Omegas Hear Dr. Johnson Pay Tribute to Pioneers

(AFRO National Bureau)

In fine oratorical form, although confined with a cold before his appearance, Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University won the attention and spirited applause of 500 members of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity in an address, Saturday, at the South Interior auditorium.

The noted educator said: "It is good to be in America as long as a great humanitarian and a great American like Henry Wallace is alive, and as long as he is alive there is hope for America."

Church Leadership

"Many of our intellectuals have contempt for our church because they say it is dominated by ignorant leadership," he observed.

"This is partly true, but when God set out to establish the colored church he had to take the material at hand. If our church had been manned by trained leaders, there would have been nobody left for the other professions.

"But it must be remembered that, even the most ignorant preacher could read and understand enough of the Bible to arrive at the conclusion that God never intended for him to be a slave, and he taught his followers how to sing and pray their way to freedom.

Musical Gains

Paying tribute to our progress in music, Dr. Johnson said: "Nowhere is the true spirit of the race's ability to overcome hardship better displayed than in his music, both spirituals and jazz.

"The spiritual 'Nobody Knows the Trouble I See, Glory Hallelujah' is a temperamental miracle. Any other race, when talking about their troubles, would have gone deeper into despondency, but the colored man becomes exuberant and praises God all the more."

Migration Needs Urge

In a comment on the South, Dr. Johnson asserted that "the surest way for a colored person in the South to make progress is to go out to the front gate and start looking northward.

"The further he backs up, the more opportunities he will have, economically, educationally, and in his civil rights.

"By looking at the amount of money spent per capita for education at a 80-story skyscraper, with New York at the top, we would have to fake an express elevator, and go to the sub-basement in Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia."

Our Benefactors

"It was fortunate for the race that at the time of the emancipation," said the speaker, "that there were few intellectual leaders.

"They would have probably all been pessimists and they would have killed us. The ability of the colored man to laugh at the superficiality and foibles of his oppressors has been one of the secrets of our survival.

"It is to the credit of most of the intellectuals of our race that they have identified themselves with the struggle of their people.

Labor Unions

"It is more important to remember that the late John Hope died in Atlanta where he built an institution for the education of youth, than to remember him as a brilliant student at Brown University."

Dr. Johnson declared that, "by joining labor unions and casting their lot with the working masses, colored people show rare judgement. By making a contribution to the labor movement means to be in on the ground floor to the future."

Col. Johnson, Basileus

Col. Campbell C. Johnson was elected grand basileus, succeeding Alexander Looby who declined to serve for a third term at the close of the sessions Sunday. All other officers were returned to office as follows:

Hill Calhoun Jr., grand vice-basileus; Rev. Wm. Alexander, grand chaplain; Dr. Rudolph E. Smith, grand marshal; Jessie B. Barron, grand keeper of finances and Nathaniel D. Williams, editor-in-chief of the Oracle.

Most serious opponent of Col. Johnson was Dr. J. A. Pinn, dentist, of Roanoke, Va., and was based on the premise that, being a uniform, he would be hamstrung by official red tape, thus impairing his usefulness to the organization on important racial issues.

Break Tradition

Colonel Johnson's supporters discounted this argument, pointing out that, as an officer of Selective Service, he had already proven his independence of Army influence in many issues.

The fraternity for the first time voted to break a tradition of standing aloof from active participation in public affairs, by creating a social action committee to deal with current affairs.

Frontiers' Club Ignores Governor's Commission

The Frontier's Club which recently criticized the Governor's Commission on Problems Affecting Colored People for "inactivity" ignored an invitation to attend the commission's last meeting, Josiah Henry, executive secretary of the State organization, declared, Thursday.

The club was extended the invitation to attend last week's meeting by Joseph P. Healy, chairman of the commission, Mr. Henry said, adding that none from the Frontier's Club appeared nor acknowledged the request.

In a recent letter to Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, the club backed charges of Alexander J. Allen, executive secretary of the Urban League, that the commission lacked interest, failed to take a stand on controversial issues or carry out its own recommendations.

