"Here's The Second Prize Winner"

Centreville, Md., May 27, 1935 McCord Laundry, Inc., Easton, Md. Gentlemen: I am glad to have this opportunity to pass on to the officials some of the remarks I have made to our Routeman, with, perhaps, some benefit to you and possibly some gain for myself. Several reasons why I like McCord Laundry follow: (a) The routeman was honest in his explanations of their services. (b) The advantages of having clothes washed in large, bright rooms over the old and often dirty rooms of the colored folk, where often several children running around, often ill. (c) The clothes are whiter and sweeter, due to the several washings and rinses given. (d) Several finishes from which to choose without obligation to continue that particular service. (e) One may choose from many days given to have Laundry done - permitting one to make plans accordingly. (f) The care of colored clothes and hosiery has decided for me that I need not keep a small wash at home. (g) The damp wash is returned dry enough to iron immediately if necessary. (h) I have never had a garment torn. (i) Weather conditions do not enter into the "McCord Way", permitting one to plan their weeks work and leisure hours. (j) Your manner of reimbursing for lost articles is most satisfactory. In addition to these reasons, I will add, that the pleasure of using the McCord Laundry has been made further agreeable by the pleasant and business like manner of our Routeman. I have tried other laundries but they do not compare in more than three of these reasons with the McCord Laundry. Trusting, I may hear some favorable report from the contest, I am, Yours respectfully, (Mrs.) J. Elmer Anthony.
