Baltimore College.
The Rev. WM. SINCLAIR, Vice Principal of Baltimore College, and professor of Logic, Metaphysics and Belles Lettres in that Institution, will deliver a course of Lectures in the Public Hall of the College, upon the following subjects:

Ist PART.
Logic, its origin, History and Progress; the utility of it—the objections against it, stated & answered; the usual divisions given; the advantages of Syllogistic reasoning illustrated; the Analytic and Synthetic method explained.

IId PART.
Metaphysics, the origin of the name; its nature and objects; its use and importance in a Collegiate course; its connection with Theology, and the elucidation of the higher powers of the human mind.

IIId PART.
The rise, history and progress of language and writing; the structure and analysis of sentences; different kinds of style; the distinction between Poetry and Prose; different kinds of poetry. The origin and changes of Dramatic composition, both Comic and Tragic; the constituents of Oratory—Taste, its principles and powers; the methods of improving it; Criticism, in which will be introduced a comparison between some of the most celebrated authors—as Homer and Virgil, Demosthenes and Cicero, Quintilian and Longinus; the whole to conclude with some critical observations upon Aristotle's Poetics and Horace's Art of Poetry, with practical inferences deduced from the course, in which the study of such books will be recommended as may be useful to the students of Philosophy in their respective pursuits in life.

N. B. Young gentlemen will please to observe, that the above Course of Lectures, will be adapted equally to those who have acquired a knowledge of the Classics, and those who have not.

This Collegiate course will commence the 1st Wednesday in February next, at 12 o'clock in the College Hall, at which time, an Introductory Lecture will be given, to which the Trustees of the College are invited, and such ladies and gentlemen as will honor him with their presence upon the occasion.

P. S. Tickets for the above Lectures to be had at the Bookstore of E. J. Coale, William Warner, and at the American office and at Baltimore College.

To Brass Founders, &c.
The subscriber in the year 1811, invented a Furnace for Casting Brass or other metals, for which he has obtained the Patent Right. As much inconvenience and loss arises in casting with Crucibles, and as they are at present difficult to be had, by using this Furnace, three times the weight of metal may be cast in a day, with the same number of hands, and half the quantity of fuel, with the advantage of saving the expense of crucibles and the frequent loss of metal. The Furnace is very simple in its construction, and may be erected at a very moderate expence: those persons who may wish to make use of it, may have the privelege of a patent right, on advantageous terms, by applying to
JOSEPH SHARE, Brass Founder,
Fell's Point, Baltimore.
