GRAIN FIELDS TO BE INSPECTED

County Agent McVean announces that farmers with wheat, barley, rye or oats which they think are worth extra price as may have their fields inspected as a preliminary to certification of the grain for seed purposes. The inspections are made in the fields prior to harvest—later the grain is sampled and tested in a Laboratory for purity and germination. A small charge is made for inspection which is under the direction of the Maryland Seed Certification Board. Any one desiring to have any or all of the above named grains inspected should get in touch with the County Agent, who has the application forms and detailed information.

POULTRYMEN TO HOLD MEET

Kent county poultrymen and others from every county of Maryland are planning to attend the Summer Feld Meeting of the Maryland State Poultry Association at Pioneer Point Farms, the John J. Raskob Estate, in Queen Anne's County near Centreville, on Thursday, June 18th. It is said that an attendance of two thousand poultrymen is expected.

Poultry authorities of National renown have been secured to deliver addresses.

R. W. Dunlap, Assistant Secretary of Argriculture, Dr. M. A. Jull, Chief Poultryman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, E. W. Sheets, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry, Dr. R. A. Pearson, President of the University of Maryland, and others are on the program.

Luncheon arrangements are being provided by the Jeff Davis Post of the American Legion at Centreville. The men of the Post has generously offered their services free in handling lunches and refreshments for the two thousand people expected to attend.

Pioneer Point Farms is said to be one of the most beautiful estates on the Eastern Shore and has the most complete and modern poultry plant in Maryland. The estate, it is said, possesses ten miles of water front on the Chester and Corsica Rivers.

A cordial invitation to attend this event is extended to all poultrymen of Maryland by the Maryland State Poultry Association, the QueenAnne's County Poultry Association, and Mrs. Helena S. Raskob, of Pioneer Point Farms.

GALENA HITS 3 HOMERS

Galena, Md., May 30—Three home runs by Galena helped along a 14-6 victory over Millington here.

In the sixth Hofflinger singled, followed by Frank Coleman's double to left field, while J. Woodall walked. Hofflinger came home when R. Woodall flied to center field and the two runners tallied on Earl Coleman's single to deep left.

Jones' circuit clout and Johnson's three-bager wound up the swatting orgy after five runs had crossed the plate.

CHURCH HILL PREVAILS

Church Hill, Md., May 31—Singles by Richardson and Clough in the eighth inning, followed by C. Walls' sacrifice to left field and Bill Loller's Texas Leager, sent the winning run across the plate for the home team, scoring Richardson and sewing up a 5-to-4 victory over Cecilton in the Chesapeake Bay League.

Manager Frank Brower kept his starting line-up intact throughout the tilt.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE ALUNNI TO PLAY BALL

For the first time in the history of Washington College sports the annual varsity-alumni baseball game staged during commencement week will be abandoned because of the recent suspension of baseball from the college program. An all-alumni tilt will be arranged.

Nines consisting of the classes from 1924 to 1927 and from 1928 to 1931 will oppose each other. The roster comprises some of the diamond stars of recent years, now living in Eastern cities.

Bobby Cavanaugh, athletic director of Pennsylvania Avenue High School, Cumberland, and George Carrington, occupying the same position at Crisfield High School, will play on the same team. Stanley Giraitis and Lou Jacobs, former basket-ball and baseball stars, will support the recent graduates, while Jack Carroll, Conant, Rayne and others of earlier years will oppose them.

Fred Dumschott, graduate manager, has announced the line-ups as follows:

1924-27—W. W. McGinness, r. f.; W. E. Twilley, c.f.; W. E. Griffith, lf. f.; W. R. Conant, s.s.; S. R. Bozman, 3b.; R. F. Adams, 2b.; H. T. Rayne, 1b.; C. E. Duffy, p.; J. J. Carroll, c.; E. P. Simmons, p.

1928-31—W. I. Norris, r.f.; H. L. Dopson, c.f.; F. Y. Lloyd, l.f.; H. R. Scott, s.s.; J. H. Dean, 3b.; S. B. Giraitis, 2b.; J. J. Cavanaugh, 1b.; L. T. Jacobs, c.; E. F. Griffin, p.; T. J. Purcell, p.

