
Your Old Corn Field Can Again Be Made to Produce Big Corn Crops

You can make fields that have been repeatedly cropped to corn again produce the old time yields. The remedy is not expensive and consumes no time. It is applied successfully and extensively under similar conditions in many sections.

Stop in our store the first chance you get and ask us about applying fertilizer at the same time the corn is planted. We can show you a corn planter which, besides dropping the desired number of kernels in each and every hill, is equipped with a fertilizer attachment that successfully distributes any standard fertilizer. It drops the fertilizer without any choking up or bridging of fertilizer in the hopper and it does not let the fertilizer come in contact with and fire the seed.

Don't overlook the "accurate planting" features of this planter—the instant variable drop. A kick of the foot and the drop can be changed to 2, 3 or 4 kernels per hill, as desired. A push of the foot lever and the planter changes instantly from hill dropping to drilling, or back to hill dropping, and you don't have to get off the seat nor touch the seed plates to make these changes.

Come in and see our John Deere No. 999 Corn Planter.

Corkhill Cooked Ham is a wonderful convenience

THIS delicious product is simply an expertly cooked Corkhill Ham with the skin and bone removed, molded into a shape most convenient for sandwich making.

You can buy it from your dealer by the pound—sliced, or you can buy the entire ham and slice it yourself as you wish. It's perfectly delicious always.

A Corkhill Cooked Ham lasts long because there is no waste, and it is very dainty to serve. Order one from your dealer—or try a pound, sliced.

FALSE ECONOMY

Some of us often believe we are saving money when we buy an article at a distance, priced at a few cents less than offered at your nearby dealer.

Sometimes these goods do not meet up to your expectation.

Sometimes these goods must be returned for exchange.

Sometimes you keep them against your will.

And this extra expense, inconvenience, and dissatisfaction to the first cost, also add the price of auto transportation and extra time from home duties which means about ten cents per mile. Compare your prices and average them at home. We believe you can save money at home..

M. E. Conference Adjourns

Only Two Changes In Wilmington, Several In Kent—Bishop Preaches A Big Sermon—Chestertown Gets Rev. T. J. Sard Back.

Comparatively few changes, among the larger churches are made in the ministerial appointments of Wilmington M. E. Conference announced on Monday noon by Bishop William F. McDowell. The greatest number of changes is on Dover district.

Only two changes are made in Wilmington pastorates. The Rev. Howard Davis is transferred from Lewes to Trinity Church Wilmington to succeed the Rev. E. H. Collins, who goes to Harrington.

The Rev. J. A. Leach is transferred from Berlin, Md., to Union Church, to succeed the Rev. Harvey W. Ewing who goes on the retired list by his own request.

The Rev. R. P. Nichols, who has been Conference director of religious education, becomes pastor at Pocomoke City, Md., to succeed the Rev. J. Richard Bicking, who goes to Deal's Island. The Rev. J. T. Price, formerly of Hurlock, Md., is assigned to Perryville, Md., which church has had some difficulty in agreeing upon a choice for the pastorate.

It is reported that Dr. Sumwalt will be transferred to the Baltimore Conference and will be assigned to Waugh Church in Washington, D. C.

Among the appointments in and near Kent are these:

O. E. Jones—District Superintendent
Cecil—J. T. Rowlenson.
Centreville—Frank White.
Chestertown—T. J. Sard.
Church Hill—W. S. Grant.
Fairlee—C. L. Marsh.
Galena—J. E. Sterling.
Piney Neck—T. S. Barrett, (supply.)
Pomona—W. C. McClintock, (supply.
Rock Hall—W. H. Revelle.
Salem and Barclay, (Chestertown, Md.)—L. P. Corkran.
Still Pond and Betterton—E. M. Shockley.
Millington and Dulaney—George F. Newton.

Never in the history of the Harrison Street Methodist Episcopal Church has a larger crowd assembled in and around that building than was there Sunday morning to hear Bishop W. F. McDowell preach the annual "conference sermon" of the Wilmington Conference.

Bishop McDowell spoke on the faith of Job and took his text from Job I, 8th-9th verses. His subject was "Did God Test Job for Nought?" "The faith of Job can be copied by Christians of today with good results," Bishop McDowell said. In opening the address the Bishop said that he had delivered the same message soon after he left college, but had left it discarded for many years. Recently, he said, he had felt a revival of interest in the life of Job.

It is interesting to note that Rev. N. O. Gibson, pastor of Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, preached from the same text to a union congregation in that town at 7.30 p. m. The two preachers treated the subject, however, quite differently.
