gay songs will give you an evening of pleasure if you see "365 Nights In Hollywood."

"The Gay Divorcee," that sensational stage hit of two continents, has been projected on the screen and it comes to the New Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings as the featured attraction. With Fred Astaire, the whirling, laughable dance star, and Ginger Rogers, graceful and lovable, the film version of this gay and giddy play leaves nothing to be desired in the way of entertainment. There's comedy, gay music, lavish scenes and romance; while the incomparable dancing of Astaire is brought brilliantly before your eyes in a series of close-up shots.

Then, too, the cast boasts of such laughable souls as Edward Everett Horton and Alice Brady, who add much to the fun.

All in all, "The Gay Divorce" is one of the most pleasing screen treats that it has been this chronicler's pleasure to view. For us, if there's an abundance of good music, laughter and dancing, with a sightly line of girls thrown in for good measure, nothing else could be desired for a pleasant evening.

For Friday and Saturday evenings another of the popular double feature bills has been booked for the New Lyceum Theatre. Richard Cromwell appears in "Among the Missing," a thrilling mystery yarn, a detective story that will hold your interest; and Tim McCoy, the old colonel himself, appears in "Prescott Kid."

Interesting short subjects, such as cartoons, comedies and the like, are listed for a showing each evening along with the above feature attractions.

To Reorganize Auto Firm Soon

ADDITIONAL FUNDS WILL PUT COMPANY ON FEET

Provision of approximately $5-500,000 new cash for a reorganized Studebaker corporation is projected in a plan for reorganization of the company soon to be presented to the United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana, Harold Hirsch, chairman of the reorganization committee stated this week. The plan will provide for the elimination as such of the corporation's present funded and other debt amounting, with accrued interest, to more than $23,000,000. The plan further contemplates, through an exchange into common stock of a new corporation, the retirement of the existing preferred stock amounting to $5 808,00 par value. After consummation of the plan the aggregate of securities senior to the common stock of the new company will amount to $6,867,698 in the form of new debentures to be created under the plan, as compared with a total debt and preferred stock of over $28,000,000 of the present company.

Lehman Brothers, Field Glore & Co., Hayden Stone & Co., Goldman Sachs & Co. and associates are underwriting the new cash requirements of the plan, which is proposed to terminate the receivership under which the company has been operating since March 1933.

The basis for exchange of existing securities and claims for the new securities is understood to be as follows:

Holders of Studebaker preferred stock will get 1¼ shares of the common stock of the new corporation for each share of old preferred stock, and in addition will be given the right to subscribe in respect of each share of old preferred for a combination consisting of $15 of debentures and 2 2-9 shares of the new common stock upon the payment of $15 in cash.

Holders of present Studebaker common will be entitled to subscribe in respect of each share of old common for a unit consisting of $2.25 of debentures and one-third of a share of new common on the basis of the pro forma balance sheet set forth in the plan, will be over $9 per share.

The plan involves complete separation of The White Motor Company, 95.11 per cent of whose common stock was acquired by Studebaker Corporation in 1932. The entire Studebaker holdings of White stock will be distributed to the present Studebaker creditors.

Belief that the new financial backing will permit the 82-year-old Studebaker enterprise to go ahead to permanent stability is based upon its record of operation under the adverse conditions of receivership.
