A Vote for Sisk for Congress September 11th Will Help Save Your Boy From the Bootlegger

To Help You Win

Messages to Seekers of Success

Riches—power—happiness. The average man places these as his goal. He dreams about having them.

But the average man is slow to take a practical step towards that goal. He is content to dream about it—and never gets there.

The most practical start is to start a savings account. Rockefeller had to save his first thousand dollars. It earned the rest of his fortune.

Character Earns Credit

Saving men not only have capital for their efforts. In saving, they establish a reputation which will make it easy to secure additional capital when necessary.

A farmer has frequent need for capital if he is striving continually to improve his property. How important it is then that he build up his credit—establish his character.

The easiest and quickest way is to start a savings account.

Senator Joseph Irwin France's Record as a Constructive Statesman

This outstanding record merits the approval of the voters of the State for his re-election to the United States Senate.

Senator France A National Figure

Almost immediately after he entered the United States Senate, the people of the entire nation began to indicate their strong approval of the broad American statesmanship of Senator France. Today he stands without a peer as an exponent of American interests for Americans in the upper house of Congress.

Senator France Opposed Obnoxious Lever Act

He was one of FIVE Senators who refused to vote for the obnoxious Lever Bill, empowering the government to take wheat from our farmers at its own price and the power arbitrarily to fix profits, wages and conditions for our farmers, mine operators and miners.

Senator France First Favored International Conference

He was for immediate peace at the close of the war, his Resolution, in January, 1919, also providing for an International Economic Conference. This was the first proposal for a world conference upon the floor of the Senate.

Senator France For Medical Care for Soldiers

He first proposed in the Senate adequate hospital facilities for wounded soldiers. This Bill had the endorsement of the Surgeon General and leading Army surgeons. Senator France helped to write the first hospital bill which became a law.

Senator France Secured Great Hospital for Maryland

This Public Health Service Soldiers' Hospital was established as a government plant at Perryville, Md. It has become one of the most important Federal hospitals in the entire country.

Senator France Voted Against Esch-Cummins Law

Feeling that it did not offer a solution of the railway problem and that it would ultimately present a serious situation such as now in fact confronts the country, Senator France opposed this measure.

Senator France Saved Country Nine Hundred Million Dollars

Believing an extra session of Congress necessary for reconstruction legislation and a fair consideration of the appropriation bills, he forced the extra session, which cut Nine Hundred Million Dollars from the Democratic-controlled Congress bills.

Senator France Opposed An Imperial League of Nations

He was unwilling to see Free America enter into an alliance with European empires that would have made our country a party to their endless contentions and strifes. He has always favored a True Association of Peoples.

Senator France An Expert on Export Trade

Realizing that Industry in America could not revive and Europe could not be restored without vigorous exportation of American goods, he has spoken on this subject in all parts of the country before business men and his views have been commended by the conservative press of the nation.

Senator France's Russian Policy

In 1920 he advocated sending an economic commission to Russia to study conditions with a view to restoring business relations. The efforts of President Harding to establish a basis of trade with Russia at this present time is proof of the foresight and practical wisdom of the entire record of Senator France in the matter of trade with Russia.
