Ink Spots, Sepia Charlie McCarthy Play the Royal

The management of the Royal Theatre, knowing that swing is in the air and swing is everywhere and that the world is swing conscious offers, beginning today (Friday) on the stage, the greatest swingsters of them all. The Four Ink Spots, surrounded by a stupendous stage show including John Holmes the sepia Charlie McCarthy, also Dusty Fletcher, Sandy Burns, George Wiltshire, and many others.

Ink Spots

Your swing appetites will be appeased by the Four Ink Spots, Ivory Watson, Orville Jones, Bill Kenney, and Charles Fuquia.

These sultans of Hi-De-Ho are well known to radio listeners throughout the country, for they have been featured on outstanding programs of the NBC networks for many years and this will be their first personal appearance in Baltimore.

Other added attractions at the Royal is the giving of ten free gifts direct from the stage every Wednesday at nine p.m. with fun for the patrons and cash prizes to the contestants. If you have talent, leave your name with the manager.

Coming to the Royal Theatre for the week beginning February 18 is Broadway's favorite songbird in person, Ethel Waters, and her own revue with Eddie Mallory and his orchestra, plus Butterbeans and Susie, Sunshine Sammy, and Lydia Webb's sweet sixteens.

NIGHT LIFE IN THE CLUBS

By Knight Klubber

Last week-end found capacity crowds thrilling to the swing of the Thornton Brothers' ork at Jimmie's PLANTATION. This combination, although recently organized, has everything. The Herman Higgs's revues are very enjoyable, with the robust crooning 200-pound tapper em ceeing. He is capably assisted by the torrid Helen Lynn; the unique Daisy Navarro; Kelley and Snooks, clever dance duo, and Vi Gardner and her dancing damsels.

• • •

George Perry, sepia Bing Crosby, is knocking them cold at the Club ASTORIA with his boo-hooing and as em cee unique. Marjorie Zeppe has been held over because of her sensational debut and continued popularity.

Wilton Crawley, trick clarinetist and juggler and a red hot hoofer backed by the Irving Hughes swingers, round out a much, too much revue.

• • •

LITTLE WILLIE'S INN continues to offer the music of Banjo Denny's versatile trio. Denny strums a duo of guitars and toots trumpet; Buddy Miller rates high in the art of ivory tickling and Jimmy Jenkins, drummer, capably renders song ala sentimental.

• • •

One of these days Little Bee Bee is going to decide to become a full fledged entertainer. Her singing has won her thousands of admirers and fans.

Patrons of the BIRD'S NEST find in her something different from the average vocalist. A bingo party on Wednesday night was the main feature of last week, not to forget the regular Thursday bank nite.

• • •

VILMA TAVERN fans can always boast of being first to sip the appropriate seasonable drink. The boys here are always on their toes. Gordon (Smiley) Johnson is noted as one of the Stroll's swellegant beau brummels among the floor managers.

• • •

Attorney Bill Gounell presided at the meeting of the A.C.T.O. on Tuesday night, at which time a resolution was passed to petition a brewery and liquor distributor to employ a full-time colored salesman. Nite Life bemoans the passing of the Comedy Club. Turk Stevens presented his new 10-piece combo at the Strand Wednesday night. Boys are members of Local 543.

• • •

James Lipscomb, mixologist; Lawyer Pleasant, chef; Harriett Conway, waitress, and Wes Gore, proprietor are all pulling together to get the high standards of the OLD LELAND CAFE just where they should be.

• • •

Geneva Howard is rocking it for you every Sunday afternoon at PAUL'S CAFE in South Baltimore. The tid-bit of rhythm is co-featured with Naomi's Aces, matinee idols and Babe Mander of Ferrare's.

• • •

The BIG APPLE continues to hold its own in serving fine drinks and foods. Those two charming and courteous bits of servitude, Ruth and Virginia, blend their smiles with that of your charming hostess, Mrs. Carrie Gibbs.

The bed has become a place of luxury to me! I would not exchange it for all the thrones in the world.—Napoleon I.

Boris Karloff Heads Cast in Lincoln Film

Boris Karloff comes to the DeLuxe Lincoln Theatre Sunday and Monday as the mighty General Wu Yen Fang in "West of Shanghai," with Beverly Roberts and Ricardo Cortez heading the supporting case.

