A gentleman who recently renewed his subscription to the JOURNAL stated that a single local item of news saved him several dollars. It gave him information elsewhere unpublished.

"Know Ben Harrison? Know him, did you ask? Well, I should accelerate my motions in order to corroborate. Know him? Why you don't eulogize me! Ben and me used to toom together years ago; went to school, was in the same class and sat on the same bench. Why, you should see some of the letters I have received from Ben. I correspond with him regularly, and when you ask me if I know him I have to execute a risible."—Titus A. Brick.

BIG MISTAKE

CORRECTED!

SOME persons have reported and others believed that I intend removing from here.

In order to set everyone right I would emphatically say

THIS IS A MISTAKE!

I am here to stay, and have just returned from the eastern markets with the largest, most fashionable, and cheapest stock of

CLOTHING, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, CARPETS, OILCLOTHS TRUNKS, SATCHELS, HATS AND CAPS,

Ever brought to a single establishment in our county. Moreover, as I am cramped for room to store all my goods, I will sell every article at about 6 per cent. profit—at least for the next thirty days.

I have not time nor space to put all on paper; therefore, I have mentioned but a few articles in order that you may appreciate and realize that all should come—not wait, but come at once and examine goods and prices. No one in want of goods, will leave my store without buying, but you should come right along before the rush begins and the assortment is broken.

☞ All persons coming by rail buying goods of me will have their fare paid both ways.

Don't forget that my place is opposite C. F. Nickel's furniture store—the first clothing store as you come from the depot. Thankful for past favors, I am respectfully,

May 12 M. WINELAND.
