(By Authority.)

The St. John's Church Lottery.

THE Managers of St. John's Church Lottery feel themselves under great obligations to the public, and their friends in general, for the encouragement they have met with in the sale of their tickets; they also inform the public, that they have yet on hand, from a correct statement, 925 tickets, from which the managers wish the adventurers in this scheme to judge whether they have acted with impropriety or not in postponing the drawing. The managers do not pretend to continue drawing until a sufficient number of tickets are sold to warrant its completion; but when half the number on hands is disposed of, they will again commence, and the public may then depend that they will continue to draw at least 500 tickets or upwards a day, until the drawing is completed.

SCHEME of a LOTTERY,

For the completion of St. John's Church, in Baltimore.

8000 tickets at 5 dollars,				Dollars, 40,000

A little more than one and one-third of a blank to a prize—subject to a deduction of fifteen per cent.

From the advantages of the Scheme itself, there being only a little more than 1⅓ blank to a prize, and the certainty of the drawing being finished the first of any that is at present offered in the city, the managers are induced to believe that the tickets remaining on hand will be disposed of in a short time.

Timely notice will be given of the commencement of the drawing.

The prizes in the above lottery will be paid to the fortunate adventurers thirty days after the drawing is completed—those prizes not demanded within twelve months after the drawing, will be considered as relinquished for the benefit of the church.

Tickets may be had of the subscribers.

Proposals for Publishing

A PERIODICAL WORK, ENTITLED
The Literary Magazine,
AND AMERICAN REGISTER.

THIS work, if public patronage encourages its prosecution, shall be published monthly.

The number shall be, occasionally, ornamented with an engraving, executed by the best artist than can be obtained, and delivered to subscribers at the price of fifty cents. Each number shall contain, at least, eighty pages in large octavo, and shall comprehend seven departments.

The first department shall include original, moral, literary or scientific performances, and biographical or historical sketches.

The second department shall contain reviews of American publications, and of English works republished here.

The third department shall comprise such extracts, from foreign publications, as shall be considered peculiarly interesting, and deserving the attention of the people of America. The essence, especially of periodical publications, shall be carefully extracted.

The fourth department shall consist of pieces of original or selected poetry.

The fifth department shall include notices of publications preparing for the press; notices of literary characters and incidents; and such portions of information of a scientific, commercial and agricultural nature, as shall be deemed most remarkable and most deserving of notice.

The sixth department shall contain an accurate detail of political intelligence, foreign and domestic, particularly a clear summary of the proceedings of the congress of the United States during their session.

The seventh department shall consist of all such interesting or important occurrences, as the passing month shall have produced; such as casualties, crimes, &c. and shall likewise contain as full and accurate a list of marriages and deaths, in the United States, as can be procured.

This work will be published by Messrs. John Conrad and Co. and conducted under the immediate direction of an editor, who, in addition to his own labors, has received assurances of the assistance of several of the first literary characters in this city and in New-York.

A work of the nature now offered to the attention of the people of the United States, has long been demanded. It is conceived, that, if properly conducted, it would eminently promote the literature of this country, and would prove, in all respects, favorable to the gratification of taste and extension of useful information.

The editor promises, if encouraged by liberal subscriptions, all that his talents and labors can perform toward the successful execution of the work which he has proposed to undertake, and he hopes that this appeal to literary taste, that this desire to diffuse knowledge among all classes of society, will not, like other attempts, which have preceded this, be rendered fruitless, by a cold and depressing reception.

To enable the public to judge of the nature of the publication as soon as possible, the first number will appear at the beginning of October ensuing.

☞ Subscriptions to the above work are received at the Bookstore of M. and J. Conrad & Co. No. 138, Market-street, Baltimore.

A CARD.

H. O. HEBERT (from Philadelphia) solicits the attention of the citizens of Baltimore in general, and invalids in particular, to his "Air Pump Vapour Bath," a machine constructed on true philosophical principles, the efficacy of which in gout, rheumatism, palsy, contractions and enlargements of joints, withered and enlarged limbs, cutaneous and many other diseases, both chronic and acute, can be testified by many respectable persons who have had recourse to it.

This machine comprehends and combines the application of fomentation and the cupping glass, two of the most powerful external applications for the removal of disease, and that on a plan more extensive than was ever before known.

As many persons who have never seen the apparatus might be deterred from using it, either from the reports of prejudiced persons, or fear, they are respectfully assured that its application is not attended with either pain or inconvenience—It possesses all the good effects of warm bathing, without its attendant consequences, debility and relaxation; on the contrary, it invigorates and strengthens the whole system, but particularly the part to which the machine is applied. Persons desirous of further information respecting the nature and effects of this machine, will please to apply to the proprietor, at No. 3, East-street, near the assembly room.

N. B. "The Air Pump Vapour Bath" is particularly adapted for the removal of all obstructions occasioned by violent colds, which are the forerunners of consumptions, &c.

Complaints peculiarly incident to females, which too generally baffle the remedies hitherto applied, and to which they frequently fall victims in the prime of life, are readily and effectually removed by the application of this machine.

