Thrilling Tale Is Unfolded

Alexander Dumas' Masterpiece "The Corsican Brothers" At Lyceum This Week

Corsica, the land of the "Vendetta" and the "Maquis," the ancestral home of Napoleon retaining it's old time customs and in many respects it's old time savagery. No wonder it appealed to Dumas as the setting for his wonderful story "The Corsican Brothers."

Dumas wrote it in 1845, that is the novel was first published then, and it immediately came into popular favor. Probably no other story has been more widely read by the people of the civilized world than this, the most absorbing story Alexander Dumas ever wrote.

Strangely enough Dumas himself never dramatized his story. Why he did not will always remain a mystery for he was given to the dramatization of his stories but he left it for others to do and it is most assuredly a curious circumstance in view of the great success which "The Corsican Brothers" has met with as a play. The stage of most every country has seen the dramatic version of the two famous twin brothers, actors of every generation have played the role, many of them considering it to be their greatest.

Powerfully dramatic the tale of the wonderful likeness between the two brothers, twins born joined together, has made stage history and it remained for Dustin Farnum to add this tense drama to the list of truly great photodramas.

"The Corsican Brothers" as a motion picture will rank as one of the screen's greatest achievements and stamps Dustin Farnum as one of the most capable romantic actors of all time. He plays the dual role of the two brothers and it might be mentioned right here that though separated by thousands of miles, the bond between them was so close that each felt the other's ailments, shared each other's troubles and lived and breathed as one. Just consider for a moment what a remarkable role this provided for Dustin Farnum

And you may be sure that he has made the most of his opportunity. He himself has stamped the part as the finest he has ever played and those who have been fortunate enough to view the picture are as one in their opinion that in "The Corsican Brothers" the motion picture has really come into it's own and the screen demonstrated beyond a doubt that it is the greatest recorder of dramatic incidents ever known to man.

To see this thrilling tale unfolded on the silver sheet is to see Dumas' characters brought to life. So realistically has the story been produced that one watches with almost breathless interest the highly dramatic scenes as they closely follow one another. The spectator forgets that he is seated in a theatre and for the time being lives in Corsica and then in Paris, living the life of the remarkable twin brothers and is brought to a somewhat startling awakening when the final fade out is over and he finds himself really in his old home town just witnessing a thrilling cinema entertainment.

It must have cost many thousands of dollars to have reproduced so faithfully the scenes of Dumas' novel. Corsican villages had to be built, a duplicate of the famous old Paris Grand Opera House constructed and thousands of extra people employed. This was all elaborately done and the background was made worthy of the great story and the wonderful acting of the star Dustin Farnum.

"The Corsican Brothers" will be presented at the Lyceum Theatre, Chestertown, Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

Performance in The Hands of Thousands of Owners has given the Cletrac its leadership in the Tractor field. All—yes, more than Rollins H. White, designer and builder of the Cletrac, claimed fo it, has been done by Cletrac farmers.

When the farmer buys a Tractor he wants a complete hauling and stationary power service, not simply a Tractor that will plow. A Cletrac meets this need in every way. It has only 4¼ pounds of weight per square inch on your fields. The same as your roller or cultipacker, therefore, does not injure your farm by packing the soil too much.

The Cletrac was designed not only to do a good job of plowing, but all kinds of farm work, and all kinds of hauling under all kinds of conditions. It fits the seed bed, as well as it plows; it does the seeding and harvesting; the hay making and threshing; the farm hauling; the wood sawing; silo filling and road building.

When in town stop in and see this wonderful little Tractor work, get a descriptive catalogue and arrange for demonstration, so as to assure prompt delivery, as the factory is back with orders. The Canadian Government has a contract for 1000 Cletracs, at once. We had more Cletracs in the Great War than any other maker of Tractors. See me before you buy.

The Retailer's Invitation

This is my home, here where you come to buy
My business home, you are my guest, and I
Your cordial host. Let not alone the erade
Possess your thoughts. In you I hope I've made
A lasting friend; and that if you recall
This little visit and our deal at all,
It may be only as the means we found
To meet and mingle on a common ground.

This is my house, thrown open to my guests,
While I with joy comply with their requests.
Daily I hold reception, eight to six,
Striving to please the ones with whom I mix,
Hoping to fill each several, varying need
With courtesy devoid of sordid greed.
The thought of "getting" I would put away
And concentrate on "giving" all the day.

This is the house my business built for you
To visit; and if my house can do
A service for my valued list of friends
It will have served my fondly-wished-for ends.
Forget that you are "patron" or that I
Am called a "dealer," as the days go by
Let neighborly relationship prevail,
And this, my home and yours, can never fail.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.— Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Thedford's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, billousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Thedford's, the original and genuine. E 79
