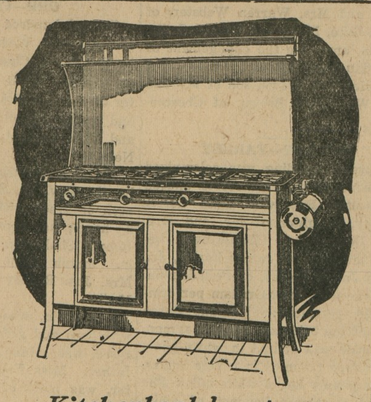
How long should it take to boil water?

2 qts. of water raised from 45° to boiling

-in 6 min. on the new KITCHENKOOK

-in 7½ min. on an ordinary city gas range

-in 21 min. on a popular make of kerosene range



Kitchenkook has set a new High Mark in Cooking Speed

Comparative tests show that the Kitchenkook is faster than any other type of cook stove; faster even than city gas, the usual standard for comparison.

Kitchenkook makes its own gas from common gasoline, bringing to homes located beyond the reach of gas all the convenience, cleanliness and comfort of city gas service. It's cheaper even than wood you have been used. No wicks or chimneys, no smoke, soot or kerosene odor. Master burner lights in less than one minute; then all burners turn on or off as wanted, just like gas. No waiting, no delay; fire regulated instantly just as you want it. Kitchenkook is so simple children can use it in perfect safety.

Don't fail to ask us for a demonstration of the wonder stove that is revolutionizing the whole industry, the most talked of stove today. Made in 16 attractive popular priced models, including white porcelain enamel ranges, with oven and broiler.

These figures are the result of scientific tests made in the engineering Department of a leading American University. They are given here to show the progress which is being made in the development of fine cook stoves.

EXPERT ADVICE ON BONDS GIVEN BY CRISSINGER

With an abundance of money available for sound investment, and with interest rates generally tending to a decline because of this, first mortgage bonds yield a higher return than any paper enjoying the same degree of safety and are one of the best investment propositions in America today, in the belief of Daniel R. Crissinger, former Governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

In a recent interview, Crissinger, now chairman of the executive committee of The F. H. Smith Company, stressed this view, while pointing out the several factors responsible for the downward trend in interest figures.

Supply and demand

He said:

"For some time past there have been many things which point to a reduction in interest rates generally. For the moment speculation in stocks and tended to increase rates, but, in my opinion, this is only temporary. Investors have had many reminders in the past two or three years that interest rates were on the decline by reason of the flotation of a great number of capital loans at low rates.

"There is an abundance of many available, in my opinion, for sound investments, and aside from the speculative tendency of the present time, interest rates have been moving to a lower basis. This has resulted in a very active market for safe and sound bonds, and the largest distribution of such securities of both home and foreign issues on record.

TELEPHONE NEWS

Pole replacements to the telephone toll trunk lines connecting the Centreville-Sassafras Junction, Chestertown-Middletown central offices are included in an appreciation of $610,095 just authorized by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore serving the State of Maryland, according to an announcement just made by Miss K. P. Smith, agent of the company. The specifications covering the work include the placing of 188 new poles and the removal of 210 old poles in Cecil and Kent counties.

The appropriation also covers additions, betterments, and replacements to the telephone system in every section of the State, bringing the total amount authorized for such work in Maryland so far this year to $1,635,185. The facilities just approved include the construction of additional toll and exchange lines, wire, cable, underground conduit and the installation of switchboard apparatus, private branch exchange equipment, and new telephone in every section of the State.

The personnel of the board of directors includes: Charles H. Carter, Phillips L. Goldsborough, Henry M. Warfield, Baltimore; Albert E. Berry, president, Montgomery county, Md.; D. S. Porter, secretary, and Charles J. Bell, Washington, and W. S. Gifford, president, and E. S. Wilson, vice president, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, New York.

Listener Not Taking Anything for Granted

A big mass meeting was being held in Blimville.

The well-groomed and slick-looking individual who was trying to separate the town from its money arose to make a few remarks.

"Fellow citizens," he opened up, "apropos—"

"Jist a minute, mister," said a smallish, sandy-whiskered man.

A look of annoyance crossed the speaker's face.

"What can I do for you?" he asked.

"I have here a pocket edition of Webster's dictionary and I want to look up that word 'apropos.' I don't intend to sit here and let some oily-tongued stranger slip one over on us."

"Oh, that'll be all right," replied the speaker. "Now, that word to which you refer means—"

"Never mind what it means," enjoined the little man. "I'm looking it up. I let a smooth talker sell me a unicycle one time. He said it was the last word in conveyances, and when I paid the freight on it from Chicago, I found I had purchased a wheelbarrow." — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
