Talkie Talk

By CHUCK COCHARD

"Gold Diggers of 1937", fifth in the series of "Gold Diggers" musicals, will be made by Warners soon, with Dick Powell in the male lead.

—o—

Sylvia Sidney and Spencer Tracy are to be united into a new co-starring team in the story "Mob Rule" which is a story of national law enforcement and a stinging indictment against lawless fanaticism.

—o—

Chester Morris and Madge Evans have been teamed in a story fit for their personalities entitled "Moonlight Murder", new and unusual mystery story which has the famous Hollywood Bowl as its locale. Other players in the opus will be Leo Carrillo and H. B. Warner. Yes, you guessed it! The story concerns a tenor murdered while singing a concert at night in the Bowl.

—o—

Was Mary Pickford's face white the other day when she tried every-which-way, and failed, to be part of the Mayfair Club Ball, highest social function of the film colony. It was a matter of neglecting to pay her dues. She would have been more than glad, she said at the entrance door, to fill out a check. But the attendant declined it. The annual fee is $10.

—o—

Buster Keaton, funny man of the pictures who was reported a few months ago to be through with the movies forever owing to a serious illness, surprised all Hollywood when he showed up at the Mayfair Ball, all well!

—o—

Greta Garbo, although famed as the world's champion camera-dodger, has actually posed for 3000 portraits!

—o—

THROUGH A KEYHOLE: John Carroll and his No. 1 attraction, Steffi Duna, having a late Sunday breakfast at Levy's Tavern . . . Katherine Hepburn back in town . . . Jane Hamilton and Howard Hughes making the rounds of the brightly-lighted spots . . . Marlene Dietrich is still sad about John Gilbert . . . Ida Lupino and Johnny Gates tennising at Charlie Farrell's Racquet Club.

—o—

Bob Burns, the funny man of the Bing Crosby radio program will appear with the singer in his next picture "Rhythm on the Range." Burns will play his original instrument the "Bazooka."

—o—

Paul Muni will go from his Chinese characterization in 'The Good Earth" into that of an English pioneer in the development of the South African diamond mines in "The Man From Kimberley".

—o—

Six months ago Michael Whalen was virtually starving. Now he is to play a well-fed millionaire, the father of Shirley Temple in the lassie's next starring vehicle, "The Poor Little Rich Girl".

—o—

"Under Two Flags" has a cast of 40 outstanding speaking parts in support of Ronald Coleman, Claudette Colbert, Victor McLaglen and Rosalind Russell.

—o—

On the M-G-M lot, Jeanette MacDonald is wearing a new and unique bracelet which is a chain of little gold tags linked together. On each tag is the name of some theatre or restaurant, with a date. And she will not tell who gave it to her. You can bet there's plenty of gossip behind this.

—o—

Paramount's Eleanore Whitney, new dance sensation is bouncing around wearing more fresh orchids—a daily occurrence. From whom, she says nothing.

—o—

Jeanette MacDonald was born and reared in Philadelphia . . . studied first to be a dancer . . . once considered teaching school . . . first Broadway part was in "Irene" . . . had one lean period during which she posed for commerical photographers . . . first prima donna role was in "Sunny Days" . . . first picture was "The Love Parade". "Rose Marie" is her thirteenth . . . her lucky number?

—o—

A composite picture of the most perfect girl in the world would include Ginger Roger's figure, Barbara Stanwyck's hair, Marion Davies' eyes, Irene Dunne's nose, Mryna Loy's mouth, Katharine Hepburn's teeth, Jeannette MacDonald's voice, Anne Shirley's hands and Marion Nixon's feet and ankles according to Ernest Bachrach, head of the still department of RKO Radio studios.

—o—

Dic k Powell and Joan Blondell, whose romance is causing Hollywood to speculate if they will be married in the immediate future are going to play lovers in the forthcoming musical "Stage Struck".

—o—

Fred Astaire has started rehearsals for the new dance routines for "Never Gonna Dance" his next starring opus with Ginger Rogers. The nimble footed Astaire, considered by many critics the hardest worker in motion pictures, has laid out a program calling for six hours of dance rehearsals per day and 36 hours per week. He expects to spend more than 300 hours of rehearsing his new steps before trying them out before the cameras.

Summer Satin

First of the summer satins in a cool "ice-blue" shade for evening wear is shown here by Joan Blaine, CBS actress who designs all her own clothes. The platnum clips are hand-wrought and were made especially for Joan in France. Miss Blaine is heard in the name of "The Story of Mary Marlin," Mondays through Fridays, 12:30 to 12:45 P. M., EST, over the WABC-Columbia network.

RICH NECK

Mrs. C. C. Meredith accompanied by her sister, Mrs. George W. Dickerson, of near Centreville, and Mr. Erdman Walls, of Chestertown, visited Mr. Howard Walls, last Monday at the Mercy Hospital, Baltimore. Mr. Walls has been a patient at the Hospital for the past seven weeks and is seriously ill.
