Dr. Merze Tate to Attend Initiation of First Lady

BALTIMORE—Miss Merze Tate, associate professor of political science and dean of women at Morgan State College, is visiting in Cambridge, Mass., this week-end, and will attend the annual dinner of the Radcliffe College Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on December 12, which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will address on the subject "Women—Nazi, Fascist, and Democratic."

To Become Member

Preceding the dinner, Mrs. Roosevelt will be initiated as an honorary member of the chapter. The honorary membership was conferred upon her last June at the same meeting of Iota Chapter which elected Miss Tate to membership "in course."

Guests at the dinner will be limited to members with undergraduate members as guests of honor. In addition twelve sophomores and twenty-eight freshmen of high standing have been invited.

This year is the 165th anniversary of Phi Beta Kappa, which was founded at the College of William and Mary in December 1776, and is thus the first Greek Letter college society of the United States.

Guest of Johnsons

While in Cambridge, Miss Tate will be the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson. Dr. Johnson is a professor of bio-chemistry at Harvard University and a former Rhodes scholar, while Mrs. Johnson is from New Zealand.

AMICITIA

2,000 at Last Rites for Noted Harlem Minister

NEW YORK, N.Y.—More than 2000 persons of both races and representatives of scores of colored and white organizations packed the large auditorium of St. Mark Methodist Church, 138th Street and St. Nicholas Avenue, Monday at funeral services for the Rev. Dr. John Wallace Robinson, 70, noted Harlem minister.

Dr. Robinson, who died Thursday of last week at his home, 118 West 130th Street, was known among thousands as a tireless worker for better schools, health and housing, and was famed throughout the country as a progressive and militant leader.

Nationally-Known Leader

For a number of years he served as chairman of the Permanent Committee for Better Schools in Harlem, on Mayor LaGuardia's committee to investigate economic and social conditions in Harlem, was a leader in the fight to pass the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills in Congress, and since 1940 had been a board member of the National Negro Congress.

The deceased, formerly pastor of Christ Community Church, 76 West 128th Street, and of St. Mark's, was born in Selbyville, Ky., December 7, 1870, educated at Indiana University and Gammon Theological Seminary, where he received the degree of doctor of divinity, and entered the ministry in 1895.

Besides his widow, he leaves a son and three daughters.