The picture is thrilling from start to finish and tells of people fighting and dying over the rights to China's oil lands, with Chinese pitted against white men, white men against white men, and a girl against a man.

For Friday and Saturday the picture will be "Topper" starring Constance Bennett and Cary Grant. The picture tells what happens when a man and his wife, who have been gay comrades on earth, die suddenly.

The picture is a riot of laughs from start to finish, but it must be seen. For it has some tricks about it that have been seen in no other picture, and some that you would not believe if you did not see them yourself.

Dance Creator

MILDRED DAVENPORT, of Boston, creator of religious dances, as she appeared in the opening scene of the Prodigal Daughter, in her recent "Classics of 1938," at John Hancock Hall.

Southernaires to Honor Rosenwald

NEW YORK—The Southernaires, famous radio quartet, will dedicate their program on Sunday, "Julius Rosenwald Day," to the noted Jewish philanthropist, who died recently after a long illness.

"High, Wide, Handsome," at Lafayette

The Lafayette Theatre will have as a feature Tuesday and Wednesday, "High, Wide and Handsome," undoubtedly one of the best pictures of the year.

The picture features Irene Dunne and Randolph Scott, and in the strong supporting cast are Dorothy LaMour (the Jungle Princess), Akim Tamiroff, famous for "The General Died at Dawn," and Raymond Walburn.

The picture, which deals with the love of a carnival singing and dancing star, for an oil man, abounds in laughs, music, and interest. It mustn't be missed.

For Thursday and Friday the picture will be "The Lady Fights Back," with Kent Taylor, Irene Hervey, and Willie Best, who is another Stepin Fetchit, in the cast.

The picture tells a thrilling story of love in the Notth Country.

AT THE ROYAL, BEGINNING FRIDAY

THE FOUR INK SPOTS, who will make their first Baltimore appearance, will come to the Royal Theatre for one week, beginnng today (Friday). Above are seen: Orville Jones, Ivory Watson, Charles Fuqua, and Signois Kenny. They will be surrounded by a stupendous stage show, featuring John Holmes, the sepia Charley McCarthy.

Robert Taylor, Miss Powell at Roosevelt

A great picture "The Broadway Melody of 1938," will be the feature at the Roosevelt Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, bringing with it Robert Taylor, Eleanor Powell, tap ace, Judy Garland, singing star, Sophie Tucker, Buddy Ebsen and George Murphy.

The picture is one that must really be seen to be appreciated. Beautiful girls, new songs, and wonderful scenery, make this picture a hit.

For Friday and Saturday, the Roosevelt will offer what has been called the finest colored picture ever made, "Bargain with Bullets," starring Ralph Cooper.

Beautiful colored girls, the lovely homes of Harlem, and superb acting by Ralph Cooper are all combined in this picture.

The picture shows what happens when the criminal element and the police meet, but in the end, everything comes out all right.

Nicodemus Goes to Manager Joe Glaser

HOLLYWOOD — Nicodemus, the lazy-bone comedian heard with Eddie Cantor for the past few Sundays, has been signed by Joe Glaser, who will represent him for radio, stage and motion picture assignments.

Nicodemus has been featured with Cab Calloway revues in the past, and Mr. Glaser said this week that he may be featured soon in the new Louis Armstrong revue now slated for the Paramount Theatres in the East, as soon as Louis finishes his present engagement at the Grand Terrace Cafe in Chicago.

Film Folk Join in Sinema League

HOLLYWOOD — The Sinema League of Colored Peoples, was organized here last week for the purpose of raising the status of colored players in film.

The group will invite and encourage people from other world centers to join, it was stated. The officers include Earl Dancer, Fay M. Jackson, T. L. Griffith of the N.A.A.C.P.; Paul Williams, architect; John Gray, the Rev. S. M. Beane, and Mrs. C. A. Bass.

