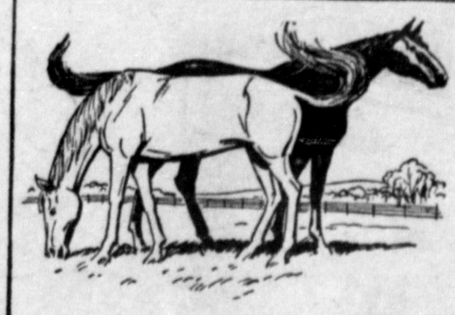
Down the Line with Johnny Bell!



Good horse sense

One of the most interesting examples of horse sense in practice is the way two horses stand side by side flicking flies from each other. Another example is the friendly sharing of party lines. Consideration for others in keeping calls reasonably brief is a good way to make sure that the same consideration is shown to you. That's just plain good sense, too.

Holding the line

When it comes to fishing, waiting is part of the pleasure. But not so with your Long Distance calls! The faster they go through, the better you like it. And you can help speed up your Long Distance calls by giving the operator the number, not just the name and address, of the person you're calling. Here's something else that will help you to faster service: jot down frequently used Long Distance telephone numbers and keep them handy when you make your calls.

June is a good month to —

Measure how fast the younger generation is growing up by the number of graduation and wedding presents you have to buy.... Keep ahead of the weeds with the cultivator or weed sprayer.... Work on the combine to get it in good shape for an efficient harvest.... Spray barns and animals for fly control.... Prevent back-picking by clipping upper bills of turkeys or inserting anti-pick rings.... Clip pastures.... Full-feed hogs for early marketing.... Provide shade for animals on pasture.... Clean out and spray grain bins to kill grain weevils.... Set the lawn mower to cut grass no shorter than 1½ inches.... Spray weed trees and brush with 2,4,5-T or 2,4-D.... Thin peaches.... Plant late garden.
