HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer."—Postmaster General Hubert Work.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Twice two are four this year. Next year twice two may be five—not likely, or course, but maybe. Twice two will be five as soon as the people say so. If everybody agrees then that settles it. We put men to death and praise ourselves for doing it because everybody agrees. We frame up laws that spell the gathering of great wealth because everybody agrees. Then we take the wealth away from the men who have done what we said they might do, and we tax the eternal lights out of them, because everybody agrees. Come to think of it, the people who go into the game of inducing people to think their way will have some accounts to settle when the time comes if they are not on the level. Maybe if each of us was honest with himself everybody would agree to do the thing that is right, and then we would have justice.
