THE AWAKENING

Important changes in public sentiment are usually slow in growth, but sudden in expression.

Success in any business depends on ability to sense a change and adapt one's action to meet it.

For several years the sentiment of automobile buyers has been shifting towards economical transportation.

The Chevrolet Motor Company has been fortunate in correctly interpreting this sentiment and in supplying a line of cars in harmony with it.

Witness then, the sudden rise of Chevrolet from seventh to second place in sales.

How does this change affect you ?

Are you with the tide of trade or against it ?
