CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.

I am foolishly weak. I can scarcely see. Let me look at you, lest I should swoon before I go. You will take care of him now, doctor, won't you? But let me say good-bye."

The doctor, mechanically, scarcely knowing what he did, carried her to the bed.

"Good-bye, good-bye," she said, bending over him, her warm tears falling on his pale, sunken face, her hot, trembling hands clasping themselves together.

But suddenly two other hot, trembling hands seized her's in a feeble grasp—the hollow, sunken eyes of the student fasten themselves upon Miss Turpin't face with a very hungry tenderness.

"Oh, no," he said, "you cannot go from here, not for the world; you see the good doctor has said it will not do to have a strange face at my bedside. Your's is the dearest to me in the world, I love you, Miss Turpin. It is, perhaps, a sad fate I offer you; but, oh be still more generous—be my wife. I have, dear little Miss Turpin—oh! I have loved you long!"

He didn't say how long; he was too weak to talk. H didn't tell her that perhaps his love dated only a little half-hour back, when he listened to that wondrously touching little story of her's.

Whatever it was, Cupid knew he was strong as life and deep as the sea, however and whenever it is born? Good Dr. Haversham took care of their future. It began in a neat, snug little house with a big brass sign upon the door, to which the wortny surgeon drew attention enough to set the pot to boiling.

And now in her stylish brougham, with a liveried lackey at her command, with rustling silks and dainty laces, with her wildest fancies more than realized, who could find fault with the fate of little Miss Turpin?

Scribner's Artists for 1881.

The following is a list of some of the modern artists whose work may be expected to appear in Scriber's Monthly during the coming Magazine year. The list will be found to include a large proportion of the principal living artists in America, England, France and Holland, with examples also of current Russian, Hungarian, Spanish and Italian art. We venture to say that no such array of artistic talent has ever before been presented to the readers of a popular illustrated magazine for a single year. The names are included of sculptors whose work will be engraved.

The American Farmer.

The November number of this old and justly popular farm journal contains a compact and well arranged collection of useful and interesting reading matter for the farmer and his household, all the articles being from acknowledged competent and successful men and women. No department of farm work is neglected.—Live Stock, the Dairy, Fertilizers, Composts and Manures, the Orchard, Fruit and Vegetable Gardens, the Poultry Yard, &c., all being treated by skilled hands. There is also a Home Department for the ladies, which will be read with interest. None of our farmers but would be benefitted by subscribing for the FARMER, which is published by Sam'l Sands & Son, Baltimore, at $1.50 a year, or at $1 each to clubs of five or more; and to every new subscriber the last three numbers for 1880 will be sent free.

The attention of tax-payers is especially called to the provision of the new Code of Public General Laws, which says, emphatically, that the collector shall collect and pay over the taxes within six months after receiving the books, and in the event of his failure to do so, he shall be liable to prosecution and severe punishment.

This means that the collector, having received the tax books on the 3d of August, 1880, is obliged by law, by his oath of office and by his bond he has given for the faithful performance of his duty according to law, "to collect and pay over the taxes within six months," that is by the third day of February, 1881.

The collector has no discretion in the matter. Having accepted the office, he is bound to execute its duties in accordance with law, and he will therefore be obliged to collect by the summary process of distress or execution of all taxes that are unpaid on the third day of February, 1881, and notice is hereby given that all tax bills for 1880 is placed on the third day of February, 1881, will be collected at once by legal process.

I have been using John Lucas & Co.'s Celebrated Enameled Ready-Mixed Paint, very extensively for the last two years and have tested it very thoroughly, and after using from eight hundred to one thousand gallons in 1879 alone, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the best paint in the market. The following qualities make it superior to any paint ever used:

1st. It has no water in it, and can therefore be used in the coldest as well as the warmest weather.

2d. Two coats of this paint will give as much satisfaction as most other paints with three coats.

3d. One of its most desirable qualities is its uniform thickness; it is not so thin in warm weather as to be fit only for priming, nor so thick in cold weather as to not spread easily and evenly.

I have the exclusive sale of it in this county.

I have obtained the signatures of the following persons upon whose houses I have used this paint during the years 1877-78-79 (all of these houses were new, and most of them finished with only two coats) and they recommend it as entirely satisfactory in solidity, brightness and durability:
