Messages to Seekers of Success

Luck and Lack

Don't trust to luck. Luck is untrustworthy. Systematic, scientific striving for any goal is far more likely to bring you success than any mere faith in your success.

Just as changing a single letter changes "Luck" to "Lack," so will the reverses of a single day change plenty to want. But you can insure yourself against this by building your success on the habit of saving.

Save and Win

Be well dressed. Make friends. Increase your influence in your community. Enjoy the respect of all your associates.

These things do not come to those who trust to luck for them. Systematic saving will win them for you. Systematic saving will accumulate for you a small fortune that can safely and readily be expanded to a large one.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

FARM BOYS AND GIRLS VIE IN INTERSTATE EXPOSITION

Farm boys and girls enrolled as club members by extension agents cooperatively employed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural colleges were represented by champion demonstration and judging teams from the 12 central states at the interstate boys' and girls' club exhibit and encampment at Sioux City, Ia., September 18 to 23. Over 3,900 of these teams competed in 1921 for representation at Sioux City, putting on nearly 10,000 public demonstrations of club activities. The total enrollment in the 12 state last year was more than 130,000 club members, whose production was valued at $2,640,000.

The United States Department of Agriculture cooperated this year with the state agricultural colleges and the fair association in the installation of a striking series of 12 booths in the special boys' and girls' club building, exemplifying the leading lines of club work, as follows: Illinois, corn; Iowa, poultry; Kansas, pigs and sorghum; Michigan, handicraft; Minnesota, bread; Missouri, home management; Montana, clothing; Nebraska, radio; North Dakota, potatoes; South Dakota, food; Wisconsin, dairying; Wyoming, canning.

The fact that farm boys and girls are making a substantial contribution to the agriculture and life of their communities is being strongly emphasized throughout the exhibit. In addition to putting on exhibits and demonstrations these young farmers and home makers are receiving practical instruction in better farming and home making and in developing their abilities for leadership.

$350,000 TO BE SAVED ANNUALLY BY MD. FARMERS

With high cost of production and unsatisfactory marketing conditions for most products, the farmers of Maryland, as in other states, are finding farming more or less unprofitable at present. Notwithstanding this fact, swine growers who have followed sound methods of breeding and feeding, and who have been able to keep their herds free from disease have secured highly satisfactory returns from the operation. .

The swine losses in Maryland will run well over $350,000 annually. Not all of this is caused by hog cholera, but the correcting of the major trouble will do much to clear up the others. While these losses are much less than those experienced a few years ago, they are yet far too large and add much to the discouragement of farming.

To correct this condition does not mean the expenditure of large sums of money nor does it demand long and serious conferences. However. it does necessitate, constate care and cooperation with the authorities on the part of those engaged in raising hogs.

Without the germs you cannot have hog cholera. Remember then that Mr. Hog Cholera Germ has neither arms, wings or legs, nor does it own an auto or aeroplane. This being the case, if it reaches your hogs it must be carried to them.

Observe the following advice and help save $350,000 for Maryland farmers.

Do not feed your hogs any product that might contain any bones, rinds or scraps of pork.

Do not permit any hogs to be brought to your place unless you are positive that they come from premises where there is no hog cholera infection.

If your hogs show signs of sickness do not wait. Call your veterinarian at once. If no veterinarian is available notify your county agent or the U. S. specialist in your district.

Promptly burn or bury the carcass of any animal or fowl that dies on your premises.

A man has no more right to say an uncivil thing than to act one; no more right to say a rude thing to another man than to knock him down.

It is a mystery to almost any man of moderate means how he manages to meet his bills.

GARLIC IN WHEAT CAUSES HEAVY LOSS TO FARMER

College Park, Sept. 25.—Maryland farmers are losing many thousands of dollars annually in the form of reduced prices for wheat and unmarketable milk due to the persistent presence of garlic in wheat fields and pastures, according to Dr. H. J. Patterson, director of the University of Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

"That garlic in wheat has resulted in lower prices for the crop has been a well recognized fact for many years" says Dr. Patterson. "It has meant that farmers of the state have received at different periods from 2 to 20 cents per bushel less than the same wheat would have brought on the terminal market if no garlic had been present.

"Following the removal of a guaranteed price for wheat at the close of the war, the difference in price due to the presence of garlic became so extreme that the University of Maryland Experiment Station instituted a survey of the situation. The results of this survey, conducted by J. E. Metzger, clearly indicated that 95 per cent of Maryland grown wheat would be classed as garlicky under United States grading standards. It also brought out the fact that about 75 per cent of the garlicky wheat in Maryland contained more than 10 garlic bulblets per 1000 grams which was far in excess of the grading allowance.

"Following representations to the Secretary of Agriculture by wheat growers of Maryland and other states where garlic is a serious pest, the United States grading standards were modified to require that the amount of garlic in graded wheat be stated. This should prove a benefit to the grower who has succeeded in reducing the amount of garlic in his wheat but who has not been able to eradicate it entirely."

The eradication of garlic from the farm is the surest method of reducing the losses due to it, according to Dr. Patterson. This may be accomplished by deep plowing late in the fall, following a definite system of crop rotation and by planting wheat that had been thoroughly cleaned of garlic.

NATION'S BUSINESS TURNING TO HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION

That the business of the Nation is turning more and more to highway transportation is indicated by statistics on motor-vehicle registration as of July 1, compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. Registration of passenger cars, taxis, busses and motor trucks totaled 10,620471 on this date, an increase of 157,176, which is a healthy growth, as the first half of the year is the off season for registration of new vehicles.

The surprising fact, however, is that of the 157,174 increase in registration, motor trucks constituted 116-701, against 35,030 passenger cars and 5,443 taxis and busses. This means an increase of over 16 per cent of the number of motor trucks at the beginning of the year. Figures are not available to show what part of the increase of 5,443, or nearly 11 per cent, in the taxi and bus registration is due to the increase in the number of busses traversing rural and suburban routes, but it is very probable that a considerable part of the increase is due to the development of this new form of transportation.

It has been frequently sand that the traffic is always ready and waiting when good roads are built, and that the commercial vehicle as a class is more handicapped by lack of good road than the pleasure vehicle. The increase in the registration of commercial vehicles, coupled with the present activity in highway construction, seems to bear out this statement in the opinion of the department officials.

The table of statistics issued by the bureau shows a registration of 9,467,-874 private cars, 55,990 taxis and busses, and 1,096,605 motor trucks, making a total of 19,620,471. Motor cycles are not included, there being 149,-924 against 196,231 at the beginning of the year.

To Local Merchants

Your motor trucks and delivery wagons make it possible for you to render to your customers complete and satisfactory service.

Think this over and then ask yourself: "What would it mean if fire should destroy my motor equipment?" It would mean the loss of a car and load. It would mean disruption of service and dissatisfied customers.

You can protect your trucks against fire by equipping them with Pyrene Fire Extinguishers. This can be done at a nominal cost, since Insurance Companies will rebate to you on your motor insurance policies 15% of the premium when your motor equipment carries Pyrene.

Pyrene won't freeze, won't damage machinery, insulation, or anything with which it comes in contact. It is absolutely sure on gasoline or oil fires and its simplicity of operation make no previous instruction in its use necessary.

We will equip your motor trucks and delivery wagons with Pyrene Fire Extinguishers and get the 15% rebate from whatever insurance company has written your automobile policy.
