HER MOTHER'S PRIVATE SECRETARY

dictated a letter to me—for him. At first I thought it was her droll way of doing things, giving us a lovely surprise as she does sometimes. Then—"

Elizabeth had arisen again. She was looking down with frightened wide-open eyes at her niece.

"Who is he?" she asked in a whisper.

Miriam put her hand to her throat. She drew a out a slender chain and slipped from it a gold locket. She opened it and handed it to Elizabeth.

"Robin!" cried the girl in a choking voice. Then she sank back in the chair and covered her face with her hands. The locket tinkled to the floor. Miriam stooped and picked it up, then she tossed it into a little cave of red embers. Around it the blue and green flames of driftwood leaped gleefully.

Last June I was a guest at a beautiful church wedding. I arrived early. There was a long wait in the flower adorned church. I could not help hearing a conversation close to my ear.

"Miriam ought to be one of the most beautiful brides who ever entered this church," said one woman.

"And one of the happiest. Still, I never fancied she would marry Arthur Rutledge. He simply waited devotedly determined she would marry him."

"She loves him today, I believe, as he does her. She will make a remarkably good wife, her mother has given her such a splendid training She ought to be a power socially in Albany, where Arthur goes to the Senate this winter. There is nothing in the way of home affairs that Miriam is not familiar w[illegible]

"That's true. What a different fortune Miriam has from her pretty little aunt, Mrs. Hawley. You never knew her, did you?"

"No."

„She was a little beauty, and had a magificent voice which she had cultivated in Paris, and her grandmother left her a fortune. Mr. Hawley—The New York man she married—spent her money and then treated her badly. She left him and went on the concert stage. Last winter her singing created quite a sensation in the West. She is—"

"Sh-h-h! the bridal party is coming!"—Good Housekeeping.

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered." For liver, kidney, stomach and bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by R. J. Colston, druggist.

Reliance the Best Boat.

That she has no equal in American waters in a smooth sea a light wind, Reliance demonstrated again on Thursday last by another victory over both Constitution and Columbia; but the new craft has yet to demonstrate her superiority in rough water and strong winds.

After a sharp brush, which continued for nearly an hour, Reliance got the lead over Constitution and held it to the finish, defeating her by 5 minutes 52 seconds. Columbia lost 5 minutes by a shift of wind, which placed her to leeward of the others. Reliance beat her by 12 minutes, 54 seconds. The race was sailed over the America's cup course, 15 miles from Sandy Hook to windward and return, 30 miles around.

I have had occasion to use your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all owners of stock.
J. B. BELSHER, St. Louis, Mo

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cured by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it be possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stirs up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.