Patent Horizontal Wind-Mill.

THE subscriber offers to the gentlemen farmers and others of Maryland, and the other states, an invention, which for utility has not been exceeded by any piece of mechanism which this or perhaps the last century can boast of. It is a peculiarly, though simply, constructed horizontal Wind-Mill, adapted to the grinding of all sorts of grain, and at the same time threshing out wheat and rice, fanning them and pounding the latter, powdering plaster of Paris, cutting tobacco, &c. &c. Its aptitude to all those various and useful purposes, will be more easily and justly estimated by a view of the machine itself, than from any description that can be given here. —A model of this wind-mill can be viewed on Federal Hill, where it is kept for the convenience of shewing it in operation, by applying to Mr. Marche, No. 4, south Gay-street, by whom also the terms will be made known for the model only to erect a mill by, or for the patent right for a whole state; or by 50 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on Saturday morning, the 17th instant, from the subscriber, living in Anne-Arundel county, state of Maryland, near Richard Owings's mill, a negro man named SAM, who is a professor of the Methodist religion, but is a great lyar and eye-servant; is about five feet six or seven inches high, twenty-six years of age, strong and very bow-legged, and has lost the sight of his right eye when a child, by a splinter, which is discovered only by a minute examination, as the ball has not sunk. He has a down look when spoken to about his misconduct, and does not answer questions very readily. He chews tobacco, and commonly carries a large quid in the right side of his mouth, which makes his cheek appear swelled. He is a tolerable good waggoner and ploughman, and went off in his common working dress, but has changed his clothes, which cannot be described, (except a brown broad-cloth coat) as they have been kept where his wife lives, but are now taken away. He crossed the ferry at Elk-Ridge on Sunday morning; and as he has relations in the city of Baltimore, and a number of acquaintances, I expect he is lurking about it. From enquiries made of the ferrymen, it is very probable he will endeavor to pass for a man liberated by the Snowden family, and may have a pass for that purpose.

Whoever apprehends said fellow, and secures him in gaol, so that I get him again, shall receive Twenty-five Dollars, if apprehended in any part of the state; and if out of the state, the above reward, paid by HENRY RIDGELY, of Henry.
N.B. All masters of vessels and others are forewarned from harboring, concealing or carrying off said fellow, as the law will be enforced against such offenders.

Mrs. Keets' Boarding School.

ON Monday, the first of August, the young ladies of Mrs. Keets' Boarding School, near Centreville, Queen Anne's county, Maryland, were examined in reading, English grammar, French, arithmetic and geography. Each young lady produced a specimen of her writing, with questions and solutions in different and difficult rules of arithmetic. They read with a degree of animation, which surprised and pleased the company, and equally evinced the attention of the teachers and their own application.

There was a number of persons present, all of whom professed themselves highly gratified by their prompt and accurate answers to the numerous questions proposed in English grammar and the French language. They concluded with a perfect explanation of the geography of North America, particularly of the United States.

We whose names are undersigned were witnesses of the pleasing and animating scene, and declare, that the utmost merit is equally due to Mrs. Keets, Mr. Pairo, and the young ladies.

Centreville, 12th Aug. 1803.

Mrs. KEETS and Mr. PAIRO respectfully inform the ladies and gentlemen of Annapolis, and the public in general, that they will open a Boarding School in that city, on Monday, the 2d January, 1804, provided 25 ladies, as boarders, can be procured by subscription previous to the 20th October next.

Mrs. Keets will teach reading, writing, the English grammar and needle work.

Mr. Pairo will teach the French language, (Latin and German, if required) arithmetic, geography, astronomy, use of the globes, and music.

If the above testimony of Mrs. Ketts' and Mr. Pairo's abilities should not be considered as a sufficient recommendation, Mrs. Keets can produce a number of recommendatory letters from the parents and guardians of those ladies she has had under her care, as vouchers of her strict attention to the morals, improvement and accommodation of her pupils.

Mr. Pario can also produce testimonials of his character and abilities. He is a German gentleman, educated at one of the principal universities in that country. He is of French extraction and has resided a considerable time in Paris, which circumstance enables him to understand and speak the French language as his mother tongue. He has been in the habit of teaching eight years, and from the satisfaction he has already given, flatters himself that he shall be deemed worthy the encouragement of the public.

Application may be made to Mr. Neth, or capt. Thomas, Annapolis, or to Mrs. Keets, near Centreville, Maryland.

Had on when he went away, a brown cloth coat, lapelled, with metal buttons, and black cape, patched on one elbow, and darned on the other; he took with him 6 waistcoats, viz. 1 white marseilles, 1 white dimity, 1 yellow jane with red stripes, 1 large striped swandown, 1 black swandown with white stripes, 1 striped (color not recollected); 3 pair pantaloons, viz. 1 fine cloth without feet, 1 black velvet without feet, 1 yellow nankeen with feet, 2 pair of linen trousers, 1 of check, 1 fur hat. He took all his shoe-maker's tools with him, intending no doubt to work at his trade. It is probable he will change his name, as he is an artful fellow.