LIBERIAN QUINTET ON AMATEUR PROGRAM

One of Liberia's most noted families was represented on Major Bowes's Original Amateur Hour, Thursday, when Mrs. Victoria Schaack of Monrovia, Liberia, West Africa, brought a male quintet (above) to the microphone. Mrs. Schaack told Major Bowes that her father was the late supreme court justice of the republic and the State's representative to the League of Nations. Her grandfather was the first native born president. She directs the quintet, which includes her husband, in singing and playing primitive African music on primitive instruments—the saesy, the umba and tom toms.

Comedy Club to Close; Ballroom to Open

The Comedy on Pennsylvania Avenue, has ceased to operate as such, and the space which it now occupies will be converted into a hall to be called the Savoy, and which will be rented for dances. Ike DjSon, manager of the Comedy Club, said this week.

The reason for the change, Mr. Dixon said, is that the Comedy Club has lost money heavily over the past two years. Both the cover charge and the no-cover charge methods were used. Mr. Dixon said, but the club did not earn enough for a profit after the entertainers and help had been paid.

The Comedy Grill, located downstairs in the building, will continue to operate on the same basis that it is being operated now, he said. Mr. Dixon will also have charge of the Savoy Ballroom, as the new hall will be called.

Persons renting the hall may select and bring in any orchestra they desire, but the band now playing the Comedy has organized under the name Ike Dixon, and will be available to persons who want their services.

Boris Karloff Featured at the Fremont

For Sunday and Monday, the Fremont Theatre will feature the thrilling "West of Shanghai," with Beverly Roberts, Ricardo Cortez and many others supporting Boris Karloff, who has the role of the mighty General Wu Yen Fang.

Karloff has the role of a Chinese general in this picture, which is packed with thrills, killing and fighting, but which comes out just right in the end.

For Tuesday and Wednesday, the picture will be "London by Night" featuring the dancing George Murphy and Rita Johnson. The story has a kidnaping and is filled with suspense and thrills.

For Thursday, John Blondell and Pat O'Brien play in "Back in Circulation," an interesting story of how a newspaper sob sister solves a murder mystery.

Cary Has Newspaper, Fight Pictures

"That's My Story," a thrill-chasing, front-page riot of scoops and romance, will headline the bill at the Carey Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, with Claudia Morgan, Hobart Cavanaugh, and Ralph Morgan playing the leads.

The breezy careers of crack news reporters, their rivalries in striving to beat each other when a sensational crime story breaks, and the swift humor that is flung back and forth between the fellows who make new words every day, all brighten the Universal romantic comedy drama, "That's My Story."

For Saturday, February 19, the picture will be "The Duke Steps Back," a story of the prize ring, and of the men who make their living with the leather gloves.

Children's Theatre Cast Pleases in "Little Men"

By LILLIAN JOHNSON

BALTIMORE — An audience, composed mainly of children, accorded a fine reception to the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre, in its presentation of "Little Men," at the Dunbar Junior High School here on Friday, under the auspices of the Negro Little Theatre.

And the reception was well deserved, for the play followed very closely the old, old story, which has been a favorite of children for many generations, and the actors were equally as faithful in the interpretations of their roles.

Only one more thing was needed to make a perfect evening. The auditorium should have been crowded, the aisles full of standees. Every child in Baltimore, every teacher, and as many parents as possible should have seen the play.

So seldom does entertainment so high class in tone, and yet so amusing as to entertain children come to Baltimore that no opportunity should be lost to have the younger generation get in some of the finer things, while their minds are yet plastic.

Violinist Outstanding

The outstanding performer was Philip Harmon, who had the role of Nan, the tomboy, who wanted to be "Mrs. Giddygaddy." Nan acted her part with a gusto and with "umph" that looked very real.

Cynthia Claytor gave a finished performance in the role of Mrs. Bhaer, carrying her mannerisms and expressions from one mood to another with a delicateness of sustained music.

Although his role called for adherence to duty, rather than sympathy, Frank Rothe was well received in the part of Professor Bhaer.

Robert Carver made a good Dan, although it appeared at times as if his interpretation of this, but gave a truly fine performance.

A fortunate circumstance was that Mr. Harmon really delicate character that is Nal's, and it was not hard for the audience to accept him as once as the lovable, boy street violinist.

During the course of the play, he gave two violin selections, and he also played in the intermission between the second and third acts, being forced to give an encore.

Nas Very Good

Second honors went to Eliza-
