Dead Man's Brother Fails to Claim Body

Although a man who claimed to be the dead man's brother from New York was reported to have tried to discover where the dead man roomed and if he had any insurance, this week, the body of Sam McIntyre, who was stabbed to death on Thanksgiving day, is still unclaimed at the City Morgue.

According to Western district police, when the man from New York failed to obtain the desired information, he evidently returned to New York. David Wright, 28, of 442 Conway Street is charged with the fatal stabbing of McIntyre.

Murphy-Heinze Appeal Hearing Set for January

Hearing on the appeal of Officer Horace Heinze to the $1000 verdict awarded Carl Murphy, president of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers, will be held by the Maryland Court of Appeals in Annapolis some time during the January term, it was learned this week.

Mr. Murphy was awarded $1000 damages in his suit against the Northwestern District officer by Judge Eugene O'Dunne in City Court last October after the officer was found guilty of false arrest, assault and battery.

Retrial Denied

A request for a re-trial on the grounds that the damages awarded were excessive, was denied Officer Heinze by Judge O'Dunne a few weeks after the original City Court hearing.

Mr. Murphy was arrested at his Morgan Park home last May by Officer Heinze, who became enarged when the editor refused to answer questions concerning a minor accident in which Mrs. Murphy was involved, without first consulting his lawyer.

Bond Posted

The officer's attorney posted $1000 bond this week insuring his appearance at the appeal hearing.

1000th Scout Registered by Balto. Council

Brady Graham, 15, of 1726 E. Madison Street became the 1000th colored youth to be registered as a Boy Scout with the Baltimore Area Council when Troop 285 of Elementary School No. 105, East Street near Lexington, was registered recently.

Theodore R. May is scoutmaster of the troop, and Mrs. Vivian H. Bundy is principal of the school. Other members of the troop are Carl B. Walker, James T. Woods, James H. Smith, William L. Turner, Lee M. Kelly, William V. Pridgett and George W. Harvey

The goal of the Monumental and Chesapeake Districts for December 31 is 1125 boys. Seven more troops and seven more cub packs are now being organized.

500 at Court of Honor

The Court of Honor and talent night program held at the Vocational School on December 10 was attended by more than five hundred scouts, cubs, leaders and parents. Troop No. 293, Ames Methodist Memorial Church, received the Eugene Prettyman Inter-troop contest trophy for the second time.

More than 900 colored and white scouts of the Baltimore Area Council will participate in a mass investiture at the Polytechnic Institute, North and Guilford Avenues, on December 19. Dr. James E. West, a national executive, will deliver the address.

Cabbie Shot by Unknown Man; Woman Jailed

Held 14 Hours Because She Could Not Name Gunman

Because she was unable to identify a man who came to her rescue and shot a white cab driver who reputedly refused to drive her to her home, early Wednesday, Mrs. Anna Hall, president of the F. E. W. Harper Elks' Temple Drill Team, was detained by Northern District police for almost fourteen hours, she told NAACP officials.

According to a report filed in Northern District police station, Mrs. Hall, who lives at 1506 McCulloh Street, and two friends hailed a Sun taxi after leaving the Elks' Home at Dolphin and Madison Avenue and started uptown.

After riding a few blocks, the male member of the party paid twenty-five cents for his fare and left the cab which continued to an address in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue. There the second party, a woman, got out leaving Mrs. Hall alone.

Ordered Out of Cab

She said that when she ordered the driver to take her to her home they had a few words over another twenty-five cents which Mrs. Hall agreed to pay but that when the cab was stopped at Madison and North Avenues for a traffic light, the driver, Terry Tannenbaum, white, of 4021 Fairview Avenue, allegedly refused to take her any farther and ordered her out.

This led to another argument which was heard by an unidentified passerby who came over to the cab to investigate the quarrel, she stated. This unidentified man and the driver began quarreling. Mrs. Hall continued; and as the argument waxed hotter, the man drew a revolver, fired a shot at Tannenbaum and fled.

Refused Freedom

The driver was taken to Maryland General Hospital where he was treated for a bullet wound under the right eye. Mrs. Hall was taken to the police station and detained for questioning. Despite the fact that Mrs. Hall contended she does not know the man who did the shooting, officers refused to release her until W. A. C. Hughes, Jr., attorney, intrceded on behalf of the NAACP.

Mr. Hughes stated on Thursday, that the NAACP plans to lodge a complaint with Police Commissioner Robert F. Stanton relative to the manner in which Mrs. Hall was treated by the officers.