Delegation Requested

Mr. Henry stated that the club was asked to send a delegation to present its' person any opinions against the commission.

W. Emerson Brown, president of the Frontiers, admitted that the club failed to answer the commission's invitation. He told the AFRO that a delegation intends to appear before the commission at its January meeting, with a full report from its public affairs committee.

NAACP Sponsors City-Wide Block Meetings

The announcement of city-wide block meetings planned to acquaint citizens with the NAACP program which includes vote registration, and interest in health and housing problems, was announced by the NAACP, this week.

Addison V. Pinkney, executive secretary, reported that it is hoped this plan will result in the improvement of neighborhood tone.

Victims of Fire, Family Helped by AFRO Readers

Gazing with tear-dimmed eyes at gifts of money, clothing, and food received from AFRO readers, who learned how fire destroyed their Middle River home five weeks ago, Mrs. Frances Adams is facing 1946 with new hope.

"People have been so good to us. I'm keeping all their names so I can write and tell them how grateful I am," she said Wednesday.

Fire Guts Home

Fire, caused by an exploding oil stove gutted the three-room frame dwelling of the Adamses, and their eight children, and destroyed all of their possessions, leaving them to face Christmas in a second-floor room at 749 W. Saratoga St.

Mrs. Adams is planning to move in another Middle River home on Saturday. With typical maternal concern, she is anxious that her children re-enter school.

Given Food, Money and Clothes

As a result of a story published December 29, food and clothing were given the destitute family by Wheatcroft Church's Women's Society of Christian Service; Mrs. Annie Coleman, 1707 Warlette Ave., and Mrs. Hattie Reynolds, 1520 W. Perkins Ave.

Money was sent by Warner L. Gordon, 706 Mount St.; Emmett Evans, 1320 McCulloh St.; Samuel Webb, 601 N. Eden St.; and Mrs. Wallace of 402 Taylor Ave.

Two boxes of clothes, a box of shoes and another of canned goods were sent by Mrs. Carrie Wilmore of 1910 E. Madison St.; who has also promised additional donations.

Father Returns to Work

The 62-year-old father, George, has resumed his contracting job at Middle River; and Mrs. Adams has been able to do a day's work to add to the family coffers.

The Adams children are Thomas, 17, Arthur, 16, Elva, 14, James, 10, Wanda, 11, Delores, 9, and Donald 5.

Funeral Rites Held for Mrs. E. A. Nelson

Funeral services for Mrs. Estella Gant Nelson, wife of Henry J. Nelson of 2330 Madison Ave., were held at Sharp Street Methodist Church, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Nelson, a member of the Harriet Tubman Association and 13th Ward Republican Club, had been ill since October. She died Saturday.

The daughter of the late Levi and Annie Gantt, she is survived by two sisters, Mesdames Maggie Brown and Ada Thomas. Interment was in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

AMERICAN JIM CROW HELL MUST GO
By Non-violent Action, says Rev. J. Gwynn's Monthly Message—Eph. 2:14, No "Middle Wall" Jim Crow is Hitlerism in white supremacy. It cuts off the benefits of Character, Ability, Ideals, Helpful Contacts from over 15,000,000 colored Americans. This would handicap any living people.
TO CUT JIM CROW ROOTS
I appeal to the world United Nations Organization and to all who will help, urging that the USA colored millions be freed from forced—
1. Jim crow living conditions.
2. Jim crow schools and churches
3. Jim crow industry and press
4. Jim crow amusements and politics
5. Jim crow travel, military, peace, etc.
These are the roots perpetuating the American Jim Crow Hell.

by St. Clair Drake and Horace R. Cayton
with an introduction by RICHARD WRIGHT
WALTER WHITE: "A raucous tale of a racial giant fighting to break his ghetto bonds . . . A first-rate account of the effect of American prejudices that had best be read and understood if we are to escape racial chasms which may rend America as effectively as the newest atomic bomb." —in PM
