The Retailer's Invitation

This is my home, here where you come to buy
My business home, you are my guest, and I
Your cordial host. Let not alone the erade
Possess your thoughts. In you I hope I've made
A lasting friend; and that if you recall
This little visit and our deal at all,
It may be only as the means we found
To meet and mingle on a common ground.

This is my house, thrown open to my guests,
While I with joy comply with their requests.
Daily I hold reception, eight to six,
Striving to please the ones with whom I mix,
Hoping to fill each several, varying need
With courtesy devoid of sordid greed.
The thought of "getting" I would put away
And concentrate on "giving" all the day.

This is the house my business built for you
To visit; and if my house can do
A service for my valued list of friends
It will have served my fondly-wished-for ends.
Forget that you are "patron" or that I
Am called a "dealer," as the days go by
Let neighborly relationship prevail,
And this, my home and yours, can never fail.

EASTON CONSIDERING BISHOP

It is understood that the Rev. Dr. Arthur Selden Lloyd, of New York, will be mentioned as possible candidate for election to fill the place of the late Bishop William Forbes Adams, as bishop of the Diocese of Easton.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd, a native of Alexandria county, Va., was for nine years general secretary of Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia and Theological Seminary of Virginia, and was ordained to the priesthood in 1881. From 1885 to 1900 he served as rector of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church, Norfolk, and in 1919 became Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia.

The election of a successor to the late Bishop Adams will be held at the annual convention of the clergy and lay delegate of the Protestant Episcopal Churches of Easton on April 20. Bishop John G. Murray last night said he did not expect new delegates would be elected for choosing the new bishop, but that those elected at the last convention would be asked to make the selection.
