County Comissioners Couldn't Keep Tax Rate Down

A tax rate of $1.60 on each $100 worth of assessable property was set for Queen Anne's County taxpayers by the Board of County Commissioners last week.

This rate, the second highest in the history of the county, is 26 cents over last year. The highest rate, from records in the court house, was in 1927 when the citizens paid $1.61.

The three-man board of Casper T. Seney, president; Harry F. Callahan and E. Oliver Legg, was sitting in the court house when the levy was struck.

As was expected when the intensive school building program was undertaken last year, the school building budget takes up most of the increase costs.

The Commissioners broke it down thus:

School regular budget—76c.

School building payments and interest—27c.

Other general county expensses—57c.

The 26 cent increase was taken up by election years costs, listed at four cents; farm and home department, which includes paying for a new drainage machine, five cents; and school building payments and interests, 17 cents.

Sewerage Disposal

Septic tanks, cesspools, grease traps, pumped out the sanitary way by modern equipment. Experienced operators, local labor. No house to house calls. No charge for trips. N. R. Harrison, Box 122, Federalsburg, Md. Phone 5911.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

Here's the line on a good neighbor!

A good neighbor is always ready to give the other fellow a break. Take the telephone party line, for instance. A good neighbor spreads out his calls so that others can use the line. He answers his telephone promptly and makes sure the receiver is replaced properly when he's finished. Little things, perhaps, but they make telephone service so much better for everyone on the line.

Packs a punch!

This little object is a new-type transistor, developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. No bigger than a pea, it can amplify electrical signals a million times, requires only one-millionth of the power consumed by miniature vacuum tubes now in use. In addition, the new transistors are expected to have a longer service life than vacuum tubes. This is another example of the way the Bell Laboratories work to make your telephone service better... and to hold down its cost.

February is a good month to —

Ask the minister and his wife over to dinner after church.... Order flower and vegetable seeds.... See the County Agent and pick up some of the latest Fact Sheets and bulletins.... Repair fences.... Stock up on insecticides, fungicides, baller twine, and other items that may be hard to get during the rush season.... Prune fruit trees.... Buy plowshares.... Plan for full production in 1952.... Top-dress winter wheat with fertilizer or manure.... Treat cattle for grubs.... Prepare quarters for spring calving.... Dust livestock for lice.... Make plans for spring home repairs.