All Out Fight Continues

NEW YORK. — The fight to have colored union stagehands handle the entertainment work of the traveling colored unit of Camp Shows, Inc., instead of white, continues unabated, Hubert Delaney, a member of the national boards of the USO and NAACP, informed the AFRO this week.

The issue arose following the refusal of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees' Union of New York to grant traveling permits to colored stagehands sought to travel with the unit formed by Noble Sissle, also a member of the Board of Camp Shows, Inc., a subsidiary of the USO, for the entertainment of soldiers.

20th Century Shake Queen

Schloss's Goes Latin

Schloss's 20th Century Club went Latin last Friday night on the opening of its Congo Room, and due to the overflow crowd, the same show will be repeated tonight (Friday) with more pomp and splendor.

Billie Jordan, nite life's No. 3 choice of popular waitresses, and Catherine and Margaret, made a beautiful picture in Spanish costumes. Cliff Morris gargled a wee bit of Espanola, while Senor Miles Yancey and his rhumba rhythm caballeros jumped and jived a la Havana. Senor Milleran Rueletto, just plain old Skies, dished out the Zombie.

There is only one VILMA and you can't go wrong. Mex serves up le the night clab, assisted by Oliver, while Mason takes care of the day crew.

Vincent Delaney manipulates the Steinway at the SAVOY, where Douglass (Flash) Mallory, his electric mandolin and orchestra continue to give Rad Enders that fine swing and sway feeling. Joe Smothers is still the featured torcher.

Tip-top nite spots have their doormen, floormen, check room attendants, cigarette girls, waiters and waitresses, bar maids or mixologists and host. The HARLEM is the Monumental City's nearest approach to the big time.

Here Marion Eley is one of the few femme mixologists about town. And George Bachman, owner, is remembered as the manager of Jolly and Jill, a juvenile dance team, who delighted Baltimore audiences a few years ago.

Elvera Cooper had a birthday Tues. the and Vic Lindsay are late additions to the Harlem staff. Gene Ray Lee also celebrated with her family in Georgia.

James Gantt, versatile musician, is heading a tiny combo at the KNOTTY PINE, Park Avenue and Dolle Street, with lyrics being interpreted by Frances Truitt and Joe (Aw-Rite) Campher. Miss Hilda Cotton celebrated her natal day here Friday night.

Elease Nance, my gal Friday, is back in circulation after an illness of two weeks.

Marie Chalk, charming waitress at the SAVOY, passed another milestone on Tuesday. The gang blew its tops for her.

THE AVENUE, la Stroll rendezvous, turns on the heat with its matinees, during which time the Gents of Rhythm, featuring Frankie, lay their stuff.

Doc Kelly's chirping at LITTLE WILLIE'S INN, capably assisted by Lawson Venzella and his orky are just about the last thing in finesse. It is as one would say, a righteous rendezvous.

Deck Bedford and his terrific combo continue to knock 'em out at the DIAMOND SUBWAY with a style of swing that is slightly boogie-woogie in true Basie fashion. The sweet lyric warbling of Elsie Coleman is refreshing, and one can get quite thrilled over Mother Daisy.

TILLIE'S CAFE has added the famous team of Cool Breeze and Barney, and augmented by Tom, Gibson Jump-Jack Brown is doing the emcee job.

GAMBY'S is noted for its courteous service, lovely, smiling waitresses and expert mixologists.

Beneath THE SPOT the downstairs cocktail lounge registers with James Beckwith and his Harlem Rhythmatics; Marion Miller, pianist and arranger; Henry Mitchell, singing emcee, and Ruth Russell, vocalist.

Your Stroll scribe,
GEORGE D. TYLER.

Camp Shows to Continue

The declaration of war against Japan and the rapid changes in military and civil circles won't affect present plans for the entertainment of soldiers in various army camps—not at the present time.

This information was officially presented the AFRO's theatrical department on Monday by Lawrence Phillips, director of publicity of United Service Organization (USO) Camp Shows, Inc., of New York.

Mr. Phillips's Reply

The AFRO, ever on the alert for latest developments in national and world events, contacted Mr. Phillips on Monday, asking: "What about the rumor that army camp shows are to be curtailed because of the declaration of war?"

An immediate reply from Mr. Phillips brought the following answer: "Replying to your inquiry of today (Monday), do not contemplate curtailing army camp shows account of declaration of war."
