Franklin Platt, a former resident of Chestertown, but recently of 703 Delaware Ayenue, Wilmington, was killed by a trolley car on the Newport line Saturday evening. The accident occurred at the foot of Richardson's Hill, a short distance outside the city. Mr. Platt was walking toward the city, the car running in the same direction. Owing to deafness he did not hear the car and when it was a few feet from him he stepped from the path directly in front of the car to avoid some mud, and was struck and badly mangled by the wheels passing over him, resulting in almost instant death.