Substitutes—R. J. Bounds, L. G. Holland, J. S. Adkins, F. J. Fiore, for the 1924-27 team; J. C. Mandrell, W. E. Lowe, G. F. Carrington, C. E. Sparks, C. J. McGran, C. J. Metz and J. Coloanto, for 1928-31.

IT PAYS TO MAKE FRIENDS

We can buy insurance policies to protect ourselves against loss by fire, theft, tornado and most other causes of human distress, but money will not buy an escape from that most poignant of all miseries, a lonely old age. Friendship is the one and only insurance in the world against the tragedy of loneliness.

Loneliness is terrible. If you want to see how terrible loneliness can be, walk down a forgotten city street and look into the swimming eyes of the gray old men as they go from door to door seeking employment. Visit a dowdy park at twilight or any of the rendezvous of desolate men whose feet have slipped. If you think they aren't lonely, win their confidence with a good cigar and talk to them of "home."

Wise old Sam Johnson was never wiser than when he told Boswell:

"If a man does not make new acquaintances as he passes through life he will soon find himself alone. A man should keep his friendship in constant repair."

Napoleon did not follow Johnson's advice. The secret of his life is not in his utterances on great occasions nor in his studied letters. It is found in a chance remark, made when for a moment his cloak of glamor slipped from him.

"After all," he said, "I care only for people who are useful to me, and so long as they are useful." And again, "I have made courtiers, I have never pretended to make friends."

If Napoleon had so cared, he might have made many friends and had he kept his frienships in repair he would not have died in a crazy old shanty, alone.

One does not purchase devotion except with the stuff of fellowship—that extra word of appreciation, a visit to the hospital, the assurance of loyalty when the horizon is overcast.

It pays to keep friendships in repair. And the only way ever discovered to have a friend is to be one. —From "The Rotarian Magazine."

Some women worry themselves gray trying to look young.

IT HAD TO BE GOOD TO GET WHERE IT IS

STARVED

... a second wife's tragedy!

Men can't know—only women will understand the heartaches marriage brought to Ellen Rockbridge. Must she leave her husband—who gave her a wonderful home—three children—by a first wife—EVERYTHING, except the love she craved with all her maidenly soul?

His friends—his children. Jim gave them lots of attention—devotion. But none to his second wife, Ellen. Small wonder bitterness crept into her heart.

Then came that terrible night—Jim was gone—had been gone for a week. The youngest child was sick—the other two out—galavanting around. Starved for love that Fate had seemed to deny her—she sobbed in defeat—decided to leave—forever—WHEN—

Almost without warning—a climax broke into Ellen's life . . . A tremendous climax that brought those children home—crying into her arms—glad to call her "mother" . . . A thunderous climax that shook Jim's very soul—brought him to her—asking forgiveness—begging for the noblest love that woman holds for man.

You must read for yourself THE WOMAN MY FATHER MARRIED—the true life story of how happiness came to this heart-broken woman in one of the most startling climaxes ever recorded in all the annals of human experience. You will find this story—complete in July TRUE STORY MAGAZINE. Get your copy—read it today!

Case Rotary Hoe
Ohio Rotary Hoe
New Idea Tomato Transplanter

What a Rotary Hoe can do for YOU:

Perhaps the greatest use of the Rotary Hoe is in the breaking of surface crusts and the killing of weed seedlings before and after the crop is planted.

With a Rotary Hoe you can give your crops an early start and keep weeds from gaining a foothold.

And you can do it much faster and far better than can ever be done by shovel cultivation.

The numerous pulverizing teeth or fingers penetrate to a uniform depth and thoroughly stir the surface soil.

A Rotary Hoe can be used without damage to the crop until the plants reach a height of 8 or 10 inches, and even higher under favorable conditions.

New Idea Tomato Transplanter

Increase yield and quality, gives roots plenty of room to grow, saves time and labor.

The New Idea way of planting so closely approaches natural conditions, few plants are lost, growth begins immediately and crops mature several days earlier than those set by other methods.
